REDS' PROPOSAL IGNORED BY U.N.

Probers To Hear Boyle Thursday

Group Takes No Action On Demand For Demo Chairman's Tax Returns

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Chairman Hoey (D-NC) of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee announced today that Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle will be called before the committee Thursday to tell his side of the American Lithofold story.

The inquiry group met behind closed doors for more than an hour today, but took no action on a demand by Sen. Nixon (R-Calif) that Boyle be asked to submit his 1949 and 1950 income tax returns to the investigators.

Hoey said it is not certain that the subcommittee has the power to subpoena Boyle's returns.

The senators are investigating charges that while Boyle was the unpaid executive vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee he helped the American Lithofold Corp., a big St. Louis printing firm, obtain $565,000 in Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans.

Boyle has denied the charges in public statements. But he has not yet testified before the senators.

Republican National Chairman Guy George Gabrielson is also involved with the subcommittee in an off-shoot of the Lithofold case. Last week Sen. Williams (R-Del) said in the Senate that he understood Gabrielson is representing his own company, Carthage Hydrocol Inc., before the RFC in connection with an $18,500,000 loan.

Gabrielson probably will be given an opportunity to testify before the subcommittee next week.

At a public session of the subcommittee today the investigators were told that Lithofold and its officers handed out expensive gifts, loans of money and fat jobs to men who were still on government payrolls.

A former Air Force employe testified today that while working for the government he accepted loans of $6,100 and gifts including a television set and a movie camera from a Lithofold official. He also told of getting a $6,000 loan from another printing firm.

Another witness before the Senate's investigations subcommittee said that while serving as supervisor of a federal alcohol tax unit in New York he was paid $750 a month by Lithofold, a St. Louis printing firm, to "contact" liquor firms under his jurisdiction.

Charles B. Moling told about the gifts and loans. He said he left his $6,400 a year publications job with the Air Force last March to become Lithofold's eastern division sales manager at a salary of $25,000 a year.

Testimony about the "contact" job came from James B. E. Olson. He related that he was on Lithofold's payroll from February, 1949, until last June. He was with the alcohol tax unit from 1947 until his resignation a few months ago.

Italian Premier Pleads His Case Before Congress

Urges Rearmament For West's Defense

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi today solemnly pledged his country's help in the event of World War III and pleaded for a "reasonable rearmament" of Italy to bulwark the defense of Western Europe.

Addressing a joint session of Congress, the 70-year-old Italian leader declared:

"Europe once solidly united will relieve you of your sacrifices in men and arms, for she will herself contrive the defense of her peace and common freedom."

Interrupted By Applause

De Gasperi, who took refuge in the Vatican during Mussolini's wartime regime and led the fight to stave off communism in Italy's turbulent postwar period, was frequently interrupted by applause as he set forth his country's case in a 16-minute address. He spoke in English.

A note of criticism was sounded later, however, by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) who declared in a Senate speech that the United States is "still buying" friends among the nations.

"How much did De Gasperi want today?" Jenner demanded. "It may not be in his speech, but we'll get it soon."

Will Confer With Truman

Other lawmakers noted that De Gasperi's arrival here coincided with reports that he will press for quick changes in the Italian peace treaty which now limits that country to an armed force of 300,000 men.

Diplomatic sources said the United States, Britain and France are already drafting a joint declaration of plans to change the arms limitation provision in the 1947 treaty with Italy.

De Gasperi is scheduled to engage in a three-day round of conferences with President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and other high officials before departing.

Separation Impossible

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 24 (AP) — Surgeons decided today that it would be impossible to separate Rock Island's Siamese twins joined at their heads.

The twins, both boys, were born Sept. 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, parents of three other normal children.

Wallace Probably Will Be Witness At Senate Probe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Senate investigators said tonight former Vice President Henry A. Wallace will "probably" be called as a witness in the still-continuing controversy over Wallace's 1944 mission to China.

Robert Morris, a counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, made the announcement following a heated wrangle on the Senate floor centering on the committee's inquiry into alleged Communist influences on foreign policy.

Morris said Louis Budenz, ex-Communist whose testimony at various times has become a subject of dispute, will be recalled to testify.

The squabble on the Senate floor developed when Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) made a second attempt—this time successful—to insert in the Congressional Record a published statement that the Senate Internal Security Committee had taken "demonstrably false" testimony.

British Ruler Gains Strength After Surgery

Keen Anxiety Still Felt By Surgeons

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP) — King George VI was reported gaining strength and in good spirits tonight on the long pull toward recovery from major lung surgery.

But Buckingham Palace sources said keen anxiety still was felt.

Tonight's bulletin from the five-man royal panel of physicians said: "The king has gained strength during the day." No other details were reported officially then.

Like the three previous bulletins, tonight's No. 4 was lettered out with a pencil and posted on the palace gates for reading by the hundreds of anxious subjects waiting for scraps of news.

Crowd Queues Up

Police had the crowd queue up so each could take his turn reading what the king's physicians wrote.

Bulletins last night and this morning had reported the 55-year-old king was getting along "as well as can be expected."

A palace spokesman supplemented this with comment to a reporter during the day: "The king is in good spirits, as far as one can be after an operation like this. He seems confident of his recovery. The queen has been with him this morning."

In Ottawa, Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said in mid-afternoon that Prime Minister Clement Attlee had told him the king's condition is "very encouraging."

The Duke of Windsor—without his duchess — arrived in London from Paris. It was a previously arranged trip to the country he ruled briefly as King Edward VIII before his abdication in 1936 gave his brother George the throne.

Duke Visits Mother

The duke went directly to visit his mother, the 84-year-old Dowager Queen Mary, at Marlborough House, near Buckingham.

The duchess, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore, has never been received by the royal family. She stayed in Paris.

There was still no disclosure from the royal surgeons as to what ailed the lung or which one it was. Nor have they said whether the king lost a whole lung or a part. The word "resection" was used to describe the operation Sunday.

Iran Puts Heat On 300 Britons

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 24 (AP)—Iran today was reported putting the heat on 300 British oil technicians at Abadan and threatening them with starvation.

An Iranian government spokesman said all will be kicked out of the country within a week or 10 days unless they sign up as employes of the Iranian National Oil Company. The ousting has begun.

The heat treatment is being done literally. The British Embassy said the technicians are being barred from homes built for them in the refinery city by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. It said they also are being cut off from company-built food stores and restaurants.

Abadan is ruled by Iranian martial law.

The living quarters are air-conditioned against the stifling heat of the Persian Gulf.

An embassy spokesman said it was impossible for the British to live at Abadan if cut off from company facilities.

The newest Iranian moves followed Britain's rebuff of Iran's suggestion for reopening negotiations to put AIOC facilities back into production. The plants were closed down last summer by the British after being nationalized by Iranian law.

Johnston Will Recommend Tighter Building Controls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said today he will recommend the tightening of federal building controls because he fears a "destroying inflation" in the year ahead.

In an address to the National Association of Food Chains, Johnston also said Congress had relaxed consumer credit controls "at the time when it should have been tightening them up."

The controls were relaxed by the new Defense Production Act which was enacted in July.

The Truman administration has been pressing for changes in the new law, and the Senate Banking Committee has recommended a modification of one provision, known as the Capehart Amendment.

Sponsored by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), the provision permits sellers to pass on to consumers virtually all cost increases which occurred between the start of the Korean war and last July 26.

In a formal report today to the Senate, Democratic members of the Banking Committee proposed a new version which would direct that price ceilings allow only for "necessary and unavoidable" cost increases.

A minority report, signed by Republican Sens. Capehart (Ind), Bricker (Ohio), Schoeppel (Kan) and Dirksen (Ill), said the amendment "should stand intact, at least in all its principles." They accused the administration of refusing even to try to make it work.

92 Blood Transfusions Not Enough

Six-year-old Karen Knarr, Cincinnati, who doctors say is suffering from an unclassified anemia, already has had 92 blood transfusions and needs more. Karen's parents, who have spent $2,000 for whole blood at $25 a pint, yesterday appealed to voluntary donors who have RH positive blood.

AFL Will Strive For Defeat Of 19 Senators In 1952

Per Capita Tax Hiked To Finance Activities

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor today named 19 senators to be marked for defeat next year if more friendly candidates oppose them.

To finance the AFL's 1952 political activities, the 70th convention has boosted the per capita tax on it 8,000,000 members a penny a month. That will yield nearly $1,000,000.

On top of that, the federation's political league will try to pick up another million dollars in voluntary contributions of $1 each from members. The league collected $600,000 in last year's campaign from a $2 drive.

"Anti-Labor" Senators Named

The particular target candidates, described as "anti-labor incumbent senators," were named by Joseph D. Keenan, who is stepping out as director of the political league. James L. McDevitt, head of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, will run the 1952 political activities.

The recommendations were approved without opposition by a voice vote of the delegates. Keenan hailed the approval as committing the AFL to opposing the senators.

Keenan said "a net gain of nine seats is al we need for a friendly Senate majority."

He classed the following as "enemies of labor up for election" in 1952:

Sen. O'Conor On List

"In the northeast, there's Brewster of Maine, and Flanders of Vermont. Down in Pennsylvania there is Martin. In New Jersey, Sen. Smith, and in Delaware, the notorious Sen. Williams. There's Dixiecrat O'Conor of Maryland up for reelection, as well as the dean of all the Dixiecrats, Harry Byrd of Virginia. Tom Connally of Texas, Sen. Stennis of Mississippi and Sen. Holland of Florida are the only other Dixiecrats up this year.

"In the Midwest there is Bricker of Ohio, Butler of Nebraska, and Sen. Jenner of Indiana. Kem of Missouri and Jumping-Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, all should be retired in 1952.

"Out in the West there's Cain of Washington, Ecton of Montana, Watkins of Utah, and Knowland of California, all of whom can be defeated in 1952."

Martha Vickers Wins Divorce From Rooney

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (INS)—Actress Martha Vickers won an uncontested divorce today from diminutive Mickey Rooney and pictured the short-statured actor as a "man of tantrums who walked out on me and was not an easy person to live with."

The actress pouted that she never saw Mickey more than "two nights a week."

Miss Vickers, Rooney's third wife, won a heavy alimony judgment. Mickey must pay $2,000 a month starting immediately, scaling down to $300 monthly by 1959 and thereafter until her death or remarriage.

Parkersburg, W. Va, Bank Teller Is Held On Charge Of Embezzling $363,410

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 24 (AP)—A bank teller who developed a penchant for gas wells wound up in jail here today, accused of embezzling $363,410.13.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation identified the accused man as Dennis Virgil Layfield, 34, a teller in the Wood County Bank.

With announcement at Pittsburgh by FBI Agent Fred Hallford of Layfield's arrest, the accused teller was hustled before U. S. Commissioner Lawrence Ronning here.

He waived hearing and the commissioner ordered him held in $50,000 bail for action of the Federal grand jury in Fairmont.

Unable To Arrange Bond

Unable to arrange the heavy bond, Layfield was held temporarily in the Wood County jail here, pending probable transfer to Fairmont.

Friends and associates of Layfield found it difficult to reconcile the huge sum involved in the case with the quiet, inexpensive habits of the man.

It was a matter of community knowledge that he had been engaged in gas field operations, but friends said they never questioned whether he was making money or losing it on such ventures.

Hallford said the teller had signed a statement admitting the total shortage, and said he had taken the money over a four-year period. He was charged specifically with embezzling $50,000 of the total amount.

"Clever Manipulation"

Bank officials discovered the shortage while Layfield was in Canada on a vacation, which began September 8. FBI agents were waiting when he reported back for duty today.

John Hickel, attorney for the bank, which is Parkersburg's second largest financial institution, described Layfield's defalcations as an "extremely clever manipulation."

Layfield set up dummy savings accounts and took cash over a four-year period in amounts ranging from $45 to $10,600. The money was taken out of the general funds of the bank, which has assets of $9,750,000, Hickel said.

U. S. Finally Agrees To Pay Baltimore For Civil War Fort

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP) — The federal government is going to pay off Baltimore for fortifications it built during the Civil War.

The fortifications were built in 1863 at the request of the federal army. General Lee had just invaded Pennsylvania and there was fear he'd come rolling down Maryland to capture Baltimore and Washington.

Baltimore sold $96,152 in bonds to pay for erecting the breastworks. The government paid that back 30 years later. But it didn't repay the interest on the bonds which kept piling up and piling up to $171,034.

Baltimore has been dunning the government with claims in Congress ever since.

Senate Oks Tax On Mutual Bank

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — A tax on undistributed earnings of mutual savings banks and savings and loans associations was approved by the Senate today, 60 to 19.

The levy is part of a bill to raise $5,500,000,000 in new taxes. The administration asked for $10,000,000,000 in new tatxes, and the House passed a measure designed to raise $7,200,000,000. But that was whittled by the Senate Finance Committee.

The undistributed earnings tax was passed after Finance Committee Chairman George (D-Ga.) accused Sen. Lehman (D-Lib.-N. Y.) and Ives (R-N.Y.) — who opposed the tax — of trying to "make the tax policies of the United States.

The Senate's decision to levy corporation taxes on the undistributed earnings, George said, will raise about $140,000,000 a year. Institutions could put aside 15 per cent of their yearly earnings without having them subject to taxation under the bill. They would have to maintain at least 10 per cent reserves.

6,000 Replacements To Be Sent Overseas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — The Army announced today that 6,000 soldiers from units in the U. S. will be sent overseas between Nov. 15 and 25, to keep the rotation program going at full rate.

These replacements, primarily for the Far East, will be levied from the six Army areas and will be in addition to men shipped from recruit replacement centers. The Army said that soldiers selected from the units will be given a minimum of seven days home leave before sailing.

Included in the current levy are 700 men from the 82nd Airborne Division, which the Army said is currently overstrength.

Cuban Cabinet Resigns

HAVANA, Cuba. Sept. 24 (AP)—The cabinet of President Carlos Prio Socarras resigned today.

Prime Minister Felix Lancis, who announced the resignations, said they were for the purpose of "facilitating reorganization of the cabinet by President Prio."

Police Alert Sent Out For Invalid Hyattsville Boy

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Sept. 24 (AP) —A police alert was sent up and down the east coast tonight for an invalid 16-year-old Hyattsville boy.

The lad, Morton Aaron Bargteil, left his home yesterday after leaving a note saying he could not "keep on living" and said "this is goodbye."

Police said the boy has a rubber tube running from "a hole in his stomach" to a rubber bag on his leg. The entire midsection of his body, front and back, is covered with operation scars.

Young Bargteil underwent a delicate operation eight years ago at Baltimore's Sinai Hospital for the removal of one kidney and his bladder. The tube and rubber bag on his leg took the place of her removed bladder.

The police teletype said the lad was in "serious need of medical attention."

Reds Again Push Yanks Off Bloody East Korea Peak

Enemy Loses 58,000 Men In Five Weeks

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Tuesday, Sept. 25 (AP) — American infantrymen crawled up the steep and smoking slopes of "Heartbreak Ridge" today as the Eighth Army commander disclosed that Communist casualties in five weeks of bitter fighting on the whole Korean front totalled 58,000 men.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. N. ground commander, said 80 per cent of the Communists killed or wounded since Aug. 18 fell in the bloody "Battle of the Hills" in Eastern Korea.

Another 2,800 Reds were taken prisoner, Van Fleet said, and enough Communist materiel was captured to equip nearly a full Red division.

No New Gains Made

Chief action Monday was on the eastern front.

American troops fought furiously after an overpowering Communist attack pushed them off the highest peak of "Heartbreak Ridge" for the second time in ten days. But at nightfall, no new gains had been made.

Three American infantrymen stormed to the top of the peak late Sunday night with drawn bayonets dripping blood, AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported from the front.

Reinforcements followed quickly and threw off an initial Red charge. Then, Carter reported, 400 grenade-tossing Communists overwhelmed the Americans and retook the peak nine and one-half hours after losing it.

250 North Koreans Slain

In the Communist counterattack, 250 North Koreans were killed in front of American positions. The three gallant GIs also were reported killed.

The colonel commanding the American unit fighting the ridge action told Carter the outnumbered Americans have "practically destroyed" an entire North Korean division since the fighting began.

"Heartbreak Ridge," north of Yanggu, runs four miles in a north-south direction and overlooks a valley where the Reds have an important supply and assembly base. The ridge is honeycombed with Communist bunkers made of logs and dirt and able to withstand heavy mortar shelling.

One Dies, 150 Rescued In Apartment Fire

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 24 (AP)—Fast-moving firemen rescued nearly 150 men, women and children from a flaming six-story brick apartment building here early today.

One woman perished. A dozen other persons suffered minor burns, or other injuries.

Tone Confirms Engagement, Requests Probe Of Beating

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (AP)—Franchot Tone emerged briefly from the hospital today to confirm his engagement to blonde Barbara Payton and to ask official investigation of the beating he took from Actor Tom Neal in a fight over her affections.

Before Tone returned to the hospital, Dist. Atty. Ernest Roll said that "all facts involving the case will be covered."

The prosecutor said a complaint charging Neal with assault by means of force would be issued, if justified; otherwise the case would go to the city attorney's office, which handles misdemeanor assault and battery charges.

The 46-year-old actor's attorney issued a statement for him saying definitely that he and Miss Payton, 25, are engaged. The actress told reporters a couple of days after the terrific ruckus on Sept. 14 that Tone had asked her to marry him.

She had been dating Tone for a year or more, until the 35-year-old Neal became the romance in her life. Then it was disclosed that she and Neal planned to be married in San Francisco Sept. 15.

The fight came in the early hours of Sept. 14, ending the Neal-Payton wedding plans. She and Neal's attorney have denied rumors that she and Neal have been out together while Tone was being treated for concussion and fractures of the nose and cheek bones.

Rival Liaison Officers Hold Brief Meeting

Enemy Had Asked Full-Dress Parley

TOKYO, Tuesday, Sept. 25 (AP)—Allied and Red liaison officers met in Kaesong an hour today to discuss conflicting views over resuming the Korean truce talks.

The session began at 10 a. m. (8 p. m., EST Monday) and was adjourned at approximately 11 a. m.

The meeting of the rival liaison officers ignored a Communist proposal for a full-dress meeting of top armistice delegates.

Peiping radio today disclosed that Reds in Kaesong handed the Allies a memorandum last night calling for resumption of the armistice talks and asking for an answer before 10 o'clock this morning (8 p. m., EST Monday).

An hour before the Kaesong session was scheduled, it was learned unofficially here, that only Allied liaison officers would attend. They were instructed to seek conditions more conducive to uninterrupted armistice talks, including a possible switch to another site.

Under Limited Instructions

But Peiping's broadcast of the memorandum said, in case the full dress idea was ignored, the Red liaison officers would be on hand—under strictly limited instructions.

The memorandum was quoted as saying the Reds would "continue discussion on the date and time—and only the date and time—for resuming negotiations at Kaesong."

This suggested that if the Allied liaison officers insisted on their specified mission today's session was headed for another stalemate.

At 7:50 a. m. (5:50 p. m., EST, Monday) a motor convoy with service personnel and newsmen left Munsan, Allied advance base camp, on the 23-mile trip northwest to Kaesong.

Allied representatives presented their arguments against Kaesong at an hour-long meeting on Monday, called to make arrangements for resuming the truce talks broken off by the Reds Aug. 23.

Kaesong Unsuitable, U. N. Contends

On that date, the Reds charged that an Allied plane had bombed Kaesong. They followed with 11 other charges of alleged Allied violations. The U. N. command admitted two inadvertent violations and denied all the rest.

The Reds were told at the Monday meeting that Kaesong is unsuitable for these reasons:

1. Partisan groups, responsible to neither command, are active in the Kaesong area and could start something at any time which would interrupt the talks again.

2. Troops of both sides constantly maneuver around the Kaesong neutral zone, "daily posing the chance of an unintended violation."

3. Kaesong is close to the main Communist supply line, under attack by Allied planes.

German Army For West Asked

BONN, Germany, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Allied high commissioners today formally invited Western Germany to raise an army for the West.

John J. McCloy for the United States, Britain's Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick and Andre Francois-Poncent of France met with Federal Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and informed him of their governments' decisions to accept Western Germany as a full defense partner and to negotiate a peace contract ending the six-year Allied occupation.

The negotiations thus initiated may take weeks or months but are expected ultimately to add about 10 German divisions, or 250,000 men, to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's army.

A communique after the day-long meeting said the Western Powers considered the West German republic should participate as an equal partner "within the framework of the agreement establishing the European defense community now being prepared in Paris."

This statement referred to negotiations on the French plan to set up a unified six-nation European army under a single administration to contribute troops to the Eisenhower force.

The announcement added that Adenauer was told the high commissioners had been instructed to begin negotiations which would completely transform the relationship between the occupation powers and the 48,000,000 people of the federal republic.

Separation Impossible

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 24 (AP) — Surgeons decided today that it would be impossible to separate Rock Island's Siamese twins joined at their heads.

The twins, both boys, were born Sept. 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, parents of three other normal children.

Wallace Probably Will Be Witness At Senate Probe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Senate investigators said tonight former Vice President Henry A. Wallace will "probably" be called as a witness in the still-continuing controversy over Wallace's 1944 mission to China.

Robert Morris, a counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, made the announcement following a heated wrangle on the Senate floor centering on the committee's inquiry into alleged Communist influences on foreign policy.

Morris said Louis Budenz, ex-Communist whose testimony at various times has become a subject of dispute, will be recalled to testify.

The squabble on the Senate floor developed when Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) made a second attempt—this time successful—to insert in the Congressional Record a published statement that the Senate Internal Security Committee had taken "demonstrably false" testimony.

British Ruler Gains Strength After Surgery

Keen Anxiety Still Felt By Surgeons

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP) — King George VI was reported gaining strength and in good spirits tonight on the long pull toward recovery from major lung surgery.

But Buckingham Palace sources said keen anxiety still was felt.

Tonight's bulletin from the five-man royal panel of physicians said: "The king has gained strength during the day." No other details were reported officially then.

Like the three previous bulletins, tonight's No. 4 was lettered out with a pencil and posted on the palace gates for reading by the hundreds of anxious subjects waiting for scraps of news.

Crowd Queues Up

Police had the crowd queue up so each could take his turn reading what the king's physicians wrote.

Bulletins last night and this morning had reported the 55-year-old king was getting along "as well as can be expected."

A palace spokesman supplemented this with comment to a reporter during the day: "The king is in good spirits, as far as one can be after an operation like this. He seems confident of his recovery. The queen has been with him this morning."

In Ottawa, Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said in mid-afternoon that Prime Minister Clement Attlee had told him the king's condition is "very encouraging."

The Duke of Windsor—without his duchess — arrived in London from Paris. It was a previously arranged trip to the country he ruled briefly as King Edward VIII before his abdication in 1936 gave his brother George the throne.

Duke Visits Mother

The duke went directly to visit his mother, the 84-year-old Dowager Queen Mary, at Marlborough House, near Buckingham.

The duchess, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore, has never been received by the royal family. She stayed in Paris.

There was still no disclosure from the royal surgeons as to what ailed the lung or which one it was. Nor have they said whether the king lost a whole lung or a part. The word "resection" was used to describe the operation Sunday.

Iran Puts Heat On 300 Britons

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 24 (AP)—Iran today was reported putting the heat on 300 British oil technicians at Abadan and threatening them with starvation.

An Iranian government spokesman said all will be kicked out of the country within a week or 10 days unless they sign up as employes of the Iranian National Oil Company. The ousting has begun.

The heat treatment is being done literally. The British Embassy said the technicians are being barred from homes built for them in the refinery city by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. It said they also are being cut off from company-built food stores and restaurants.

Abadan is ruled by Iranian martial law.

The living quarters are air-conditioned against the stifling heat of the Persian Gulf.

An embassy spokesman said it was impossible for the British to live at Abadan if cut off from company facilities.

The newest Iranian moves followed Britain's rebuff of Iran's suggestion for reopening negotiations to put AIOC facilities back into production. The plants were closed down last summer by the British after being nationalized by Iranian law.

Johnston Will Recommend Tighter Building Controls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said today he will recommend the tightening of federal building controls because he fears a "destroying inflation" in the year ahead.

In an address to the National Association of Food Chains, Johnston also said Congress had relaxed consumer credit controls "at the time when it should have been tightening them up."

The controls were relaxed by the new Defense Production Act which was enacted in July.

The Truman administration has been pressing for changes in the new law, and the Senate Banking Committee has recommended a modification of one provision, known as the Capehart Amendment.

Sponsored by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), the provision permits sellers to pass on to consumers virtually all cost increases which occurred between the start of the Korean war and last July 26.

In a formal report today to the Senate, Democratic members of the Banking Committee proposed a new version which would direct that price ceilings allow only for "necessary and unavoidable" cost increases.

A minority report, signed by Republican Sens. Capehart (Ind), Bricker (Ohio), Schoeppel (Kan) and Dirksen (Ill), said the amendment "should stand intact, at least in all its principles." They accused the administration of refusing even to try to make it work.

92 Blood Transfusions Not Enough

Six-year-old Karen Knarr, Cincinnati, who doctors say is suffering from an unclassified anemia, already has had 92 blood transfusions and needs more. Karen's parents, who have spent $2,000 for whole blood at $25 a pint, yesterday appealed to voluntary donors who have RH positive blood.

AFL Will Strive For Defeat Of 19 Senators In 1952

Per Capita Tax Hiked To Finance Activities

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor today named 19 senators to be marked for defeat next year if more friendly candidates oppose them.

To finance the AFL's 1952 political activities, the 70th convention has boosted the per capita tax on it 8,000,000 members a penny a month. That will yield nearly $1,000,000.

On top of that, the federation's political league will try to pick up another million dollars in voluntary contributions of $1 each from members. The league collected $600,000 in last year's campaign from a $2 drive.

"Anti-Labor" Senators Named

The particular target candidates, described as "anti-labor incumbent senators," were named by Joseph D. Keenan, who is stepping out as director of the political league. James L. McDevitt, head of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, will run the 1952 political activities.

The recommendations were approved without oposition by a voice vote of the delegates. Keenan hailed the approval as committing the AFL to opposing the senators.

Keenan said "a net gain of nine seats is al we need for a friendly Senate majority."

He classed the following as "enemies of labor up for election" in 1952:

Sen. O'Conor On List

"In the northeast, there's Brewster of Maine, and Flanders of Vermont. Down in Pennsylvania there is Martin. In New Jersey, Sen. Smith, and in Delaware, the notorious Sen. Williams. There's Dixiecrat O'Conor of Maryland up for reelection, as well as the dean of all the Dixiecrats, Harry Byrd of Virginia. Tom Connally of Texas, Sen. Stennis of Mississippi and Sen. Holland of Florida are the only other Dixiecrats up this year.

"In the Midwest there is Bricker of Ohio, Butler of Nebraska, and Sen. Jenner of Indiana. Kem of Missouri and Jumping-Joe Mc Carthy of Wisconsin, all should be retired in 1952.

"Out in the West there's Cain of Washington, Ecton of Montana, Watkins of Utah, and Knowland of California, all of whom can be defeated in 1952."

Martha Vickers Wins Divorce From Rooney

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (INS)—Actress Martha Vickers won an uncontested divorce today from diminutive Mickey Rooney and pictured the short-statured actor as a "man of tantrums who walked out on me and was not an easy person to live with."

The actress pouted that she never saw Mickey more than "two nights a week."

Miss Vickers, Rooney's third wife, won a heavy alimony judgment. Mickey must pay $2,000 a month starting immediately, scaling down to $300 monthly by 1959 and thereafter until her death or remarriage.

Parkersburg, W. Va, Bank Teller Is Held On Charge Of Embezzling $363,410

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 24 (AP)—A bank teller who developed a penchant for gas wells wound up in jail here today, accused of embezzling $363,410.13.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation identified the accused man as Dennis Virgil Layfield, 34, a teller in the Wood County Bank.

With announcement at Pittsburgh by FBI Agent Fred Hallford of Layfield's arrest, the accused teller was hustled before U. S. Commissioner Lawrence Ronning here.

He waived hearing and the commissioner ordered him held in $50,000 bail for action of the Federal grand jury in Fairmont.

Unable To Arrange Bond

Unable to arrange the heavy bond, Layfield was held temporarily in the Wood County jail here, pending probable transfer to Fairmont.

Friends and associates of Layfield found it difficult to reconcile the huge sum involved in the case with the quiet, inexpensive habits of the man.

It was a matter of community knowledge that he had been engaged in gas field operations, but friends said they never questioned whether he was making money or losing it on such ventures.

Hallford said the teller had signed a statement admitting the total shortage, and said he had taken the money over a four-year period. He was charged specifically with embezzling $50,000 of the total amount.

"Clever Manipulation"

Bank officials discovered the shortage while Layfield was in Canada on a vacation, which began September 8. FBI agents were waiting when he reported back for duty today.

John Hickel, attorney for the bank, which is Parkersburg's second largest financial institution, described Layfield's defalcations as an "extremely clever manipulation."

Layfield set up dummy savings accounts and took cash over a four-year period in amounts ranging from $45 to $10,600. The money was taken out of the general funds of the bank, which has assets of $9,750,000, Hickel said.

U. S. Finally Agrees To Pay Baltimore For Civil War Fort

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP) — The federal government is going to pay off Baltimore for fortifications it built during the Civil War.

The fortifications were built in 1863 at the request of the federal army. General Lee had just invaded Pennsylvania and there was fear he'd come rolling down Maryland to capture Baltimore and Washington.

Baltimore sold $96,152 in bonds to pay for erecting the breastworks. The government paid that back 30 years later. But it didn't repay the interest on the bonds which kept piling up and piling up to $171,034.

Baltimore has been dunning the government with claims in Congress ever since.

Senate Oks Tax On Mutual Bank

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — A tax on undistributed earnings of mutual savings banks and savings and loans associations was approved by the Senate today, 60 to 19.

The levy is part of a bill to raise $5,500,000,000 in new taxes. The administration asked for $10,000,000,000 in new tatxes, and the House passed a measure designed to raise $7,200,000,000. But that was whittled by the Senate Finance Committee.

The undistributed earnings tax was passed after Finance Committee Chairman George (D-Ga.) accused Sen. Lehman (D-Lib.-N. Y.) and Ives (R-N.Y.) — who opposed the tax — of trying to "make the tax policies of the United States.

The Senate's decision to levy corporation taxes on the undistributed earnings, George said, will raise about $140,000,000 a year. Institutions could put aside 15 per cent of their yearly earnings without having them subject to taxation under the bill. They would have to maintain at least 10 per cent reserves.

6,000 Replacements To Be Sent Overseas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — The Army announced today that 6,000 soldiers from units in the U. S. will be sent overseas between Nov. 15 and 25, to keep the rotation program going at full rate.

These replacements, primarily for the Far East, will be levied from the six Army areas and will be in addition to men shipped from recruit replacement centers. The Army said that soldiers selected from the units will be given a minimum of seven days home leave before sailing.

Included in the current levy are 700 men from the 82nd Airborne Division, which the Army said is currently overstrength.

Cuban Cabinet Resigns

HAVANA, Cuba. Sept. 24 (AP)—The cabinet of President Carlos Prio Socarras resigned today.

Prime Minister Felix Lancis, who announced the resignations, said they were for the purpose of "facilitating reorganization of the cabinet by President Prio."

Police Alert Sent Out For Invalid Hyattsville Boy

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Sept. 24 (AP) —A police alert was sent up and down the east coast tonight for an invalid 16-year-old Hyattsville boy.

The lad, Morton Aaron Bargteil, left his home yesterday after leaving a note saying he could not "keep on living" and said "this is goodbye."

Police said the boy has a rubber tube running from "a hole in his stomach" to a rubber bag on his leg. The entire midsection of his body, front and back, is covered with operation scars.

Young Bargteil underwent a delicate operation eight years ago at Baltimore's Sinai Hospital for the removal of one kidney and his bladder. The tube and rubber bag on his leg took the place of her removed bladder.

The police teletype said the lad was in "serious need of medical attention."

Reds Again Push Yanks Off Bloody East Korea Peak

Enemy Loses 58,000 Men In Five Weeks

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Tuesday, Sept. 25 (AP) — American infantrymen crawled up the steep and smoking slopes of "Heartbreak Ridge" today as the Eighth Army commander disclosed that Communist casualties in five weeks of bitter fighting on the whole Korean front totalled 58,000 men.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. N. ground commander, said 80 per cent of the Communists killed or wounded since Aug. 18 fell in the bloody "Battle of the Hills" in Eastern Korea.

Another 2,800 Reds were taken prisoner, Van Fleet said, and enough Communist materiel was captured to equip nearly a full Red division.

No New Gains Made

Chief action Monday was on the eastern front.

American troops fought furiously after an overpowering Communist attack pushed them off the highest peak of "Heartbreak Ridge" for the second time in ten days. But at nightfall, no new gains had been made.

Three American infantrymen stormed to the top of the peak late Sunday night with drawn bayonets dripping blood, AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported from the front.

Reinforcements followed quickly and threw off an initial Red charge. Then, Carter reported, 400 grenade-tossing Communists overwhelmed the Americans and retook the peak nine and one-half hours after losing it.

250 North Koreans Slain

In the Communist counterattack, 250 North Koreans were killed in front of American positions. The three gallant GIs also were reported killed.

The colonel commanding the American unit fighting the ridge action told Carter the outnumbered Americans have "practically destroyed" an entire North Korean division since the fighting began.

"Heartbreak Ridge," north of Yanggu, runs four miles in a north-south direction and overlooks a valley where the Reds have an important supply and assembly base. The ridge is honeycombed with Communist bunkers made of logs and dirt and able to withstand heavy mortar shelling.

One Dies, 150 Rescued In Apartment Fire

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 24 (AP)—Fast-moving firemen rescued nearly 150 men, women and children from a flaming six-story brick apartment building here early today.

One woman perished. A dozen other persons suffered minor burns, or other injuries.

Tone Confirms Engagement, Requests Probe Of Beating

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (AP)—Franchot Tone emerged briefly from the hospital today to confirm his engagement to blonde Barbara Payton and to ask official investigation of the beating he took from Actor Tom Neal in a fight over her affections.

Before Tone returned to the hospital, Dist. Atty. Ernest Roll said that "all facts involving the case will be covered."

The prosecutor said a complaint charging Neal with assault by means of force would be issued, if justified; otherwise the case would go to the city attorney's office, which handles misdemeanor assault and battery charges.

The 46-year-old actor's attorney issued a statement for him saying definitely that he and Miss Payton, 25, are engaged. The actress told reporters a couple of days after the terrific ruckus on Sept. 14 that Tone had asked her to marry him.

She had been dating Tone for a year or more, until the 35-year-old Neal became the romance in her life. Then it was disclosed that she and Neal planned to be married in San Francisco Sept. 15.

The fight came in the early hours of Sept. 14, ending the Neal-Payton wedding plans. She and Neal's attorney have denied rumors that she and Neal have been out together while Tone was being treated for concussion and fractures of the nose and cheek bones.

Rival Liaison Officers Hold Brief Meeting

Enemy Had Asked Full-Dress Parley

TOKYO, Tuesday, Sept. 25 (AP)—Allied and Red liaison officers met in Kaesong an hour today to discuss conflicting views over resuming the Korean truce talks.

The session began at 10 a. m. (8 p. m., EST Monday) and was adjourned at approximately 11 a. m.

The meeting of the rival liaison officers ignored a Communist proposal for a full-dress meeting of top armistice delegates.

Peiping radio today disclosed that Reds in Kaesong handed the Allies a memorandum last night calling for resumption of the armistice talks and asking for an answer before 10 o'clock this morning (8 p. m., EST Monday).

An hour before the Kaesong session was scheduled, it was learned unofficially here, that only Allied liaison officers would attend. They were instructed to seek conditions more conducive to uninterrupted armistice talks, including a possible switch to another site.

Under Limited Instructions

But Peiping's broadcast of the memorandum said, in case the full dress idea was ignored, the Red liaison officers would be on hand—under strictly limited instructions.

The memorandum was quoted as saying the Reds would "continue discussion on the date and time—and only the date and time—for resuming negotiations at Kaesong."

This suggested that if the Allied liaison officers insisted on their specified mission today's session was headed for another stalemate.

At 7:50 a. m. (5:50 p. m., EST, Monday) a motor convoy with service personnel and newsmen left Munsan, Allied advance base camp, on the 23-mile trip northwest to Kaesong.

Allied representatives presented their arguments against Kaesong at an hour-long meeting on Monday, called to make arrangements for resuming the truce talks broken off by the Reds Aug. 23.

Kaesong Unsuitable, U. N. Contends

On that date, the Reds charged that an Allied plane had bombed Kaesong. They followed with 11 other charges of alleged Allied violations. The U. N. command admitted two inadvertent violations and denied all the rest.

The Reds were told at the Monday meeting that Kaesong is unsuitable for these reasons:

1. Partisan groups, responsible to neither command, are active in the Kaesong area and could start something at any time which would interrupt the talks again.

2. Troops of both sides constantly maneuver around the Kaesong neutral zone, "daily posing the chance of an unintended violation."

3. Kaesong is close to the main Communist supply line, under attack by Allied planes.

German Army For West Asked

BONN, Germany, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Allied high commissioners today formally invited Western Germany to raise an army for the West.

John J. McCloy for the United States, Britain's Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick and Andre Francois-Poncent of France met with Federal Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and informed him of their governments' decisions to accept Western Germany as a full defense partner and to negotiate a peace contract ending the six-year Allied occupation.

The negotiations thus initiated may take weeks or months but are expected ultimately to add about 10 German divisions, or 250,000 men, to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's army.

A communique after the day-long meeting said the Western Powers considered the West German republic should participate as an equal partner "within the framework of the agreement establishing the European defense community now being prepared in Paris."

This statement referred to negotiations on the French plan to set up a unified six-nation European army under a single administration to contribute troops to the Eisenhower force.

The announcement added that Adenauer was told the high commissioners had been instructed to begin negotiations which would completely transform the relationship between the occupation powers and the 48,000,000 people of the federal republic.

Ships Visit Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR, Sept. 24 (AP) — Twelve destroyers, two cruisers and three aircraft carriers from the U. S. Sixth Fleet visited Gibraltar over the weekend.

Gambling Figure Refuses To Tell Income Sources

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Reputed Gambler Michael Dalessio testified today he made a fortune on business deals and was a contributor to the Republican Party.

The barrel-shaped Staten Island wisness also told a state crime commission he was on speaking terms with Democratic District Attorney Herman Methfessel, who called him "Mike."

Methfessel was ousted last week from any part in the crime commission's probe of gambling and graft on Staten Island.

The crime commission has offered evidence that Dalessio filed income tax returns between 1942 and 1949 on an income of $85 a week. But Dalessio, one of State Island's three "Dee" brothers, admitted he invested thousands during those years. His only explanation of how he did it came when he said:

"I owe the banks hundreds of thousands of dollars."

He refused to say where he got the money to put up $75,000 in 1942 for a realty company now worth $3,000,000.

Nor would he tell where the money came from for his $75,000 Pocono Mountain estate in Pennsylvania.

He also admitted a half interest in a yacht club.

Dalessio said "it might intimidate me" if he opened up on these big-money deals.

He escaped a contempt charge although he never did produce his financial records as ordered by the state commission. He said his accountants have them.

Dalessio was cocky and tight-lipped in an appearance last week before Chairman Joseph M. Prokauer's committee probing graft and gambling on Staten Island.

He talked a little more today and seemed jittery at times.

Senate Group Votes To Hear McCarthy Critic

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—A Senate Rules subcommittee voted unanimously tonight to hear Sen. Benton (D-Conn) at a meeting Friday on his resolution aimed at ousting Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) from Congress.

The group also decided by a 5 to 0 vote to let McCarthy sit in on the meeting, but without the privilege of cross-examining Benton. The Wisconsin Republican has demanded the right to qestion all witnesses who testify in connection with the expulsion move.

McCarthy told a reported he will be in Santa Fe, N. M., Friday to address a Republican gathering, "so I won't be on hand to hear Benton's rantings".

Asked if he would accept an invitation the committee extended to come before it at any time to reply to Benton, McCarthy replied:

"Hell no . . . I have said before I am not going to waste my time on that mental midget."

Nevertheless, McCarthy said he was surprised at the subcommittee's decision not to let him cross-examine Benton. He said that as a member of the full Rules Committee, if not of the subcommittee, he still feels he has "every right" to question Benton.

Extradition Asked

TURIN, Italy, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Turin prosecutor tonight sent to Rome a formal request for the extradition of two American ex-servicemen accused of killing their OSS commander, Maj. William V. Holohan, in 1944.

Officials in the office of Dr. Aroldo Borghise, Turin prosecutor, said the request should be in Rome by tomorrow or Wednesday.

Uranium Chunks Were Souvenirs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Sen. McMahon (D-Conn) said today he has been informed that two chunks of uranium found in Dalhart, Texas, were removed from Los Alamos, N. M., as souvenirs just at the end of the World War II.

"The chunks are made of ordinary uranium, not refined to the point where it could be used in a bomb," said McMahon, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

He said in his statement that he had asked Sen. Anderson (D-NM), a member of the joint committee and now in New Mexico, to visit Los Alamos and "to ascertain all the facts obtainable."

Three Dalhart, Tex., boys were playing with a "toy" that turned out to be a 33-pound chunk of uranium. FBI agents investigating that were reported to have found an even larger quantity of the material nearby.

In reporting that he had been informed these chunks were removed from the Los Alamos atomic plant near the end of the war, McMahon observed that was while the Army had control of the atomic energy program.

Man Kills Sweetheart In 'Kiss Of Death' Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP) — A lonely, troubled young man walked into a police station today and told of fatally plunging a knife into his sweetheart's chest as they lay in each other's arms.

Police called it a "kiss of death" case.

"She pulled down the window shade and they made love," said Bronx District Attorney George B. De Luca. "Then he put one arm around her and put his left hand over her mouth. With his right hand, he stabbed her several times."

Charged with homicide was Teddy Nathan, 33, who came to America four years ago. Dead was his new-found love in this country, Miss Molly Nachman, pretty 25-year-old stenographer.

Nathan was quoted as saying he became jealous because Miss Nachman "acted affectionately toward another boy."

Joy Rider Takes Bus On 100-Mile Jaunt

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—If he weren't so fond of joy riding, the Calvert Motor Coach Company could probably use the person who went on a 100 mile jaunt last night.

The bus took 37 Baltimoreans to a mass baptism at Griffiths Stadium Sunday. When the service was over, the driver couldn't find the big vehicle but Washington police located it several hours and 100 miles later—just a block from the spot where it had been parked.

A company official was impressed that the joy rider found out how to overcome such operating traps as five forward speeds and a double clutch.

Girls Outnumber Men At Western Md. College

WESTMINSTER, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—Girls will outnumber the men at Western Maryland College this year.

Registration of 219 new students, 183 freshmen and 36 transfers, was held today.

Total enrollment will number 648, 40 less than last year. There will be 343 girls and 305 male students.

Son Says He "Exaggerated" Wealth Of Dead Socialite

DETROIT, Sept. 24 (AP) —Early reports on the fabulous wealth of Detroit Socialite Mrs. Marion Peck Miles were "grossly exaggerated," her son acknowledged today.

And there was some question, too, as to the extent of overdieting as a factor in her death.

Mrs. Miles, an unusually attractive 44-year-old blonde, died late Saturday at her fashionable Grosse Pointe Farms mansion.

At that time her son, Butler, told reporters she was heiress to an estimated $100,000,000 of a Canadian canvas fortune left by her father, Francis G. Peck.

He also quoted her doctors as saying she died of purpuraic anemia brought on solely by overdieting.

Today a different story developed. Butler, 21-year-old college student, said he gave out the "exaggerated" report of his family's wealth because newspapermen had told him "the story wouldn't be interesting without the money angle."

He said that all he knew about his grandfather was that he was a "Canadian merchant of some wealth." He previously had identified him as a financier with vast holdings mostly in Canadian and foreign industries. He had said Peck's gross estate in 1925 was estimated at $147,000,000.

Truman Asks Funds For Defense Housing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — President Truman today asked Congress to appropriate $101,840,000 for defense housing.

He also asked $1,700,000 to enable the Civil Service Commission to "meet its work load of personnel checks and investigations arising from the loyalty program."

Of the housing money, Mr. Truman asked $40,000,000 for committee facilities and services such as water and sewer systems, streets and roads and refuse disposal in critical defense housing areas. These funds would be primarily for loans and grants to communities, but could be used for direct federal construction where necessary.

He asked $50,000,000 to provide temporary public housing in critical defense housing areas and to construct permanent housing where private builders are unable and unwilling to meet minimum needs.

Six Tough Convicts Flee Georgia Prison

BUFORD, Ga., Sept. 24 (AP)—Six of eGorgia's toughest convicts fled the rock pile at the state's "Little Alcatraz" today amid buckshot bursts.

By mid-afternoon Warden W. N. McHan, Jr., said he believed the fugitives from the granite-hewn, prisoner-built new rock quarry prison had been surrounded.

Even so, all residents in the neighborhood were warned to keep doors locked, hide all weapons and keep car keys in their pockets.

Five of the six, all classed as incorrigibles, are escape artists with from two to seven breaks on their records.

Full Atom Production Plan To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Sen. McMahon (D-Conn) announced today the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee will meet soon with the secretary of the Army, Navy and Air Force to discuss his proposal for all-out atomic production.

McMahon, the joint committee chairman, has proposed that atomic weapons be made the backbone of U. S. military armament. He said the defense saving cost would reach $30,000,000,000 yearly.

The Atomic Energy Commission, he said, had reported a 150 per cent expansion of atomic production would be "practical, given the necessary money and priorities."

"Blood For Korea"

ORLANDO, Fla., Sept. 25 (AP)—A "blood for Korea" campaign was held today and nearly 1,500 donors jammed municipal auditorium to answer the government's call.

Officials said the turnout was far greater than had been expected.

President Of NAM Hits Administration

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The president of the National Association of Manufacturers said today the Truman administration "seeks to distract attention from its bungling by denouncing business."

"Political business-baiters cry out against profits as unconscionable extortions from consumers," William H. Ruffin told the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

The textile manufacturer from Durham, N. C., charged that "professional politicians, the out-and-out leftists, and a host of deluded do-gooders" are trying to throttle the profit system.

Rail Settlement Seen

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today he was told by President Truman that it is possible a settlement of the labor dispute of railroad brotherhoods may be forthcoming soon.

Gambling Figure Refuses To Tell Income Sources

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Reputed Gambler Michael Dalessio testified today he made a fortune on business deals and was a contributor to the Republican Party.

The barrel-shaped Staten Island wisness also told a state crime commission he was on speaking terms with Democratic District Attorney Herman Methfessel, who called him "Mike."

Methfessel was ousted last week from any part in the crime commission's probe of gambling and graft on Staten Island.

The crime commission has offered evidence that Dalessio filed income tax returns between 1942 and 1949 on an income of $85 a week. But Dalessio, one of State Island's three "Dee" brothers, admitted he invested thousands during those years. His only explanation of how he did it came when he said:

"I owe the banks hundreds of thousands of dollars."

He refused to say where he got the money to put up $75,000 in 1942 for a realty company now worth $3,000,000.

Nor would he tell where the money came from for his $75,000 Pocono Mountain estate in Pennsylvania.

He also admitted a half interest in a yacht club.

Dalessio said "it might intimidate me" if he opened up on these big-money deals.

He escaped a contempt charge although he never did produce his financial records as ordered by the state commission. He said his accountants have them.

Dalessio was cocky and tight-lipped in an appearance last week before Chairman Joseph M. Prokauer's committee probing graft and gambling on Staten Island.

He talked a little more today and seemed jittery at times.

Senate Group Votes To Hear McCarthy Critic

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—A Senate Rules subcommittee voted unanimously tonight to hear Sen. Benton (D-Conn) at a meeting Friday on his resolution aimed at ousting Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) from Congress.

The group also decided by a 5 to 0 vote to let McCarthy sit in on the meeting, but without the privilege of cross-examining Benton. The Wisconsin Republican has demanded the right to qestion all witnesses who testify in connection with the expulsion move.

McCarthy told a reported he will be in Santa Fe, N. M., Friday to address a Republican gathering, "so I won't be on hand to hear Benton's rantings".

Asked if he would accept an invitation the committee extended to come before it at any time to reply to Benton, McCarthy replied:

"Hell no . . . I have said before I am not going to waste my time on that mental midget."

Nevertheless, McCarthy said he was surprised at the subcommittee's decision not to let him cross-examine Benton. He said that as a member of the full Rules Committee, if not of the subcommittee, he still feels he has "every right" to question Benton.

Extradition Asked

TURIN, Italy, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Turin prosecutor tonight sent to Rome a formal request for the extradition of two American ex-servicemen accused of killing their OSS commander, Maj. William V. Holohan, in 1944.

Officials in the office of Dr. Aroldo Borghise, Turin prosecutor, said the request should be in Rome by tomorrow or Wednesday.

Uranium Chunks Were Souvenirs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Sen. McMahon (D-Conn) said today he has been informed that two chunks of uranium found in Dalhart, Texas, were removed from Los Alamos, N. M., as souvenirs just at the end of the World War II.

"The chunks are made of ordinary uranium, not refined to the point where it could be used in a bomb," said McMahon, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

He said in his statement that he had asked Sen. Anderson (D-NM), a member of the joint committee and now in New Mexico, to visit Los Alamos and "to ascertain all the facts obtainable."

Three Dalhart, Tex., boys were playing with a "toy" that turned out to be a 33-pound chunk of uranium. FBI agents investigating that were reported to have found an even larger quantity of the material nearby.

In reporting that he had been informed these chunks were removed from the Los Alamos atomic plant near the end of the war, McMahon observed that was while the Army had control of the atomic energy program.

Man Kills Sweetheart In 'Kiss Of Death' Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP) — A lonely, troubled young man walked into a police station today and told of fatally plunging a knife into his sweetheart's chest as they lay in each other's arms.

Police called it a "kiss of death" case.

"She pulled down the window shade and they made love," said Bronx District Attorney George B. De Luca. "Then he put one arm around her and put his left hand over her mouth. With his right hand, he stabbed her several times."

Charged with homicide was Teddy Nathan, 33, who came to America four years ago. Dead was his new-found love in this country, Miss Molly Nachman, pretty 25-year-old stenographer.

Nathan was quoted as saying he became jealous because Miss Nachman "acted affectionately toward another boy."

Joy Rider Takes Bus On 100-Mile Jaunt

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—If he weren't so fond of joy riding, the Calvert Motor Coach Company could probably use the person who went on a 100 mile jaunt last night.

The bus took 37 Baltimoreans to a mass baptism at Griffiths Stadium Sunday. When the service was over, the driver couldn't find the big vehicle but Washington police located it several hours and 100 miles later—just a block from the spot where it had been parked.

A company official was impressed that the joy rider found out how to overcome such operating traps as five forward speeds and a double clutch.

Girls Outnumber Men At Western Md. College

WESTMINSTER, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—Girls will outnumber the men at Western Maryland College this year.

Registration of 219 new students, 183 freshmen and 36 transfers, was held today.

Total enrollment will number 648, 40 less than last year. There will be 343 girls and 305 male students.

Son Says He "Exaggerated" Wealth Of Dead Socialite

DETROIT, Sept. 24 (AP) —Early reports on the fabulous wealth of Detroit Socialite Mrs. Marion Peck Miles were "grossly exaggerated," her son acknowledged today.

And there was some question, too, as to the extent of overdieting as a factor in her death.

Mrs. Miles, an unusually attractive 44-year-old blonde, died late Saturday at her fashionable Grosse Pointe Farms mansion.

At that time her son, Butler, told reporters she was heiress to an estimated $100,000,000 of a Canadian canvas fortune left by her father, Francis G. Peck.

He also quoted her doctors as saying she died of purpuraic anemia brought on solely by overdieting.

Today a different story developed. Butler, 21-year-old college student, said he gave out the "exaggerated" report of his family's wealth because newspapermen had told him "the story wouldn't be interesting without the money angle."

He said that all he knew about his grandfather was that he was a "Canadian merchant of some wealth." He previously had identified him as a financier with vast holdings mostly in Canadian and foreign industries. He had said Peck's gross estate in 1925 was estimated at $147,000,000.

Truman Asks Funds For Defense Housing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — President Truman today asked Congress to appropriate $101,840,000 for defense housing.

He also asked $1,700,000 to enable the Civil Service Commission to "meet its work load of personnel checks and investigations arising from the loyalty program."

Of the housing money, Mr. Truman asked $40,000,000 for committee facilities and services such as water and sewer systems, streets and roads and refuse disposal in critical defense housing areas. These funds would be primarily for loans and grants to communities, but could be used for direct federal construction where necessary.

He asked $50,000,000 to provide temporary public housing in critical defense housing areas and to construct permanent housing where private builders are unable and unwilling to meet minimum needs.

Six Tough Convicts Flee Georgia Prison

BUFORD, Ga., Sept. 24 (AP)—Six of eGorgia's toughest convicts fled the rock pile at the state's "Little Alcatraz" today amid buckshot bursts.

By mid-afternoon Warden W. N. McHan, Jr., said he believed the fugitives from the granite-hewn, prisoner-built new rock quarry prison had been surrounded.

Even so, all residents in the neighborhood were warned to keep doors locked, hide all weapons and keep car keys in their pockets.

Five of the six, all classed as incorrigibles, are escape artists with from two to seven breaks on their records.

Full Atom Production Plan To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Sen. McMahon (D-Conn) announced today the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee will meet soon with the secretary of the Army, Navy and Air Force to discuss his proposal for all-out atomic production.

McMahon, the joint committee chairman, has proposed that atomic weapons be made the backbone of U. S. military armament. He said the defense saving cost would reach $30,000,000,000 yearly.

The Atomic Energy Commission, he said, had reported a 150 per cent expansion of atomic production would be "practical, given the necessary money and priorities."

"Blood For Korea"

ORLANDO, Fla., Sept. 25 (AP)—A "blood for Korea" campaign was held today and nearly 1,500 donors jammed municipal auditorium to answer the government's call.

Officials said the turnout was far greater than had been expected.

President Of NAM Hits Administration

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The president of the National Association of Manufacturers said today the Truman administration "seeks to distract attention from its bungling by denouncing business."

"Political business-baiters cry out against profits as unconscionable extortions from consumers," William H. Ruffin told the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

"It is cheap and woefully dangerous politics," he continued, "to brand, as giving aid and comfort to the enemy, anyone who protests the shackling of our free economy."

The textile manufacturer from Durham, N. C., charged that "professional politicians, the out-and-out leftists, and a host of deluded do-gooders" are trying to throttle the profit system.

Rail Settlement Seen

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today he was told by President Truman that it is possible a settlement of the labor dispute of railroad brotherhoods may be forthcoming soon.

City Will Ask Consultant For Public Report

The Mayor and Council wants the public to know what is being done by the city and county's industrial promotion consultant.

Mayor Thomas S. Post pointed out at the meeting of council yesterday that confidential reports are received monthly from Richardson Wood, industrial consultant of New York City.

The city contributed $5,000 this fiscal year and $5,000 for the last fiscal year as its share of the fund to retain Wood.

The mayor explained that for security reasons the work being done by the consultant should be confidential.

It has been stated that if these results are made public, other communities wanting industries will take advantage of the information and contact the location-seeking firms themselves, thereby availing themselves of the money spent by the city and county.

The motion for a public report was made by Water Commissioner George Tederick, who said he felt that the public should be given a resume of Woods' activities. The motion, seconded by Commissioner Roeder, was passed unanimously.

The council also passed an order allowing the Street Department to advertise for bids for the blacktopping of Massachusetts Avenue.

The custom of wearing engagement and wedding rings on the fourth finger originated in an ancient belief that a very delicate nerve runs from that finger to the heart.

Bookie Case To Be Heard By October Grand Jury

Four Cumberland men nabbed in a raid Friday afternoon on a North Mechanic Street establishment will face action of the October grand jury on bookmaking charges.

The defendants, Robert Shrout, Jr., Robert Pirky, Richard Fox and John Jenkins, were named in warrants yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court on the charge.

Magistrate William J. Gunter reset the bonds at $1,000 apiece. The grand jury meets next Monday and if indicted, the men will be tried in Circuit Court during the October term.

A hearing was scheduled for the four men yesterday, but the state's attorney's office prayed a jury trial, thereby removing the case for action by the grand jury.

The men posted $1,000 each at the time of their arrest for their appearance today in court. The raid was made on The Scoreboard, 20 North Mechanic Street, with police confiscating a ticker-tape machine, telephones and other communication equipment, as well as loudspeaker, tip boards, copies of Racing Forms, adding machines and tally sheets.

Conducting the raid were Lieut. Edwin R. Lilya, Lieut. James E. Van, Detective Thomas J. See and Officer Richard Lashley. Search and seizure warrants for the raid were prepared by the state's attorney's office.

Police gained entrance to The Scoreboard, which is listed as a billiard parlor, through a door in the rear of the building where the alleged bookmaking equipment was found.

Mine Lessees Sue For $10,000

Suit for $10,000 damages was filed yesterday in Circuit Court over the manner in which a certain mining property was operated near Mt. Savage on a lease.

William D. Williams and his wife, Lillian Williams, docketed suit through their attorney, Edward J. Ryan, against Walter E. Blank and his wife, Rosanna Blank, in which they asked the damages.

The declaration states that the parties entered into a lease and agreement in August of 1946 for a coal mining property. The lease terminated in August of this year.

The plaintiffs claim that the lessors were required to maintain a five foot height along haulageways and to remove rock and other obstructions under terms of the lease. It was stated this would allow the plaintiffs to recover coal along the haulageways and beyond later on. It is alleged the terms of the lease were not adhered to in this respect.

Night Classes Still Open

Vacancies still exist in many of the adult education classes sponsored by the Allegany County Board of Education, according to J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education.

The only two classes closed to additional members are driver education and typing. Openings exist in bookkeeping, every day law, women's woodwork, sculptoring, electric motor repair, machine shop, Spanish, arts and crafts, high school mathematics and others.

Because of the large demand, three beginning sewing classes have been added. Two of these will be held each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in Fort Hill High School.

Tonight at 7:15 p. m. the driver education group will meet at Fort Hill High School to form a schedule for instruction.

At Allegany High School, two beginning sewing classes will be taught on Monday nights by Mrs. Eleanor Flynn and Mrs. Jean Eckles.

At Allegany, on Tuesday night beginning sewing will be taught by Mrs. Flynn, and slip covers and drapery making by Mrs. Mary E. Chaney.

Too Secret Weapon

It's often said that every war is fought with the weapons of the last conflict. There is a great deal of truth in that—in the sense that weapons devised during a war almost never come into play in time to have a decisive effect on the outcome. But perhaps the observation should read: Every war is fought with the weapons of the last one, provided the military doesn't forget what they were.

That amendment seems justified in view of a story just brought to light. It is the story of "a super-secret weapon developed in World War II that became so enmeshed in military secrecy few people knew how to use it effectively when the Korean War broke out."

It is the story of the proximity fuse and how it was not at first employed against the enemy in Korea—because nobody with authority knew its capabilities.

The proximity fuse is a device that explodes shells, rockets or bombs when they near the target. Missiles equipped with it are deadly anti-personnel weapons because they can be exploded over the heads of troops—and foxholes are poor protection against shrapnel coming from overhead. That was proved during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II. But when the fighting began in Korea U. S. forces were not given shells and bombs with proximity fuses.

Why not? Various reasons were given, but the real reason was that the military men who should have known the value of the proximity fuse apparently were ignorant of what it could do. If its inventor had not become curious about the failure to use it, if he had not insisted on finding out what was wrong, if he had not managed to get a military mission sent to Korea to study the matter, that ignorance would have prevailed. His determination overcame it.

Today the Army is using 17 times as many proximity fuses as it did before, B-29s have become one of the most effective anti-personnel aircraft because of them, and the demand for them is taxing the supply.

Louis N. Ridenour, the 40-year-old physicist who developed the fuse and then brought about its resurrection deserves well of his country. The services could use more like him.

Note On Progress

The watermelon is an ancient vegetable of the cucumber family, reputed to be a native of tropical Africa. Ancient Egyptians are known to have sunk their teeth into the luscious watery meat of melons and it was a favorite food in India and China of the 10th Century, A. D.

The watermelon was introduced to the Americas by Portuguese sailors—and history reveals that early colonists in New England showed it to the Indians. George Washington was a melon grower and encouraged its cultivation in the Ohio country.

But down through the ages man has always struggled with those pesky watermelon seeds!

For years horticulturists have tried to develop a seedless melon and in 1939 a Chinese scientist, Cheongyin Wong, at Michigan State College thought he had it. But now comes definite assurance from Purdue University that the almost seedless melon has arrived—a melon that has only about two seeds and certainly not more than three.

In this atomic age this news may seem picayune, but the development of such a melon is really a boon to mankind. Next on the list of human needs is the self-propelled, self-suspended-in-air, self-buttering corn on the cob.

Padded Payrolls

It was a frontal attack which the Senate made on government spending when it voted a reduction of 30,000 in the number of civilian employes in the armed services and a cut of five per cent in civilian payrolls at the Pentagon. This action may cause some squirming in military circles and it will result in some persons losing their jobs, but it is the opinion of those without prejudice that no harm at all will be done to the national welfare.

In war or near-war it always has been the government's habit to hire many more people than are needed to perform the work at hand. Only recently, for instance, Senator Douglas — who emitted a weird scream and fled the Senate chamber a few days ago when Senator O'Mahoney New Dealer, was defending wild spending—after a personal investigation, reported some departments were so overstaffed all the employes could find to do was to talk to one another.

As further proof of the extravagant use of manpower Mr. Douglas cited the fact that today there is one civilian employe at the Pentagon for every 100 men in combat. At the peak of World War II the ratio was 1 to 500. Nobody with a reasnoable sense of values will contend there is warrant for so vast an expansion of the civilian forces.

Hogging TV

Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee Democrat, likes to believe he made a great hit with the public when his crime commission hearings, complete with diamond studded racketeers, were televised. Some have even suggested that Kefauver should be given the distinction of running for Vice President on a ticket with Truman.

Seeing all this going on, the Senate has toyed with the idea of televising its sessions, or some of the less dreary ones in which the Senators speak their best pieces. If the Senate did that, the House of course, would follow suit. Then the various bureaus would be tempted.

If all the politicians are going to get on television programs, what time will be left for entertainment after all the commercials have been intoned? It would have been interesting to have had a TV set reproducing that Senate session at which Senator Douglas gave tongue to his famous scream of pain or rage when Wyoming's O'Mahoney was in full cry.

Don't Wait Too Long

Although Christmas is a long way off it is not too early to start planning for gifts to be mailed to members of the armed forces overseas if these remembrances are to reach them by the holiday date.

In doing this there are some things to keep in mind. For example, the posting of parcels for faraway recipients should be attended to between October 15 and November 15. In fact, those for remote locations should be started on their way by October 15.

In the preparation of parcels, 50 pounds is the weight limit. Each must be securely boxed in corrugated board or wood, and the address must be distinct.

There is no point in sending a gift to someone, whether by mail or otherwise, unless there is reasonable assurance that it will reach its destination at the proper time.

How To Keep Well

The Life Of The Virus

If we knew as much about the virus as we do about bacteria, many of our health problems would be solved. Viruses are responsible for polio, influenza, smallpox, measles, shingles, and many other puzzling diseases; but research workers are faced with numerous difficulties in studying viral infections.

In the first place, the virus is smaller than most bacteria and, until the advent of the electron microscope, never had been seen. The smallest varieties are those that cause polio and hoof and mouth disease; they are approximately one-twentieth the diameter of the large viruses. Another obstacle is inability to find a suitable culture medium. Ordinary bacteria grow on relatively simple mixtures such as broth and blood agar. The virus is much more fussy; it multiplies only on living cells. The influenza organism, for example, grows experimentally only in the nasal passages of a ferret, in the lungs of a mouse, or in the tissues of a chick embryo within an egg.

Another complication is encountered when the virus that causes a human disease is injected into an egg or a laboratory animal. It grows but its nature is changed in this new and strange environment. The human influenza virus, for example, learns to grow freely in the chick embryo, probably because it discovers this is a soft existence and an excellent place to raise its family. When some of the viruses are moved and placed in another egg they are likely to change a little more, so that at the end of 10 or 15 years the descendants are fully housebroken and tamed characters. This is not all, however. Two laboratories working on the same problem might end up with influenza viruses that are entirely different. At first this created confusion and ill feeling among friendly yet rival research institutions, especially when they thought the same organism was being studied. But after the scientists found out what was happening they realized that additional knowledge had been gained.

These alterations are known as mutations. The descendants of a virus that caused a severe infection 10 years ago may have been transformed to such an extent in being passed from one individual to another that they are capable of producing only a feeble infection. This may be a "break" for us because the mild illness induces immunity not only against similar types of normal or low virulence but also against the occasional type that has undergone a change in the opposite direction. After all, mutation works both ways.

Another characteristic of the virus is its selectivity. These parasites enter specific cells where they cannot be reached by the body's defense mechanism or by drugs. This is in contrast to bacteria that grow outside the cells. After the virus settles in its new quarters, it utilizes the chemical components essential to the existence of the cell. This may cause irreparable damage, as in polio, for example. The destroyed nerve cells cannot be replaced.

TOMORROW: Dr. Van Dellen discusses earache.

EXERCISE MAY HELP

Mrs. G. writes: Will swimming help to develop a woman who wears a size 32 bra?

REPLY

It may, but the chances are that exercise increases the size of the chest muscles rather than the breasts. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on breast changes.

MILK O. K.

Mrs. F. writes: Should a person with arthritis stop drinking milk?

REPLY

No. Milk is not a remedy for arthritis, nor it is the cause. It is a good food and, because arthritics need a well balanced diet, milk should be included.

MINOR STROKE

Mrs. J. writes: I had a little stroke lasting a few minutes and am now up and about after five days in bed. I want to go out for a walk every day but my family won't let me unless somebody comes with me. I am not afraid. Do you think they are right?

REPLY

No. You probably will do better on your own provided the stroke has not impaired your judgment.

X-RAY AND BREAST TUMORS

Mrs. A. writes: Would X-ray reveal whether a lump in the breast is malignant?

REPLY

Tumors frequently can be seen in X-ray films but most radiologists would hesitate to rely upon this method of telling the difference between a benign and a malignant tumor. Recently a group of Philadelphia physicians reported that they were able to make the diagnosis via X-ray but so far as I know this work has not yet been confirmed.

U. S. Experts Anticipate No World War III This Year; Friendship Balloons Harass Kremlin; Senator McKellar Blasts Tennessee Colleague

WASHINGTON—The month of September and early October when the harvest is in is the time when the chanceries and general staffs of Europe watch closest for signs of war. If Europe can get by this period of dry, mild weather before winter bogs down an attacking army, they figure there will be no danger of war at least until June.

Top U. S. officials, likewise, have made all-important surveys of the war possibility, and it is possible for this column to report what their general conclusions are:

1. Russia will not launch World War III this year. However, Russia is expected to continue pressing war by satellites.

2. China, not Russia, has been more eager for a truce. The U. S. war study indicates that Russia came out with the truce proposal chiefly for propaganda purposes; perhaps to stall for time in order to get new arms to Korea.

3. Next step in Communist aggression is likely to be Burma, Thailand, and Indo-China. This area is all-important to the Kremlin if the millions of China are to have rice. Moscow would probably gamble on starting World War III in these countries, though she doesn't actually want it.

4. In Iran the Russians will probably march into the northern province of Azerbaijan and take it by force—if the British go into Southern Iran to protect their oil refinery. Here again the Russians are willing to gamble that the West will not go to war over Iran.

5. In Germany, the U. S. analysis does not anticipate a Russian military move, but does foresee a continual army build-up.

Moscow's biggest drive will be pressure through local governments to stop the building of U. S. air bases in Europe and North Africa.

Behind The Iron Curtain

Increasing evidence is coming back from inside the iron curtain to show that the freedom-friendship balloons and other activities of the Crusade for Freedom have really got under the Kremlin's skin.

In East Bohemia, for instance, fields where the balloon messages fell were declared "off-limits" to farm workers by security sections of the National Communist Committee. In another section of Bohemia, Communist officials offered rewards to the teams of youth brigades who collected the largest number of friendship leaflets.

Near the Czech-Austrian border, a patrol of border police reported "voluminous flying objects" which might be enemy paratroopers. When Prague got the report, it dispatched tank units amid great excitement.

The flying objects, however, turned out to be pillow balloons with the word "Svoboda"—"Freedom"—written on them in large letters. They were bouncing along the ground in the early morning twilight like miniature flying saucers. Inside of them, of course, were friendship messages from the American people to the people of Czechoslovakia.

This is an illustration of how the American people, usually ahead of their government, have begun to penetrate the iron curtain on their own, at the same time aged senators have drastically and dangerously curtailed the State Department budget for winning friends and influencing people.

It was meant for the eyes of a few, select senators only, but crotchety Kenneth McKellar, grandpa of the Senate, has written an angry letter about his Tennessee colleague, crimebuster Estes Kefauver. The letter was mailed to all members of the Senate Judiciary Committee in order to undermine Kefauver's plan for appointing a roving judge for Tennessee.

"As a member of the policy committee of the Senate, I secured for Mr. Kefauver a place on the Senate Judiciary Committee. I apologize for that," sourly wrote McKellar.

This is the latest eruption in a bitter feud between the two Tennessee senators. It started when Kefauver refused to let McKellar handpick all federal jobs in Tennessee. McKellar became so enraged that he forbade his staff to mention Kefauver's name in his presence. Ever since, the vengeful McKellar has sniped at everything Kefauver has tried to do in the Senate.

Now McKellar is urging a new judge for Middle Tennessee, but Kefauver is seeking a roving judge who would divide his time between the mid-state where a judge is ill and Western Tennessee which is rapidly growing. Local sentiment supports Kefauver in this.

"For some unaccountable reason, unless it be politics, Mr. Kefauver turned up not long ago wanting to make that judge a roving judge. . ." McKellar complained bitterly in his private letter to the Judiciary Committee members. ". . . He insists on having the new judge made a roving judge for both Middle and West Tennessee, and in some manner unknown to me, he claims to have secured a majority of the committee in favor of his amendment."

Then McKellar, who wields great power as boss of the Appropriations Committee, appealed: "I am asking you as a senator to vote for my amendment to strike out Mr. Kefauver's amendment.

"I would be greatly obliged for your vote and support in keeping politics out of our judicial affairs," concluded McKellar after himself pulling heavily on the political wires.

It hasn't received any publicity, but President Truman has ordered a drastic housecleaning to sweep the drones from federal government. An ultimatum has already gone out to all agencies to clean house or face budgetary and personnel cuts.

"The present emergency has caused great demands on the manpower resources of our country with shortages of manpower in certain special areas already being felt . . . The federal government, as the largest single employer in the country, should set the example. Therefore I expect the head of each executive department and agency to bring about maximum effectiveness and economy in the utilization of personnel," the President wrote in identical letters to Civil Service Chairman Robert Ramspeck and Budget Director Frederick Lawton.

"This manpower conservation program should be given top priority throughout the executive branch," the President added.

As a result, Ramspeck and Lawton sent a joint ultimatum to all agencies to "take steps to assure the most effective and economical use" of manpower. This will be followed up by on-the-spot inspections to make sure the drones exit.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The outlook nine months before the national political conventions of both parties can be summed up as follows:

1. General Eisenhower and Senator Taft are the two main rivals at the moment for the Republican nominnation. If the convention were held today, Taft would win the nomination.

2. The strength of General Eisenhower is not as extensive as has been supposed by many of his supporters and admirers here. For while the General's name has a appeal to numerous Republicans who think he is a sure winner, the fact remains that the regular party organizations throughout the country are either weighted heavily for Taft or are so uncertain about the General's intentions as to hestitate in making commitments and pledges.

3. If General Eisenhower permits his name to be used as an active candidate by next January, he will face considerable opposition. If he waits for the draft process, he will be stronger at convention time. If the General leaves Europe to be an active candidate, he will need a much stronger political organization than has yet been developed for him. The chances are that the Eisenhower movement under those circumstances will become a "stop Taft" movement and it is conceivable that a "dark horse" could win the race as has happened often when two strong factions are in conflict and neither one has enough strength to gain the victory without the aid of the other.

Taft Weaker Now

4. Senator Taft is a weaker candidate today than he will be next January. The Ohio Senator is particularly weak among independent voters who do not feel he is safe enough on international policy and that he may revert to his own sort of "isolationism." The Senator has been writing a book on foreign policy and is presumably aware of the criticisms. Between now and the convention he doubtless will make an effort to clarify his position on world policy, though there are many elements in the electorate so strongly opposed to him that they say they would rather vote for any Democrat than vote for Taft. It is always difficult to know how strong the tendency of such a group is to shift parties anyway. Many Democrats professed to be for Wilkie on the day he was nominated in 1940 but they didn't stick with him.

5. The Democratic national situation is more confused than the Republican. President Truman has made up his mind what he will do about the nomination, but has told nobody. In his ambiguous statements he refers to the fact that he will cross the nominating bridge when he comes to it. His tendency is to avoid any solicitation of delegations. This could mean that he wants to be drafted, or that he is really angling for a complimentary nomination that he could decline. He can have the nomination if he wants it and there will be no contenders till he takes himself out of the race. He may surprise everybody by announcing that he will run for U. S. senator from Missouri. Andrew Johnson served in the Senate and John Quincy Adams in the House of Representatives after each had been President.

6. Most discussions of politics usually lead to inquiries about a writer's personal feelings. There is none, so far as this writer is concerned, in presenting objectively what seems to him to be the present outlook for the candidates of both parties.

As a registered Democrat with residence in Virginia, this correspondent has regularly voted for Democratic members of Congress and the Democratic state ticket, but is an independent in Presidential elections. To illustrate: If Chief Justice Fred Vinson were the next Democratic Presidential nominee, this writer would consider voting for him in preference to any Republican. If President Truman is renominated, the writer's vote would probably go to the Republican nominee whoever he may be.

To conclude: It is this writer's belief that any Republican — Taft, Eisenhower or a "dark horse" — will win easily over President Truman if he runs again. This prediction is made on the same basis that an opposite prediction was made nine months before the 1948 election when this correspondent was convinced Mr. Truman would win and wrote that prediction in these dispatches. The writer maintained that view until October, 1948, when he overestimated the Republican strength in the farm areas and forecast a Republican victory by a close margin. After an intimate experience with ten consecutive Presidential elections in 40 years — in which eight predictions made a week before election day turned out correctly and two didn't — the writer has come to believe that a better line on what is going to happen can be gotten by appraising carefully the trend of party strength several months before a campaign starts rather than during the confusion of the campaign itself. Despite the popular belief that speechmaking and stumping the country mean something, the trend usually sets in long before the campaign begins and is rarely changed by subsequent events.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Do They Have Any Guts?

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN GERMANY—"The real question is," said the young American supply officer, as he sipped his beer, "have they got any guts?" This question about the French was perhaps a natural one for an American, who remembered without understanding the shameful French collapse in 1940. But to this reporter, who saw the France of the wartime resistance, the question brought back a flood of memories.

Indeed, it is a curious experience, full of the sudden remembering of things forgotten, to see and talk to and train with French fighting men after so long a lapse of time. For the French army of today has clearly inherited a good deal from those other days of the defeat, the occupation, and the Maquis. And here it must be said that not all of this influence from the past is good.

Consider, for example, a spectacle which this reporter witnessed recently. A French general shouts loudly and angrily at a French captain. Without turning a hair, the French captain thereupon shouts more loudly and more angrily right back at the general. This sort of thing was to be expected in the informal days of the Maquis, but it is surely a little disturbing in a regular army. After all, unfortunately though it may be, an army must have its generals.

Reflects Tension

This incident, moreover, whether typical or not, accurately reflected a very real tension between the combat officers in the lower ranks and the higher command. This derives partly from the defeat in 1940, for which generals as a class are, rightly enough, held responsible. It derives partly from the fact that a good many of the older officers did nothing during the war, and then resumed their full rank once the war was ended. And it derives also from the high premium placed on disrespect for authority in the resistance era.

"After all," said one junior officer, "is it not true that LeClerc was a captain until he disobeyed his commanders, and that he then became a general?" Another young officer (after, perhaps, one Pernod too many) remarked: "In the next war, the first thing we'll do is to kick the old fogies out"—to use a very mild translation—"and take command ourselves."

Resistance leaders were deposed during the war with the regularity of South American presidents; but a regular army whose leaders are at the mercy of their inferiors ceases to be an army. Another incident which this reporter witnessed during maneuvers in Germany also partook, not very reassuringly, of the informal atmosphere of the Maquis days.

An English guards officer, his moustache-adorned face glowing with the intense seriousness with which the imaginative British take maneuvers, arrived breathless at the command post of a French unit. With great solemnity, he handed a typed message to a Frnech officer, one among several who were gathered together to drink port and complain picturesquely about the horror of British rations. The French officer thanked the Englishman genially, dropped the message under the table, and offered the visitor a glass of port. "But surely," the Guards officer enquired, in very English French, "there was some method of cataloguing such an important message?" This struck all present as a huge joke, and there was a hearty laugh all around. Later, when the unit commander arrived, the message was irretrievably lost.

Indifference Fading

This sort of thing could have its unamusing side under different circumstances. But when all this is said, it must also be said that this distrust of higher authority, this indifference to all the tedious but necessary business of military procedure, is diminishing sharply as the memory of the recent past fades, and as the French army begins to change from a paper army to an army with the means to fight.

And there is also much that is fine that has survived from those other days. There is an extraordinary sense of comradeship, of having all been in hell together, in the lower ranks. There is an energy and initiative lacking in more formal armies—notably the American army, which sometimes seems intent on strangling itself in its own red tape. There is an abiding willingness to play David to any Goliah who may happen along. And finally, there is the answer to the question posed by the American supply officer.

This reporter, it should be explained, was rather embarrassingly well protected by his resistance friends during the war days. Even so, he saw enough to be able to answer the officer's question. He saw the fantastic chances which young French civilians took, with a kind of ferocious gayety, in order to help free their country. He saw many instances of that very special, very French sort of courage, which often seems to an American to approach simple insanity, but which is courage of a high order none the less.

The answer to the American officer's question is "Yes, the French have guts." This does not mean that Frenchmen are going to get themselves killed and their country ravished because some American planner conceives this to be in the American interest. But it does mean that now, as in other days, French courage is one of the great assets of the free world.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Voice Of America

It is Sunday afternoon and one stretches out in comfort, to read and smoke and to relax.

Bang!

A horrifying scream!

Someone has fallen out of a window. Some more bangs!

Two or three radios are shrieking what are called "mysteries."

The language may be English, but of a variety and vintage that is more familiar to the children who listen to it than to any dictionary. There is always a "private eye" who gets hit and knocked down and stomped upon. Generally some very beautiful girl is his assistant. How a girl with so frail a voice can do all the things these girls do is beyond credulity. The little girls who listen to these fighting females have something to emulate, for if emulation is not the purpose of all this, what is?

Then there is the tough woman with the so-called sexy voice. I have often wondered why such a voice is called, sexy. I have heard great actresses play Juliet, beginning with Julia Marlowe, but I never heard one speak those rich lines of love in such a vocalization as radio regards as sexy. In fact, it strikes me that if any woman spoke that way in real life, everybody would regard it as a form of halitosis.

Then there is the bad man who shoots his way through life, surrounded by stooges, dopes, morons, who speak a dialect of English invented by an idiot. In the course of a varied career, over many years, I have known some bad men. I knew such characters as Kid Twist and Gyp the Blood of another generation. I once worked in a chicken market in New Jersey where Paul Kelly, an Italian heavy, was the straw boss, yelling all over the place. But he never talked like any of these radio bad men. This dialect is strictly synthetic and no cop would lock up anyone who sounded off with such professional toughness, even as a vagrant.

Then there is the taxi-driver who talks a dialect that would not be tolerated even in Brooklyn where the local intelligentsia like to show off at lingua dodger — an invention to stimulate local pride. But the Brooklyn dialect is based on sound English; this typed taxi-driver jargon on the radio is a specialty all on its own. It exists nowhere outside the microphone and must take long practice to master.

I sometimes wonder whether in television they will cultivate synthetic personalities to look like those voices sound. Then the children can go to bed, dreaming of the horrors with which they regaled themselves during the afternoon.

It is difficult to be a heavy-handed parent, even if the noise is distressing. The child insists: "All the kids listen to this." Unfortunately, the listening cannot be limited to the children. The shrill scream rends the air. The revolver shots are heard through open windows. Murder! Murder!

Does America listen to nothing but murder? Is murder the Voice of America? Have we no way of being amused but by murders? Do our children have to grow up in this atmosphere of eternal murder?

Of course, they can also listen to "The Greatest Story Ever Told." They can hear recorded music, beautifully done and often brilliantly explained by a person like David Randolph. I am not saying that there are not excellent programs on the air.

I am, simply asking about this emphasis on murders, gangsters, gun-molls and private eyes. Is it necessary? Is it good for our children? Why are such programs so popular? Or is it an unimaginative laziness which keeps these programs on the air?

Too Secret Weapon

It's often said that every war is fought with the weapons of the last conflict. There is a great deal of truth in that—in the sense that weapons devised during a war almost never come into play in time to have a decisive effect on the outcome. But perhaps the observation should read: Every war is fought with the weapons of the last one, provided the military doesn't forget what they were.

That amendment seems justified in view of a story just brought to light. It is the story of "a super-secret weapon developed in World War II that became so enmeshed in military secrecy few people knew how to use it effectively when the Korean War broke out."

It is the story of the proximity fuse and how it was not at first employed against the enemy in Korea—because nobody with authority knew its capabilities.

The proximity fuse is a device that explodes shells, rockets or bombs when they near the target. Missiles equipped with it are deadly anti-personnel weapons because they can be exploded over the heads of troops—and foxholes are poor protection against shrapnel coming from overhead. That was proved during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II. But when the fighting began in Korea U. S. forces were not given shells and bombs with proximity fuses.

Why not? Various reasons were given, but the real reason was that the military men who should have known the value of the proximity fuse apparently were ignorant of what it could do. If its inventor had not become curious about the failure to use it, if he had not insisted on finding out what was wrong, if he had not managed to get a military mission sent to Korea to study the matter, that ignorance would have prevailed. His determination overcame it.

Today the Army is using 17 times as many proximity fuses as it did before. B-29s have become one of the most effective anti-personnel aircraft because of them, and the demand for them is taxing the supply.

Louis N. Ridenour, the 40-year-old physicist who developed the fuse and then brought about its resurrection deserves well of his country. The services could use more like him.

Note On Progress

The watermelon is an ancient vegetable of the cucumber family, reputed to be a native of tropical Africa. Ancient Egyptians are known to have sunk their teeth into the luscious watery meat of melons and it was a favorite food in India and China of the 10th Century, A. D.

The watermelon was introduced to the Americas by Portuguese sailors—and history reveals that early colonists in New England showed it to the Indians. George Washington was a melon grower and encouraged its cultivation in the Ohio country.

But down through the ages man has always struggled with those pesky watermelon seeds!

For years horticulturists have tried to develop a seedless melon and in 1939 a Chinese scientist, Cheongyin Wong, at Michigan State College thought he had it. But now comes definite assurance from Purdue University that the almost seedless melon has arrived—a melon that has only about two seeds and certainly not more than three.

In this atomic age this news may seem picayune, but the development of such a melon is really a boon to mankind. Next on the list of human needs is the self-propelled, self-suspended-in-air, self-buttering corn on the cob.

Padded Payrolls

It was a frontal attack which the Senate made on government spending when it voted a reduction of 30,000 in the number of civilian employes in the armed services and a cut of five per cent in civilian payrolls at the Pentagon. This action may cause some squirming in military circles and it will result in some persons losing their jobs, but it is the opinion of those without prejudice that no harm at all will be done to the national welfare.

In war or near-war it always has been the government's habit to hire many more people than are needed to perform the work at hand. Only recently, for instance, Senator Douglas — who emitted a weird scream and fled the Senate chamber a few days ago when Senator O'Mahoney New Dealer, was defending wild spending—after a personal investigation, reported some departments were so overstaffed all the employes could find to do was to talk to one another.

As further proof of the extravagant use of manpower Mr. Douglas cited the fact that today there is one civilian employe at the Pentagon for every 100 men in combat. At the peak of World War II the ratio was 1 to 500. Nobody with a reasnoable sense of values will contend there is warrant for so vast an expansion of the civilian forces.

Hogging TV

Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee Democrat, likes to believe he made a great hit with the public when his crime commission hearings, complete with diamond studded racketeers, were televised. Some have even suggested that Kefauver should be given the distinction of running for Vice President on a ticket with Truman.

Seeing all this going on, the Senate has toyed with the idea of televising its sessions, or some of the less dreary ones in which the Senators speak their best pieces. If the Senate did that, the House of course, would follow suit. Then the various bureaus would be tempted.

If all the politicians are going to get on television programs, what time will be left for entertainment after all the commercials have been intoned? It would have been interesting to have had a TV set reproducing that Senate session at which Senator Douglas gave tongue to his famous scream of pain or rage when Wyoming's O'Mahoney was in full cry.

Don't Wait Too Long

Although Christmas is a long way off it is not too early to start planning for gifts to be mailed to members of the armed forces overseas if these remembrances are to reach them by the holiday date.

In doing this there are some things to keep in mind. For example, the posting of parcels for faraway recipients should be attended to between October 15 and November 15. In fact, those for remote locations should be started on their way by October 15.

In the preparation of parcels, 50 pounds is the weight limit. Each must be securely boxed in corrugated board or wood, and the address must be distinct.

There is no point in sending a gift to someone, whether by mail or otherwise, unless there is reasonable assurance that it will reach its destination at the proper time.

How To Keep Well

The Life Of The Virus

If we knew as much about the virus as we do about bacteria, many of our health problems would be solved. Viruses are responsible for polio, influenza, smallpox, measles, shingles, and many other puzzling diseases; but research workers are faced with numerous difficulties in studying viral infections.

In the first place, the virus is smaller than most bacteria and, until the advent of the electron microscope, never had been seen. The smallest varieties are those that cause polio and hoof and mouth disease; they are approximately one-twentieth the diameter of the large viruses. Another obstacle is inability to find a suitable culture medium. Ordinary bacteria grow on relatively simple mixtures such as broth and blood agar. The virus is much more fussy; it multiplies only on living cells. The influenza organism, for example, grows experimentally only in the nasal passages of a ferret, in the lungs of a mouse, or in the tissues of a chick embryo within an egg.

Another complication is encountered when the virus that causes a human disease is injected into an egg or a laboratory animal. It grows but its nature is changed in this new and strange environment. The human influenza virus, for example, learns to grow freely in the chick embryo, probably because it discovers this is a soft existence and an excellent place to raise its family. When some of the viruses are moved and placed in another egg they are likely to change a little more, so that at the end of 10 or 15 years the descendants are fully housebroken and tamed characters. This is not all, however. Two laboratories working on the same problem might end up with influenza viruses that are entirely different. At first this created confusion and ill feeling among friendly yet rival research institutions, especially when they thought the same organism was being studied. But after the scientists found out what was happening they realized that additional knowledge had been gained.

These alterations are known as mutations. The descendants of a virus that caused a severe infection 10 years ago may have been transformed to such an extent in being passed from one individual to another that they are capable of producing only a feeble infection. This may be a "break" for us because the mild illness induces immunity not only against similar types of normal or low virulence but also against the occasional type that has undergone a change in the opposite direction. After all, mutation works both ways.

Another characteristic of the virus is its selectivity. These parasites enter specific cells where they cannot be reached by the body's defense mechanism or by drugs. This is in contrast to bacteria that grow outside the cells. After the virus settles in its new quarters, it utilizes the chemical components essential to the existence of the cell. This may cause irreparable damage, as in polio, for example. The destroyed nerve cells cannot be replaced.

EXERCISE MAY HELP

Mrs. G. writes: Will swimming help to develop a woman who wears a size 32 bra?

REPLY

It may, but the chances are that exercise increases the size of the chest muscles rather than the breasts. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on breast changes.

MILK O. K.

Mrs. F. writes: Should a person with arthritis stop drinking milk?

REPLY

No. Milk is not a remedy for arthritis, nor it is the cause. It is a good food and, because arthritics need a well balanced diet, milk should be included.

MINOR STROKE

Mrs. J. writes: I had a little stroke lasting a few minutes and am now up and about after five days in bed. I want to go out for a walk every day but my family won't let me unless somebody comes with me. I am not afraid. Do you think they are right?

REPLY

No. You probably will do better on your own provided the stroke has not impaired your judgment.

X-RAY AND BREAST TUMORS

Mrs. A. writes: Would X-ray reveal whether a lump in the breast is malignant?

REPLY

Tumors frequently can be seen in X-ray films but most radiologists would hesitate to rely upon this method of telling the difference between a benign and a malignant tumor. Recently a group of Philadelphia physicians reported that they were able to make the diagnosis via X-ray but so far as I know this work has not yet been confirmed.

U. S. Experts Anticipate No World War III This Year; Friendship Balloons Harass Kremlin; Senator McKellar Blasts Tennessee Colleague

WASHINGTON—The month of September and early October when the harvest is in is the time when the chanceries and general staffs of Europe watch closest for signs of war. If Europe can get by this period of dry, mild weather before winter bogs down an attacking army, they figure there will be no danger of war at least until June.

Top U. S. officials, likewise, have made all-important surveys of the war possibility, and it is possible for this column to report what their general conclusions are:

1. Russia will not launch World War III this year. However, Russia is expected to continue pressing war by satellites.

2. China, not Russia, has been more eager for a truce. The U. S. war study indicates that Russia came out with the truce proposal chiefly for propaganda purposes; perhaps to stall for time in order to get new arms to Korea.

3. Next step in Communist aggression is likely to be Burma, Thailand, and Indo-China. This area is all-important to the Kremlin if the millions of China are to have rice. Moscow would probably gamble on starting World War III in these countries, though she doesn't actually want it.

4. In Iran the Russians will probably march into the northern province of Azerbaijan and take it by force—if the British go into Southern Iran to protect their oil refinery. Here again the Russians are willing to gamble that the West will not go to war over Iran.

5. In Germany, the U. S. analysis does not anticipate a Russian military move, but does foresee a continual army build-up.

Moscow's biggest drive will be pressure through local governments to stop the building of U. S. air bases in Europe and North Africa.

Behind The Iron Curtain

Increasing evidence is coming back from inside the iron curtain to show that the freedom-friendship balloons and other activities of the Crusade for Freedom have really got under the Kremlin's skin.

In East Bohemia, for instance, fields where the balloon messages fell were declared "off-limits" to farm workers by security sections of the National Communist Committee. In another section of Bohemia, Communist officials offered rewards to the teams of youth brigades who collected the largest number of friendship leaflets.

Near the Czech-Austrian border, a patrol of border police reported "voluminous flying objects" which might be enemy paratroopers. When Prague got the report, it dispatched tank units amid great excitement.

The flying objects, however, turned out to be pillow balloons with the word "Svoboda"—"Freedom"—written on them in large letters. They were bouncing along the ground in the early morning twilight like miniature flying saucers. Inside of them, of course, were friendship messages from the American people to the people of Czechoslovakia.

This is an illustration of how the American people, usually ahead of their government, have begun to penetrate the iron curtain on their own, at the same time aged senators have drastically and dangerously curtailed the State Department budget for winning friends and influencing people.

It was meant for the eyes of a few, select senators only, but crotchety Kenneth McKellar, grandpa of the Senate, has written an angry letter about his Tennessee colleague, crimebuster Estes Kefauver. The letter was mailed to all members of the Senate Judiciary Committee in order to undermine Kefauver's plan for appointing a roving judge for Tennessee.

"As a member of the policy committee of the Senate, I secured for Mr. Kefauver a place on the Senate Judiciary Committee. I apologize for that," sourly wrote McKellar.

This is the latest eruption in a bitter feud between the two Tennessee senators. It started when Kefauver refused to let McKellar handpick all federal jobs in Tennessee. McKellar became so enraged that he forbade his staff to mention Kefauver's name in his presence. Ever since, the vengeful McKellar has sniped at everything Kefauver has tried to do in the Senate.

Now McKellar is urging a new judge for Middle Tennessee, but Kefauver is seeking a roving judge who would divide his time between the mid-state where a judge is ill and Western Tennessee which is rapidly growing. Local sentiment supports Kefauver in this.

"For some unaccountable reason, unless it be politics, Mr. Kefauver turned up not long ago wanting to make that judge a roving judge. . ." McKellar complained bitterly in his private letter to the Judiciary Committee members. ". . . He insists on having the new judge made a roving judge for both Middle and West Tennessee, and in some manner unknown to me, he claims to have secured a majority of the committee in favor of his amendment."

Then McKellar, who wields great power as boss of the Appropriations Committee, appealed: "I am asking you as a senator to vote for my amendment to strike out Mr. Kefauver's amendment.

"I would be greatly obliged for your vote and support in keeping politics out of our judicial affairs," concluded McKellar after himself pulling heavily on the political wires.

It hasn't received any publicity, but President Truman has ordered a drastic housecleaning to sweep the drones from federal government. An ultimatum has already gone out to all agencies to clean house or face budgetary and personnel cuts.

"The present emergency has caused great demands on the manpower resources of our country with shortages of manpower in certain special areas already being felt . . . The federal government, as the largest single employer, in the country, should set the example. Therefore, I expect the head of each executive department and agency to bring about maximum effectiveness and economy in the utilization of personnel," the President wrote in identical letters to Civil Service Chairman Robert Ramspeck and Budget Director Frederick Lawton.

"This manpower conservation program should be given top priority throughout the executive branch," the President added.

As a result, Ramspeck and Lawton sent a joint ultimatum to all agencies to "take steps to assure the most effective and economical use" of manpower. This will be followed up by on-the-spot inspections to make sure the drones exit.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The outlook nine months before the national political conventions of both parties can be summed up as follows:

1. General Eisenhower and Senator Taft are the two main rivals at the moment for the Republican nomination. If the convention were held today, Taft would win the nomination.

2. The strength of General Eisenhower is not as extensive as has been supposed by many of his supporters and admirers here. For while the General's name has a appeal to numerous Republicans who think he is a sure winner, the fact remains that the regular party organizations throughout the country are either weighted heavily for Taft or are so uncertain about the General's intentions as to hestitate in making commitments and pledges.

3. If General Eisenhower permits his name to be used as an active candidate by next January, he will face considerable opposition. If he waits for the draft process, he will be stronger at convention time. If the General leaves Europe to be an active candidate, he will need a much stronger political organization than has yet been developed for him. The chances are that the Eisenhower movement under those circumstances will become a "stop Taft" movement and it is conceivable that a "dark horse" could win the race as has happened often when two strong factions are in conflict and neither one has enough strength to gain the victory without the aid of the other.

Taft Weaker Now

4. Senator Taft is a weaker candidate today than he will be next January. The Ohio Senator is particularly weak among independent voters who do not feel he is safe enough on international policy and that he may revert to his own sort of "isolationism." The Senator has been writing a book on foreign policy and is presumably aware of the criticisms. Between now and the convention he doubtless will make an effort to clarify his position on world policy, though there are many elements in the electorate so strongly opposed to him that they say they would rather vote for any Democrat than vote for Taft. It is always difficult to know how strong the tendency of such a group is to shift parties anyway. Many Democrats professed to be for Wilkie on the day he was nominated in 1940 but they didn't stick with him.

5. The Democratic national situation is more confused than the Republican. President Truman has made up his mind what he will do about the nomination, but has told nobody. In his ambiguous statements he refers to the fact that he will cross the nominating bridge when he comes to it. His tendency is to avoid any solicitation of delegations. This could mean that he wants to be drafted, or that he is really angling for a complimentary nomination that he could decline. He can have the nomination if he wants it and there will be no contenders till he takes himself out of the race. He may surprise everybody by announcing that he will run for U. S. senator from Missouri. Andrew Johnson served in the Senate and John Quincy Adams in the House of Representatives after each had been President.

6. Most discussions of politics usually lead to inquiries about a writer's personal feelings. There is none, so far as this writer is concerned, in presenting objectively what seems to him to be the present outlook for the candidates of both parties.

As a registered Democrat with residence in Virginia, this correspondent has regularly voted for Democratic members of Congress and the Democratic state ticket, but is an independent in Presidential elections. To illustrate: If Chief Justice Fred Vinson were the next Democratic Presidential nominee, this writer would consider voting for him in preference to any Republican. If President Truman is renominated, the writer's vote would probably go to the Republican nominee whoever he may be.

To conclude: It is this writer's belief that any Republican — Taft, Eisenhower or a "dark horse" — will win easily over President Truman if he runs again. This prediction is made on the same basis that an opposite prediction was made nine months before the 1948 election when this correspondent was convinced Mr. Truman would win and wrote that prediction in these dispatches. The writer maintained that view until October, 1948, when he overestimated the Republican strength in the farm areas and forecast a Republican victory by a close margin. After an intimate experience with ten consecutive Presidential elections in 40 years — in which eight predictions made a week before election day turned out correctly and two didn't — the writer has come to believe that a better line on what is going to happen can be gotten by appraising carefully the trend of party strength several months before a campaign starts rather than during the confusion of the campaign itself. Despite the popular belief that speechmaking and stumping the country mean something, the trend usually sets in long before the campaign begins and is rarely changed by subsequent events.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Do They Have Any Guts?

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN GERMANY—"The real question is," said the young American supply officer, as he sipped his beer, "have they got any guts?" This question about the French was perhaps a natural one for an American, who remembered without understanding the shameful French collapse in 1940. But to this reporter, who saw the France of the wartime resistance, the question brought back a flood of memories.

Indeed, it is a curious experience, full of the sudden remembering of things forgotten, to see and talk to and train with French fighting men after so long a lapse of time. For the French army of today has clearly inherited a good deal from those other days of the defeat, the occupation, and the Maquis. And here it must be said that not all of this influence from the past is good.

Consider, for example, a spectacle which this reporter witnessed recently. A French general shouts loudly and angrily at a French captain. Without turning a hair, the French captain thereupon shouts more loudly and more angrily right back at the general. This sort of thing was to be expected in the informal days of the Maquis, but it is surely a little disturbing in a regular army. After all, unfortunately though it may be, an army must have its generals.

Reflects Tension

This incident, moreover, whether typical or not, accurately reflected a very real tension between the combat officers in the lower ranks and the higher command. This derives partly from the defeat in 1940, for which generals as a class are, rightly enough, held responsible. It derives partly from the fact that a good many of the older officers did nothing during the war, and then resumed their full rank once the war was ended. And it derives also from the high premium placed on disrespect for authority in the resistance era.

"After all," said one junior officer, "is it not true that LeClerc was a captain until he disobeyed his commanders, and that he then became a general?" Another young officer (after, perhaps, one Pernod too many) remarked: "In the next war, the first thing we'll do is to kick the old fogies out"—to use a very mild translation—"and take command ourselves."

Resistance leaders were deposed during the war with the regularity of South American presidents; but a regular army whose leaders are at the mercy of their inferiors ceases to be an army. Another incident which this reporter witnessed during maneuvers in Germany also partook, not very reassuringly, of the informal atmosphere of the Maquis days.

An English guards officer, his moustache-adorned face glowing with the intense seriousness with which the imaginative British take maneuvers, arrived breathless at the command post of a French unit. With great solemnity, he handed a typed message to a Frnech officer, one among several who were gathered together to drink port and complain picturesquely about the horror of British rations. The French officer thanked the Englishman genially, dropped the message under the table, and offered the visitor a glass of port. "But surely," the Guards officer enquired, in very English French, "there was some method of cataloguing such an important message?" This struck all present as a huge joke, and there was a hearty laugh all around. Later, when the unit commander arrived, the message was irretrievably lost.

Indifference Fading

This sort of thing could have its unamusing side under different circumstances. But when all this is said, it must also be said that this distrust of higher authority, this indifference to all the tedious but necessary business of military procedure, is diminishing sharply as the memory of the recent past fades, and as the French army begins to change from a paper army to an army with the means to fight.

And there is also much that is fine that has survived from those other days. There is an extraordinary sense of comradeship, of having all been in hell together, in the lower ranks. There is an energy and initiative lacking in more formal armies—notably the American army, which sometimes seems intent on strangling itself in its own red tape. There is an abiding willingness to play David to any Goliah who may happen along. And finally, there is the answer to the question posed by the American supply officer.

This reporter, it should be explained, was rather embarrassingly well protected by his resistance friends during the war days. Even so, he saw enough to be able to answer the officer's question. He saw the fantastic chances which young French civilians took, with a kind of ferocious gayety, in order to help free their country. He saw many instances of that very special, very French sort of courage, which often seems to an American to approach simple insanity, but which is courage of a high order none the less.

The answer to the American officer's question is "Yes, the French have guts." This does not mean that Frenchmen are going to get themselves killed and their country ravished because some American planner conceives this to be in the American interest. But it does mean that now, as in other days, French courage is one of the great assets of the free world.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Voice Of America

It is Sunday afternoon and one stretches out in comfort, to read and smoke and to relax.

Bang!

A horrifying scream!

Someone has fallen out of a window. Some more bangs!

Two or three radios are shrieking what are called "mysteries."

The language may be English, but of a variety and vintage that is more familiar to the children who listen to it than to any dictionary. There is always a "private eye" who gets hit and knocked down and stomped upon. Generally some very beautiful girl is his assistant. How a girl with so frail a voice can do all the things these girls do is beyond credulity. The little girls who listen to these fighting females have something to emulate, for if emulation is not the purpose of all this, what is?

Then there is the tough woman with the so-called sexy voice. I have often wondered why such a voice is called, sexy. I have heard great actresses play Juliet, beginning with Julia Marlowe, but I never heard one speak those rich lines of love in such a vocalization as radio regards as sexy. In fact, it strikes me that if any woman spoke that way in real life, everybody would regard it as a form of halitosis.

Then there is the bad man who shoots his way through life, surrounded by stooges, dopes, morons, who speak a dialect of English invented by an idiot. In the course of a varied career, over many years, I have known some bad men. I knew such characters as Kid Twist and Gyp the Blood of another generation. I once worked in a chicken market in New Jersey where Paul Kelly, an Italian heavy, was the straw boss, yelling all over the place. But he never talked like any of these radio bad men. This dialect is strictly synthetic and no cop would lock up anyone who sounded off with such professional toughness, even as a vagrant.

Then there is the taxi-driver who talks a dialect that would not be tolerated even in Brooklyn where the loca! intelligentsia like to show off at lingua dodger — an invention to stimulate local pride. But the Brooklyn dialect is based on sound English; this typed taxi-driver jargon on the radio is a specialty all on its own. It exists nowhere outside the microphone and must take long practice to master.

I sometimes wonder whether in television they will cultivate synthetic personalities to look like those voices sound. Then the children can go to bed, dreaming of the horrors with which they regaled themselves during the afternoon.

It is difficult to be a heavy-handed parent, even if the noise is distressing. The child insists: "All the kids listen to this." Unfortunately, the listening cannot be limited to the children. The shrill scream rends the air. The revolver shots are heard through open windows. Murder! Murder!

Does America listen to nothing but murder? Is murder the Voice of America? Have we no way of being amused but by murders? Do our children have to grow up in this atmosphere of eternal murder?

Of course, they can also listen to "The Greatest Story Ever Told." They can hear recorded music, beautifully done and often brilliantly explained by a person like David Randolph. I am not saying that there are not excellent programs on the air.

I am, simply asking about this emphasis on murders, gangsters, gun-molls and private eyes. Is it necessary? Is it good for our children? Why are such programs so popular? Or is it an unimaginative laziness which keeps these programs on the air?

District IOOF Rally Planned

Cumberland Encampment No. 23, I. O. O. F., will be host to a district rally to be held at Odd Fellows Temple, South Mechanic Street, today at 7:30 p. m.

This is the first of a series of three meetings for the purpose of conferring degrees on candidates from encampments in Cumberland, Westernport, Mt. Lake Park, Hagerstown and Frederick. The Patriarchal Degree will be conferred at this meeting by the degree team of the local encampment under direction of George McCracken, assisted by members of other encampments in Western Maryland.

The October meeting of the rally will be held in Westernport when the Golden Rule Degree will be conferred by Mt. Carmel Encampment. The November meeting will be held in Hagerstown with Gilead Encampment conferring the Royal Purple Degree.

Maxwell Kirschbaum, Baltimore, grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Maryland, and his staff will be present at the meeting tonight.

All encampments in Western Maryland will be represented as well as Nancy Hanks Encampment of Keyser, W. Va.

William Short, chief patriarch of the local encampment, announced this is the official visitation of the grand patriarch to Cumberland Encampment. Refreshments will be served.

Youth Recovers After Gun Wound

A 17-year-old Roanoke, Va., boy was discharged from Miners Hospital, Frostburg, Sunday after being hospitalized three days with a gunshot wound.

Hospital attendants said James Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cobey Snyder, formerly of Frostburg, was target shooting with a .22 caliber pistol last Thursday when he fell and the gun discharged.

4-Year-Old Boy Has Severe Hand Injury

Harold McChesney, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McChesney, 210 Factory Street, Monongahela, Pa., was admitted to Allegany Hospital Sunday afternoon with severe palm lacerations of the right hand.

Hospital attaches said he was visiting an aunt in North Cumberland and was playing in the back yard when he cut his hand on some broken glass.

Want to drop two inches from your waistline? It's easier than you may think and it takes only six weeks!

SECRETS OF CHARM

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Even if after acquiring the best cincher-foundation in town you view the fashion for the nipped-in waistline with something less than affection, the chances are that your waist is a bit bulkier than you want others to see.

That's the moment when you think of how thrilling it would be to see your waistline shrink an inch or two. Six weeks will turn that dream into a reality — six week of the following three exercises each day and never more than 1500 calories a day, which is actually a liberal ration and nothing to wince over. Interested? Then here are the waist slimmers:

To Deduct Two Inches

1. Lie on your back with your legs and arms outstretched in a V. Briskly rising from the hips, touch your right hand to your left toe. Very, very slowing, return to the prone position. Let your back down gently, flattening it out against the floor inch by inch from the hips to the shoulders. Repeat, touching the left hand to the right toe. As a starter, for the first week, ten times each day is enough. Gradually increase until you can perform the exercises twenty times a session with ease. It's a good hip and abdomen trimmer, too!

2. Kneel with your back erect (as when standing), your arms touching your sides, and relaxed. Without lowering your hips and pulling your abdomen in as hard as you can, try to touch your right fingertips to the flood at a point close to your legs. Come back to starting position and try with your left fingertips. Always alternating sides, repeate thirty times. Though you don't succeed at first, keep on trying and you'll be well on your way to a smooth hand-span waist.

Stretching, the Secret

3. Stand in your best posture and reach for the ceiling with both arms. Imagine that you are reaching for a box on the top shelf of your closet (the one you need a step-stool for). Try first to grasp the imaginary box with your right hand and then with the left. Without standing on tiptoe, make each reach a little higher. Feel a pull in your waist or you won't be getting the slimming effect you desire. Five minutes of this exercise properly done and you can take your belt in a notch! Yes, actually — because you'll be standing pulled tall and that's the biggest secret of a slim waist!

Survey Shows Williams Street Crossing Blocked Most Of Time

A report on the use of the Williams Street crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to the Mayor and Council yesterday revealed that the crossing was blocked 28 hours and 13 minutes during the 48-hour period checked.

Chief of Police R. E. Flynn had Officer J. W. Brown make the check between the hours of 6 a. m. and midnight Monday, Wednesday and Friday of last week.

This report follows a letter August 27 in which Chester T. Williams, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the railroad, asked the council to close the crossing. In return, he stated, the railroad would erect an overhead bridge for pedestrians.

The superintendent added at that time that no amount of protection would reduce the hazards at the crossing.

Williams pointed out that vehicular traffic has diminished, undoubtedly because of the crossing hazards, and said that closing the crossing would fit in with the expansion program of westbound yard facilities.

Chief Flynn said that during the 48-hour period last week, 1,269 pedestrians and 1,231 cars used the crossing.

Chief Flynn also pointed out that the crossing is in very poor shape, and Mayor Thomas S. Post commented that this would encourage motorists to use other crossings.

Police Commissioner John J. Long also added that if the crossing is closed, the traffic problem in downtown Cumberland will be increased.

No action was taken by the council on the Baltimore and Ohio request.

In other council action, a motion by Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder to give Helen Carol Gilmore, clerk in the office of the City Recreation Department, a month's leave of absence, passed unanimously.

Mrs. Roeder commented that Miss Gilmore spent many extra hours this summer working for the city by collecting tickets at the Penn Avenue Field.

All city and interstate transit vehicles are required by law to carry approved fire extinguishers.

District IOOF Rally Planned

Cumberland Encampment No. 23, I. O. O. F., will be host to a district rally to be held at Odd Fellows Temple, South Mechanic Street, today at 7:30 p. m.

This is the first of a series of three meetings for the purpose of conferring degrees on candidates from encampments in Cumberland, Westernport, Mt. Lake Park, Hagerstown and Frederick. The Patriarchal Degree will be conferred at this meeting by the degree team of the local encampment under direction of George McCracken, assisted by members of other encampments in Western Maryland.

The October meeting of the rally will be held in Westernport when the Golden Rule Degree will be conferred by Mt. Carmel Encampment. The November meeting will be held in Hagerstown with Gilead Encampment conferring the Royal Purple Degree.

Maxwell Kirschbaum, Baltimore, grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Maryland, and his staff will be present at the meeting tonight.

All encampments in Western Maryland will be represented as well as Nancy Hanks Encampment of Keyser, W. Va.

William Short, chief patriarch of the local encampment, announced this is the official visitation of the grand patriarch to Cumberland Encampment. Refreshments will be served.

Youth Recovers After Gun Wound

A 17-year-old Roanoke, Va., boy was discharged from Miners Hospital, Frostburg, Sunday after being hospitalized three days with a gunshot wound.

Hospital attendants said James Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cobey Snyder, formerly of Frostburg, was target shooting with a .22 caliber pistol last Thursday when he fell and the gun discharged.

4-Year-Old Boy Has Severe Hand Injury

Harold McChesney, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McChesney, 210 Factory Street, Monongahela, Pa., was admitted to Allegany Hospital Sunday afternoon with severe palm lacerations of the right hand.

Hospital attaches said he was visiting an aunt in North Cumberland and was playing in the back yard when he cut his hand on some broken glass.

Want to drop two inches from your waistline? It's easier than you may think and it takes only six weeks!

SECRETS OF CHARM

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Even if after acquiring the best cincher-foundation in town you view the fashion for the nipped-in waistline with something less than affection, the chances are that your waist is a bit bulkier than you want others to see.

That's the moment when you think of how thrilling it would be to see your waistline shrink an inch or two. Six weeks will turn that dream into a reality — six week of the following three exercises each day and never more than 1500 calories a day, which is actually a liberal ration and nothing to wince over. Interested? Then here are the waist slimmers:

To Deduct Two Inches

1. Lie on your back with your legs and arms outstretched in a V. Briskly rising from the hips, touch your right hand to your left toe. Very, very slowing, return to the prone position. Let your back down gently, flattening it out against the floor inch by inch from the hips to the shoulders. Repeat, touching the left hand to the right toe. As a starter, for the first week, ten times each day is enough. Gradually increase until you can perform the exercises twenty times a session with ease. It's a good hip and abdomen trimmer, too!

2. Kneel with your back erect (as when standing), your arms touching your sides, and relaxed. Without lowering your hips and pulling your abdomen in as hard as you can, try to touch your right fingertips to the flood at a point close to your legs. Come back to starting position and try with your left fingertips. Always alternating sides, repeate thirty times. Though you don't succeed at first, keep on trying and you'll be well on your way to a smooth hand-span waist.

Stretching, the Secret

3. Stand in your best posture and reach for the ceiling with both arms. Imagine that you are reaching for a box on the top shelf of your closet (the one you need a step-stool for). Try first to grasp the imaginary box with your right hand and then with the left. Without standing on tiptoe, make each reach a little higher. Feel a pull in your waist or you won't be getting the slimming effect you desire. Five minutes of this exercise properly done and you can take your belt in a notch! Yes, actually — because you'll be standing pulled tall and that's the biggest secret of a slim waist!

Survey Shows Williams Street Crossing Blocked Most Of Time

A report on the use of the Williams Street crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to the Mayor and Council yesterday revealed that the crossing was blocked 28 hours and 13 minutes during the 48-hour period checked.

Chief of Police R. E. Flynn had Officer J. W. Brown make the check between the hours of 6 a. m. and midnight Monday, Wednesday and Friday of last week.

This report follows a letter August 27 in which Chester T. Williams, superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the railroad, asked the council to close the crossing. In return, he stated, the railroad would erect an overhead bridge for pedestrians.

The superintendent added at that time that no amount of protection would reduce the hazards at the crossing.

Williams pointed out that vehicular traffic has diminished, undoubtedly because of the crossing hazards, and said that closing the crossing would fit in with the expansion program of westbound yard facilities.

Chief Flynn said that during the 48-hour period last week, 1,269 pedestrians and 1,231 cars used the crossing.

Chief Flynn also pointed out that the crossing is in very poor shape, and Mayor Thomas S. Post commented that this would encourage motorists to use other crossings.

Police Commissioner John J. Long also added that if the crossing is closed, the traffic problem in downtown Cumberland will be increased.

No action was taken by the council on the Baltimore and Ohio request.

In other council action, a motion by Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder to give Helen Carol Gilmore, clerk in the office of the City Recreation Department, a month's leave of absence, passed unanimously.

Mrs. Roeder commented that Miss Gilmore spent many extra hours this summer working for the city by collecting tickets at the Penn Avenue Field.

All city and interstate transit vehicles are required by law to carry approved fire extinguishers.

RWC Board To Meet Tomorrow

Mrs. George Barncord has called a special meeting of the board of Women's Republican Club of Cumberland. It is to be held tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Harry Anderson, 822 Greene Street, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The meeting is in preparation for the regular club meeting which will be held October 4. Miss Bertha Adkins, national committeewoman of the state of Maryland, and Mrs. Leona Rush, delegate to the state general assembly, are to be guests of the local club.

Last week a meeting was held to discuss precinct work. The necessity of getting voters, whose names have been stricken from the books, to reregister, was stressed.

Approximately 35 members attended.

Rebekahs Entertain

Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 1, IOOF, was hostess to the Forget-Me-Not Lodge No. 375, Hyndman, recently at the Odd Fellows hall. The Degree Team of the visiting lodge exemplified the initiatory work. Two candidates were given the degree. Mrs. Louise Bittle, noble grand, of the host lodge, presided.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Ella Crabbe, degree captain of the Hyndman lodge, by Mrs. Bertie Ranck, captain of the local lodge.

Greetings were extended by Mrs. Catherine Couter, past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Maryland; and Robert W. Young. A respone was made by Mrs. Nancy Christner, noble grand of Hyndman lodge.

Four charter members of the Hyndman lodge attended. They were Mrs. Leonora Bruner, Mrs. Florabelle Hits, Mrs. Zella Deaner and Mrs. Nettie Evans.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the Social committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hazel Burke.

Social Chart

DeMolay Mothers Club will have its first meeting of the Fall season at 8 tomorrow in the temple. Mrs. Stanley Burke will preside.

A card party will be held in the basement of St. Anthony's Church, Ridgeley, at 8:15 tonight.

Circle 9 of Centre Street Methodist Church will hold a rummage sale from 2 until 7 p. m. today in the church basement. At 7:30 a business session will be held in the club room. Mrs. C. H. Smith is leader.

The RA Boys of First Baptist Church will meet in the church annex at 7:30 tonight.

The Apron committee for the bazaar of First Presbyterian Church will meet from 10 until 2 o'clock today at the home of Mrs. Robert Blair, Fort Cumberland Hotel.

SPECIALLY DRESSED for the occasion, Joan Demerest, 18, of Hackensack, N. J. poses for the news photographers shortly after she was chosen "Queen of the New Jersey State Fair" at Trenton. (International)

Style Show To Be Sponsored By Two Hospital Auxiliaries

To Be Held Oct. 2-3

The fifth annual style show by Rosenbaum's Store for the benefit of the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and the Allegany Hospital Auxiliary is being held October 2 and 3, at Rosenbaum's store, beginning at 8 p. m.

Each auxiliary will use its share of the proceeds for its own projects.

Miss Betty Greene, New York fashion accelerator for Rosenbaum's, will be the commentator for the show. Preceding the revue there are to be musical arrangements.

Miss Greene has just returned from Paris and brought with her many Paris creations of well known couturieres. The originals are being brought to Cumberland for the show, but will be copied by New York manufacturers. They will include daytime and evening dresses as well as suits and coats.

Besides the Paris models Rosenbaums are giving a showing of their own fashions in sports wear.

RWSC Dinner To Be Thurs.

The Rural Women's Short Course Club will hold its annual dinner September 27. The 15th anniversary of the club is to be celebrated at the dinner being held in the Green Room at Central YMCA at 6:15 p. m.

Guest speakers will be Mrs. Eugene McIntyre, Jessup, state president of the RWSC; and Miss Helen Irene Smith, home management specialist from the University of Maryland.

Mrs. Raymond Minke will preside. Reports are to be given by Mrs. Ernest Screen, Mrs. H. J. Rolly and Miss Dora Lewis. The Frostburg Warblers will sing several selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spannuth, New Castle, Ind., visited Mrs. Virgie Greenwalt and family, 917 Maryland Avenue, over the weekend.

How BAB-O removes "SINK SMOG"

"Sink Smog," ugh! Millions of tiny bits of grease and grime form that greasy-grey film on your sink.

"Surface cleansers," with their flimsy foam, can't get at "Sink Smog," it's imbedded so deep in the pits in the porcelain.

But wonder-sudsing Bab-O can! Those millions of extra tiny, livelier suds work way down into those porcelain pits, dislodge "Sink Smog," and sweep it right down the drain!

Now your sink shines! Bab-O removes "Sink Smog" as no "surface cleanser" can! P.S. You'll love its clean, fresh fragrance!

it's here! new wonder-sudsing Bab-O! world's sudsiest cleanser!

m-m-m! you'll love its clean, fresh fragrance!

cleans sinks brighter-whiter than any other cleanser!

Phone Company Says Rate Hike Vital To Service

PSC Hearing To Continue Today

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 24 (AP) — Another rate increase is essential if the telephone company provides adequate service to the public, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company declared today.

This line of reasoning was pursued in testimony by C. H. Johnson, vice president and general manager of the C. and P. Company of West Virginia, before the Public Service Commission. The new request is estimated to bring in $3,500,000 in new annual revenues.

The company is seeking its fifth post-war rate increase, affecting 320,000 customers in the state.

"We are here again requesting rate relief," Johnson said. "We know it's not the popular thing to do but we know also that it is the necessary thing to do.

"This rate relief, in our judgment, is vital to the sound operation of the company now and in the period ahead."

Johnson declared it a "definite responsibility" of the company to protect the investment that people have put in the telephone business. He said that, contrary to business in general, his company has not met this obligation.

Further testimony in the hearing was continued to 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Public Service Commission chambers.

Besides Johnson, those testifying for the company this afternoon included: R. B. Keifer, general accounting supervisor for the firm; Arthur L. Lanigan, assistant vice president, and V. A. McElfresh, member of the utility consultant firm, H. Zinder and Associates, Washington, D. C.

The PSC earlier heard C. & P. Attorney Charles E. Mahan testify the increase was necessary to enable the firm to combat inflation and keep pace with the state's economy.

replacement of which was delayed during the depression of the thirties and which were subjected to heavy strain during the war.

Extensive Changes Necessary

In addition, it was explained, extensive changes in process and plant layout, as well as costly new equipment, were necessary to take advantage of rapid technological developments since the war, to consolidate and streamline previously scattered operations, to achieve better control of quality, and to permit increased utilization of hardwoods, the supply of which within economic reach of the mills is relatively abundant. A great deal has been accomplished in these directions, it was asserted, but the process is far from complete and new needs and new opportunities are constantly appearing.

These continuing needs and opportunities, the company said, especially the need for better control of quality and costs, plus the companies' obligations to meet the increasing demand for its products, justify going ahead with this policy of aggressive modernization and development as rapidly as possible.

Expenditures Noted

Present plans call for the expenditure of as much as another $50,000,000 during the next few years, including the $20,000,000 covered by the proposed debentures, with major projects contemplated at each mill. To date, chiefly as the result of a conservative dividend policy which allowed the management to retain for this purpose a large part of earnings since the war, the company has been able to finance the program out of its own pocket.

Due to the impact of high taxes and rising costs, however, there is no assurance, the company said, that earnings will provide new money as rapidly as may be needed. The purpose of the present borrowing, it was explained, is to obtain ready funds in sufficient amount to assure steady progress.

In addition to the proposed debentures, the company also recently arranged with a number of banks for a stand-by credit of $15,000,000 for the next three years, against which it can draw on notes maturing not later than June 30, 1955, if and as further funds are needed. This replaces a similar stand-by credit for $10,000,000 previously maintained by the company but not used.

Luke Mill Included

The present issue is the first outside financing undertaken by the company since it borrowed $10,000,000 in 1937 to construct the mill at North Charleston, S. C. This was reduced to $8,000,000 in 1939 and repaid in full early in 1944.

At several mills, including Luke, major new projects are already under way. Preliminary engineering and design work is either complete or in progress for most of the other projects included in the $50,000,000 figure previously mentioned. Aside from construction already in progress however, no rigid schedule is projected.

The timing of each step in the program, it was explained, and the priority of individual projects, will depend on a great variety of factors, including the availability of construction material and supplies, the urgency of the demand for particular products, the effect of taxes and inflation and, primarily, how much money the company is able to earn and retain out of earnings as it goes along.

Family Of Five Homeless After Fire Destroys House

An appeal for clothing has been made for a Finzel area family whose home was leveled by fire early Saturday morning.

Mrs. J. C. Cobey, of the Frostburg Chapter of the Red Cross, said John Raley, his wife, and three small girls, aged three, five and seven years, lost all of their possessions—clothing, furniture and even the father's pay he had just drawn from the Big Savage Refractories Corporation.

Frostburg Fire Company answered the call, but when the firemen arrived in the Garrett county community, just over the county line, it was impossible to do anything except keep the blaze from spreading to nearby buildings.

Barely escaping with their lives, the Raleys are left only with a pen which houses 13 chickens and eight rabbits.

The nearby home of Victor Twigg, who owned the Raley residence, was threatened by the flames. Women and men of the community carried spring water in buckets to keep the blaze from spreading.

The only water available for firemen at the mountain top area was from the auxiliary tank of the Frostburg fire truck.

Anyone having clothing for the family can phone 236 Frostburg or deliver it to Mrs. Cobey's residence, 60 West Main Street.

Missing Person Reported

A Corriganville resident was reported missing yesterday. Emma Burkett, 27, weighing 156 pounds and five feet 11 inches in height was last seen Saturday here in Cumberland. She was an employe of Central Lunch.

NLRB Poll Planned For Insurance Firm

Agents of the Monumental Life Insurance Company will vote Friday in a National Labor Relations Board election to determine the bargaining agent for employes of the firm.

The election will be held from 9 to 10 a. m. in the company's office on South Liberty Street, with 20 agents eligible to vote.

Local 230, National Federation of Insurance Agents, AFL, organized here May 20, is seeking bargaining rights for the firm.

Officers are Norbert O'Donnell, president; John K. Snyder, vice president, and Raymond Fannon, secretary-treasurer.

The AFL union has locals here representing workers of the Metropolitan, Prudential and All-States life insurance firms.

Course Planned By Underwriters

A training course for life underwriters will be offered here in October under the sponsorship of the Cumberland Life Underwriters Association.

Plans for the course are under the direction of a committee headed by Henry A. Mackey.

A local instructor will be selected for the course, which will include 25 evening sessions.

Some 20 members of the association have already enrolled in the course and up to 32 will be accepted.

A report on plans for the course was given Friday by Robert Shide at a meeting of the association in Central YMCA.

Water Level High

The levels of the city's two lakes in Pennsylvania remain high despite the drought of the past two months, according to the report of C. R. Brotemarkle, superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company, made to the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Lake Gordon is ten inches below its spillway while Lake Koon is eight feet, eight inches below its spillway.

Sentence Suspended In Theft Of Tools

Junior Walter Guthrie of near Jennings, who was found guilty yesterday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Garrett County Circuit Court on a charge of stealing tools worth $35 from a stone quarry, drew a three-year suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction.

Guthrie was placed under supervision of the Probation and Parole Department.

The defendant was charged specifically with stealing a wheelbarrow, sledge hammer and pick last February. The property belonged to Ray Gaconi of near Friendsville.

Services Scheduled

A series of evangelistic services will be held at Mount Herman Methodist Church, Williams Road, beginning today at 7:30 p. m. and will continue until October 4, according to Rev. R. Eugene May, pastor.

Mrs. Sadie E. Triplett will be evangelist, and the program includes special music.

The levels of the city's two lakes in Pennsylvania remain high despite the drought of the past two months, according to the report of C. R. Brotemarkle, superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company, made to the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Lake Gordon is ten inches below its spillway while Lake Koon is eight feet, eight inches below its spillway.

Marriage Licenses

Leonard Francis Buckley, Woonsocket, R. I., and Imogene Ours, Petersburg, W. Va.

William Joseph Donahue and Leana June Steele, both Frostburg.

Cecil Ellis Beeman, Jr., and Viola Laura Warnick, both Midland.

Robert McKinley Uncapher, Corriganville, and Helen Catherine Logsdon, Mt. Savage.

Jacob Edward Fuoss and Lorraine Elizabeth Bratton, both Tyrone, Pa.

Sentence Suspended In Theft Of Tools

Junior Walter Guthrie of near Jennings, who was found guilty yesterday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Garrett County Circuit Court on a charge of stealing tools worth $35 from a stone quarry, drew a three-year suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction.

Guthrie was placed under supervision of the Probation and Parole Department.

The defendant was charged specifically with stealing a wheelbarrow, sledge hammer and pick last February. The property belonged to Ray Gaconi of near Friendsville.

Services Scheduled

A series of evangelistic services will be held at Mount Herman Methodist Church, Williams Road, beginning today at 7:30 p. m. and will continue until October 4, according to Rev. R. Eugene May, pastor.

Mrs. Sadie E. Triplett will be evangelist, and the program includes special music.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

PFC. IAMES SERVICES

A military funeral will be held today at 10 a. m. at the Baltimore National Cemetery for Pfc. Allen F. Iames, 18, of 443 Columbia Street, who died Friday night of gunshot wounds at Fort George G. Meade. The body is at a Baltimore funeral home.

Pfc. Iames, who had been in service for more than a year, was the son of the late McKinley Iames and Wilma (Sanders) Iames Campbell.

The Baltimore National Cemetery is located at 5501 Frederick Avenue.

LAMP FUNERAL

A funeral service for Marion Lamp, 78, of Buck Valley, Pa., who died Saturday in Morgan County War Memorial Hospital, was held at Kight Funeral Home yesterday afternoon. Rev. Allen B. L. Fisher, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, officiated, and interment was in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Pallbearers were H. M. Brotemarkle, Ira Robinette, Roy L. Gross, William T. Kreitzburg, John Donaldson and Bert Browning.

KERNS BURIAL

A funeral service for William T. Kerns, 77, of near Green Ridge tunnel, who was instantly killed Thursday after being struck by a Western Maryland Railway work train, was held yesterday morning at Stein's Chapel. Rev. S. R. Neel, retired Methodist minister, officiated. Interment was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Samuel Wagner, David W. Koontz, Francis L. Short and Vincent P. Leasure.

ELMER S. GIFFIN

ROWLESBURG, W. Va.—Elmer S. Giffin, 74, husband of Sally Giffin and a former clothing store owner, died suddenly yesterday morning at 6 a. m. of a heart attack at his home.

The son of the late Joseph and Mary Simmons Giffin, he was born near Winchester, Va. After going to Keyser and residing there for several years, he moved to Rowlesburg in 1912 where he was prominent in civic affairs and sports. He operated his clothing establishment here until 1949. He had been in the insurance business for the last two years and served as town recorder several years prior to 1946. He was a member of the Methodist Church in Keyser for 56 years.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, Dr. Theodore C. Giffin and Dr. Carl D. Giffin, both of Keyser, a daughter, Mrs. Neda Law, Wheeling, W. Va., five grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

LESTER LEE ROY

Lester Lee Roy, 57, Potomac Park, died at noon yesterday in Allegany Hospital where he had been a patient 12 days. A native of Dry Fork, W. Va., he was the son of Mrs. Florine (Bennett) Roy, of Potomac Park, and the late Seymour Roy.

A member of the Potomac Park Evangelical United Brethren Church and Local 1874, Textile Workers of America, he was employed at the Celanese plant 24 years, last working as a fireman.

In addition to his mother he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lula Roy; three sons, Charles Alvie, Valley Road; Donald E., Potomac Park and Lester Keith, Bowling Green, and a daughter, Mrs. Roy Williamson, Baltimore. Two grandchildren also survive.

A funeral service will be held in Evangelical United Brethren Church, Potomac Park, at 2 p. m. Thursday. Rev. L. G. Bridges, Rev. Lee A. Shaeffer, and Rev. Frank Fratto will officiate. Interment will be in Zion Memorial Cemetery.

The body will be taken to the residence today.

MORGAN SERVICE

A requiem mass for Mrs. Mary A. (Gussie) McCorrick Morgan, 71, of 835 Columbia Avenue, widow of John E. Morgan, who died Sunday in Allegany Hospital, will be celebrated tomorrow at 10 a. m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

The body is at the residence where the Rosary will be recited today at 8 p. m.

REV. A. A. P. NEEL

KEYSER, W. Va.—The Rev. A. A. P. Neel, 70, died Saturday at 7:45 p. m. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frances Spencer, in Jonesville, Va.

A former Methodist minister at several churches in this area, he had been in ill health for about a year. He retired several years ago.

The body will be taken to the Methodist Church in Shepherdstown today. Services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. (EST) and burial will be at Shepherdstown Cemetery.

CLEAVER BURIAL

PETERSBURG, W. Va.—A funeral service for Lemuel Albert Cleaver, Jr., 25, Moorefield, who died from injuries received in a blast accident near Dorcas last Tuesday, was held at Baker Chapel, Durgon, Friday. Rev. Charles Kernan, pastor of Moorefield Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Yoder, pastor of Assembly of God Church, Cabins, officiated. Interment was in the family cemetery at Durgon.

Pallbearers were Oscar Ketterman, Henry Ketterman, Oscar Crites, Robert Crites, Ralph Crites and Mr. Lilly.

MRS. CARRIE V. COOPER

HARMAN, W. Va. — Mrs. Carrie Viola Cooper, 71, died Saturday night at her home here. Her husband, Jacob Cooper, died 14 months ago. She was the daughter of the late Sampson and Elizabeth (Bonner) Snyder.

Surviving are five sons, Clarace R. Cooper, of Elkins, Paul J. Cooper, of Alpena, and Melvin H. Cooper, Emerson A. Cooper and Sampson S. Cooper, all of Harman; two daughters, Mrs. May McCord, of Elkins, and Mrs. Anna Lee Barkley, of Harman; four brothers, P. Albert Snyder, John W. Snyder, and Henry C. Snyder, all of Idaho, and J. Blaine Snyder, of Harman; two sisters, Mrs. Stella Cooper and Mrs. Nettie Harman, both of Harman; and several grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Brethren Church with the Rev. E. S. Harman officiating and the Rev. Galen Fike, of Eglon, assisting. Interment will be in Snyder Cemetery.

HARPER BURIAL

A funeral service for Mrs. Elsie May Harper, 35, wife of Robert C. Harper, RFD No. 1, Gramlich Road, who died Friday in Allegany Hospital, was held yesterday afternoon at George Funeral Home. Rev. O. Afton Linger, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiated. Interment was in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Pallbearers were Charles R. Sine, Fred Beeman, Paul Custer, Carl Critchfield, Ralph Brown and Melvin Riffey.

WARNICK FUNERAL

LUKE—A funeral service for John H. Warnick, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Warnick, who died Wednesday in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, was held from the residence, Pratt Street, Sunday. Rev. Charles H. Quinn, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, officiated, and interment was in the parish cemetery.

Pallbearers were Leo and Joseph Congianelli, Leo Mazzone, Charles Cave, John Proietti and James Cave.

Former Resident Injured In Fall

William H. Dyche, a 64-year old former resident of Cumberland, was painfully injured when he fell from a tall pole while working for the Western Union in Pittsburgh, Pa., relatives here have been told.

Dyche, who now resides in Washington, Pa., is recuperating in St. Francis Hospital in Pittsburgh, where his condition was last reported as fair. He sustained several broken ribs and a crushed vertebra, minor cuts, bruises and contusions.

Details of the accident have not been received but it was understood Dyche was above the level of street signs when he fell.

Dyche lived at 513 Maryland Avenue until moving to Washington, Pa., about nine years ago. His daughter, Mrs. Thelma Statler, resides at 1308 Holland Street, here.

Cresaptown P-TA Installs Officers

The Parent-Teacher Association of Cresaptown School installed officers for the new school year last night at its first business meeting of the term.

The installation followed room visitation at the school to acquaint parents and teachers.

Installed were:

Mrs. Lester McGill, president; Charles Byrd, vice president; Mrs. Sarah Troutman, secretary, and Mrs. John Luzier, treasurer.

Augustine Diaz was elected assistant treasurer and took office immediately.

Delegates to County Council meetings were named by Mrs. McGill. They are Mrs. John Fazenbaker, Mrs. Charles Wendt, Mrs. Edward Walker, Mrs. Fred Poland and Charles Byrd.

Mrs. McGill was named delegate to the state convention.

The group also voted to change its meeting nights from Mondays to Thursdays. The next meeting will be held October 11.

Frostburg Booters Open Oct. 3; Corriganville Wins Title

Six Opponents On Bobcats' 1951 Schedule

Eight Lettermen On Squad; Towson Will Be Opening Foe

Frostburg State Teachers soccer team will open a tough six-game schedule at Towson Wednesday, Oct. 3, Coach Kenneth Babcock announced last night.

Always a strong contender for the mythical state teachers college soccer title, Frostburg will have eight lettermen and five other holdovers returning to this season's squad.

Eight Lettermen Return

Coach Babcock began practice on opening day of school, Sept. 11, and is building his 1951 eleven around these returning veterans and Freshman Jimmy Byrnes, LaSalle High School graduate who has showed much promise. Byrnes, although he played no soccer previously, has come along nicely, Babcock added and although inexperienced will probably see much action during the year.

Lettermen include Don and Dave Lewis, Ray Ralston, Sam and Wayne Layman, Bill Pugh, Bob Thomas and Sam Lisanti. Returning holdovers who were on last year's squad but failed to earn letters are Bill Leonard, Harold Scott, Jim Jones, Vaughn Dullabaum and Lee Simth.

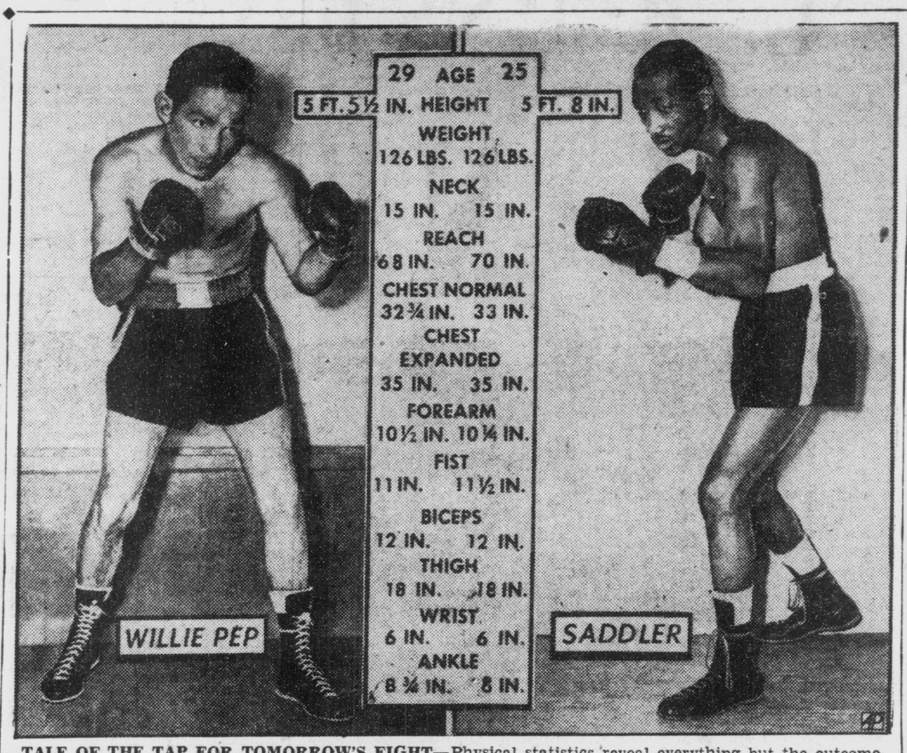
Despite the returning nucleus for this season Coach Babcock still faces a rebuilding job with the loss of such key players as Goalie John Frank, Fullback Bill Sonnenberg, Halfbacks Roy Pepper and Bill Best and Wingman Bill Kildow.

All Games Away

The 1950 eleven won six games and lost three and dropped the state title when defeated by Salisbury 3-1. This year's squad will battle Towson State Teachers, Salisbury, Grove City, Pa., Indiana, Pa., State Teachers, University of Virginia at Charlottesville and Slippery Rock, Pa., State Teachers.

Because of the lack of a home field the Frostburg eleven will play all its games on the road, Coach Babcock pointed out, playing their games on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays. The schedule:

Wed., Oct. 3—At Towson
Wed., Oct. 10—Salisbury at Towson
Fri., Oct. 19—At Grove City, Pa.
Sat., Oct. 27—At Indiana, Pa.
Sat., Nov. 3—U. of Va. at Charlottesville
Fri., Nov. 9—At Slippery Rock, Pa.



TALE OF THE TAP FOR TOMORROW'S FIGHT—Physical statistics reveal everything but the outcome of the battle as contender Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., and World Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler of New York shape up for their title bout in New York's Polo Grounds on Wednesday, September 26. Saddler is a 2 to 1 choice.

Edmund Wicht Passes Bets Up Six Million

Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, reports that the following subjects are among those that will be submitted for discussion at a public hearing at the City Hall auditorium here Friday, October 12, at 7:30 p. m.:

Extend the present closing date on trout fishing from July 15 to November 15. In other words the trout season would be from April 15 to November. Mr. Vaughn feels that this is a wise suggestion since there is a large holdover of trout after the season closes on July 15 which are lost due to lack of water.

Change the size limit on trout from 7 to 6 inches. (This does not mean a change in hatchery operations and reduction in size of fish produced).

Reduce creel limit, all species of trout, from the present 10 to 5. In extending the season for the taking of trout to November 15, the commission feels that the daily creel limit should be reduced to five inasmuch as Maryland is stocking larger fish than neighboring states and Vaughn feels that any good sound-thinking sportsman will agree that five large trout per day is an ample return for the price of a license.

Other proposed regulations to be discussed include:

Open season on bass, June 1, in Garrett county.

Close season on wild turkey, state-wide, except in Allegany and Washington counties.

Three holes-in-one have been chalked up at the Oakland Country Club in Garrett County this year. This is a new record for the Oakland course.

R. A. Dunn of Madison, N. J., an employe of a coal company at Crellin, got the third ace of the season on hole No. 4. The distance was 173 yards.

Neddie's Doll, owned by Enoch Price of Frostburg, ran one mile and a sixteenth last Friday in 1:48 1-5, which is one-fifth of a second off the record for the Wheeling Downs track.

The payoff was $23.80 for $2.

No track records have been equalled or broken at Wheeling's current session.

How's this for an earned run average?

Bob "Lefty" Crump, of the Mt. Savage Braves, champions of the Pen-Mar Baseball League, pitched 61⅓ innings, yielded 12 runs, six of which were earned and had a record of five wins and three losses.

His earned run average is 0.882 per nine inning ball game.

Saddler, Pep End Training For Title Go

Saddler 2-1 Choice To Defeat Willie

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and challenger Willie Pep wound up training today for Wednesday's fourth edition of their title series at the Polo Grounds.

Saddler, winner in two of three previous meetings, remained a 2 to 1 favorite to do it again in his 15-rounder.

Pep prepared to leave his Hartford, Conn., home for New York tonight after his final four-round drill.

The 25-year-old champ, four years younger than the challenger, also boxed four rounds at his Summit, N. J. camp. He will do road work tomorrow, breaking camp Wednesday morning.

Overshadowed by the Sugar Ray Robinson-Randy Turpin fight two weeks ago, the contest has not generated as much excitement as their earlier scraps. It may catch on in the final days.

A gate of between $75,000 and $100,000 is expected by the International Boxing Club which has a profitable movie and theater television deal on the side. The movies will bring $100,000 and the theater TV rights from 17 theaters in 13 cities outside of New York represent $10,000.

The IBC announced 15,000 seats in the upper stands will go on sale for $2.00 at the ball park the night of the fight. This is one of the lowest prices in recent years for a title fight.

Bi-State Special Session Is Called

Hyndman Protests Ruling On Sunday

A special meeting has been called by President Carl "Pete" Dicken for Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Frostburg American Legion Home to discuss Sunday's Bi-State Baseball League game at Westernport in which Westvaco rallied for five runs in the 9th inning and defeated Hyndman 8-7 to annex the playoff series and the league championship for 1951.

Dicken announces that Hyndman has protested a play at third base in which Manager Frank Patrone of Westvaco was involved.

According to the league president, Patrone was trapped off third base on an attempted squeeze play. The catcher threw the ball to Bobby Shaffer, third sacker, but Patrone is alleged to have run out of the base line to get back safely to third base.

Umpire Diaz at third base, called Patrone safe. Eddie Thompson, plate umpire, ruled that Patrone was out for running out of the base line. Patrone scored what later proved to be the winning run on Muir's hit.

President Dicken asks Umpires Thompson, Diaz and Davis, Managers Patrone and Scarpelli, Bobby Shaffer, Dr. Koplovitz, league vice president to meet with him Wednesday night in Frostburg.

Giants Defeat Braves, Slash Dodgers' Lead

Trail Brooklyn By 2½ Games, Koslo Notches Tenth, 4-3

NE WYORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—The relentless New York Giants slashed idle Brooklyn's lead to 2½ games today with a 4-3 victory over Boston that fired new hope in their long shot pennant chances.

Brooklyn still needed any combination of four wins or New York defeats to clinch the National League championship. Both the Dodgers and the Giants finish up on the road.

Eddie Stanky, whose error opened the door for a two-run Boston rally in the fourth, struck the winning blow with a ninth-inning single.

Tied 3-3 going to the last of the ninth with young Chet Nichols blazing an eight-strikeout game, Don Mueller opened with a single. Manager Leo Durocher sent in Dave Williams to run for Mueller.

Billy Rigney, batting for Wes Westrum, moved Williams to second with an effective sacrifice bunt. Ray Noble popped out as a pinch hitter for the second out.

Stanky then singled off the glove of third baseman Sibby Sisti, who just moved over from shortstop in the eighth, and Williams scooted home with the winning run.

Sheldon Jones dueled with the Braves' 20-year-old southpaw in the early innings. Dave Koslo, who came in when the Braves knocked out Jones in the sixth, won his 10th game. It was Nichols' ninth loss. Box:

AL Prepared For Playoff

Dates Set In Case Race Ends In Tie

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—Although it doesn't seem the New York Yankees will be caught, the American League today arranged a playoff program in the event the Cleveland Indians or Boston Red Sox should squeeze into a pennant tie.

Now trailing by two and a half games with only three games left, second-place Cleveland did the best in the coin-tossing ceremony in the office of league president Will Harridge. The three top contenders were represented by writers from wire services.

If Cleveland ties with either New York or Boston in a two-club deadlock, either opponent would have to come to Cleveland for an Oct. 1 single playoff game.

If Boston somehow should erase its five-game lag and tie New York, that playoff would be held at Boston, also Oct. 1.

In the coin-flipping to determine order of play in event of a three-club tie, Cleveland drew a bye which left New York and Boston to face in a first playoff at New York Oct. 1. The winner then would be host to Cleveland the following day.

The world series is scheduled to start Wednesday, Oct. 3 in the American League city if New York or Boston wins and Thursday, Oct. 4, if Cleveland wins.

Horse Trainers Deny Racers' Tails Were Tied To Starting Gate In Ohio

Starter Says Holding Tail Common Practice

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24 (AP)—A parade of horse trainers today denied to the Ohio Racing Commission that tails of racers at Hamilton (O.) Race Track had been tied to starting gates.

"I've raced at Cincinnati, Hamilton, Columbus and at Ascot Park (Akron)," said E. C. Bunting of Olney, Ill., "and I've never seen any instances of tail-tying or any other mistreatment."

Bunting's testimony came in a commission investigation of charges by George T. Becknell of Emory, Texas, that his horse "Detroit Tiger" was tied to a Hamilton starting gate by its tail, Aug. 22.

Bunting's denial of tail-tying was supported by 11 other trainers who testified before the commission in a hearing at nearby Beulah Park.

Bunting's testimony was nearly a pattern for all the trainers who were questioned by Hugh Shearer, assistant attorney general.

Robert O. Read of Columbus, president of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association and counsel for Becknell, sat silent. Becknell did not show up for the hearing.

The commission also heard testimony in the case of Frank Duke of Los Angeles, trainer who has been suspended for striking an assistant starter at Hamilton Sept. 3.

Duke admitted he struck Victor Swanson of New Orleans but said he did so after he caught Swanson tying the tail of his horse, "Stepping Dell," to a bar on the starting gate.

Duke said he jumped over the track rail and asked Swanson to free his horse.

"Is asked him either to scratch the horse or to let him go," said Duke.

He said Swanson told him to mind his own business. The blow followed.

Swanson testified no one said anything to him before the blow. He said he was merely holding up the horse's tail so it could not rear in the gate. This, he said, is common practice.

Weak-Hitting Yankees Near Third Straight AL Pennant

Stengelmen Have Only One .300 Slugger

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Casey Stengel was close to his third straight pennant today with only one .300 hitter and no 100 RBI man on his New York Yankee club.

Actually the Yanks were nearer to the clinching than Brooklyn, practically conceded the National League flag in mid-summer. The New York Giants continue to give the Dodgers fits down the stretch while the Yank opposition falters.

Needing only three more wins or Cleveland defeats to nail it down, Stengel rested his Yanks today for the final six-game dash to the wire.

Shantz vs. Kuzava

Bob Kuzava (11-6), used only in relief since Aug. 9, was named to face Philadelphia's Bobby Shantz (17-9) in a stadium battle of lefthanders tomorrow. Stengel hesitated to take Kuzava out of the bullpen for he has been his most effective fireman. He's 1-0 against the A's since he was traded to New York by Washington June 15.

The Yanks expect trouble from Shantz, a five-foot-seven inch toughie who has beaten them three times. Manager Jimmy Dykes was prepared to shoot the works with Morris Martin (11-4) if Shantz was off form.

This diet of lefthanders offered no relief for Yogi Berra who has gone 15 for 0 at bat lately. Perhaps birth of his second son last night at Holy Name hospital in Teaneck, N. J., will lift him out of his slump.

Cleveland, with only three games to play, faces Chicago in a night game at Comiskey Park tomorrow with Early Wynn (20-12) to face Lefty Billy Pierce (14-14), another toughie. Boston, five games behind and practically eliminated, plays a night game at Washington tomorrow.

Brooks In Twin Bill

Idle Brooklyn lined up Clem Labine (4-1) and Carl Erskine (16-10) to face the Braves tomorrow night in a twi-night doubleheader at Boston. The Braves will use Warren Spahn (21-13) and Jim Wilson (6-6) or Dave Cole (2-4).

The Giants will pitch Jim Hearn (15-9) against Robin Roberts (21-12) at Philadelphia.

If the Yanks go on to win, this probably will be recognized as Stengel's greatest triumph. For this has been a skillful job of piecing together a club that never was "set" all season.

Still Stengel kept their heads above water, shook off seeming disaster and opened up a 2½ game lead with a week to go . . . their best lead since May 17.

Toler, Kauffman To Pitch In Series

A post-season series between Corriganville, champions of the County Softball League, and Wellersburg of the same circuit, will get under way Wednesday at 5:45 p. m.

All of the games of the best-of-three series will be staged at Corriganville.

The second contest is set for Friday at 5:45.

Frank Toler, pitching ace of the Hercules Powder Company team, champions of the Industrial League and winner of the recent Western Maryland softball tournament, will pitch for Wellersburg for whom he formerly starred in the County League. Glenn Kauffman, a 33-game winner this season will be on the firing line for Corriganville.

Umpires To Meet At Moose Tomorrow

The Tri-State Umpires Association will hold its final business session tomorrow at the Loyal Order of Moose home, Beall Street, at 8 p. m., President Russ Minnicks announced last night. Minnicks said it was imperative that all arbiters of the Interstate and Pen-Mar Leagues attend this meeting.

AHS-Ridgeley To Clash 12th Time Friday

Beall Meets Keyser; LaSalle At Pittsburgh

Allegany and Ridgeley will clash for the 12th time on the gridiron Friday night at Fort Hill stadium with the Campers on the rebound from a 7-0 defeat at the hands of an Alumni aggregation Saturday. Game time is 8 p. m.

In the 11 clashes played to date between the two elevens Allegany has emerged the victor nine times while Ridgeley won one and tied the Campers once.

This will be the only game for a Cumberland school in the stadium this week as Fort Hill is idle and LaSalle High plays St. Justin's High at Moore Field, Brookline, Pittsburgh, Pa., Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Won 33-6 Last Year

Allegany defeated Ridgeley 33-6 last year and Coach Bob Pence's gridders have trounced Beall 36-6 and lost to the Grads this season. Ridgeley has won two straight this year, defeating an Alumni eleven 20-19 and Circleville 44-6. Past series:

1940—Allegany 21, Ridgeley 6
1941—Allegany 13, Ridgeley 0
1942—Allegany 47, Ridgeley 0
1943—Allegany 47, Ridgeley 6
1944—Allegany 25, Ridgeley 0
1945—Allegany 19, Ridgeley 0
1946—Allegany 7, Ridgeley 7 (tie)
1947—Ridgeley 26, Allegany 6
1948—Allegany 46, Ridgeley 0
1949—Allegany 26, Ridgeley 6
1950—Allegany 33, Ridgeley 6

LaSalle's game with St. Justin's Sunday will mark the second meeting of the two teams, the Explorers having won the only meeting to date 18-0 in 1948. Coach Phil Carolan's charges have won one of two games this season, stopping St. Wendelin's High of Pittsburgh, 13-6, and losing to another Pittsburgh eleven, St. Mary's of the Mount, 12-6. Johnstown Catholic defeated St. Justin Friday, 33-26.

Moorefield At Petersburg

In other games scheduled Friday Moorefield will be striving for their third straight win at Petersburg and Romney High's Pioneers will play host to Franklin which held Keyser to a scoreless tie last week. Both contests are Potomac Valley Conference tilts. Also scheduled Friday is Thomas at Circleville.

Moorefield and Romney shared the PVC title in 1950. The Pioneers defeated Berkeley Springs 12-7 for their only win in two starts this season. Charles Town tied Romney last Saturday 12-12. Moorefield holds wins over Greenbank, 26-13, and Thomas, 33-7, after losing their opener to Fort Hill, 20-7.

Saturday will find Coach Joe Hoopengardner's Beall High squad at Keyser to battle Fred "Tack" Clark's punchless Golden Tornado.

The Mountaineers have split two games, losing to Allegany 33-6 and defeating James Wood of Winchester, Va., 13-6. Keyser has lost two and tied one, scoring only one touchdown in its three games, dropping tilts to Morgantown, 13-0, and Charles Town, 26-6, while tying Franklin 0-0.

Team's Fourth Meeting

This will be the fourth clash between the two teams, with Beall leading the series, 2-1, having copped the 1948 and 1950 battles. Keyser won in 1949. The past series:

1948—Beall 7, Keyser 6
1949—Keyser 19, Beall 12
1950—Beall 41, Keyser 0

In another Saturday clash Parsons (2-1) is at Belington where the Panthers will attempt to avenge last year's 45-0 trouncing at the hands of the Belington eleven. Parsons lost its first game this season Friday when Kingwood toppled them 18-13.

LaVale Team Is Shut Out By Kauffman

Glenn Registers 33rd Win, 2-0, In Fifth Contest Of Series

Corriganville won its first championship in the County Softball League yesterday by taking the fifth and deciding game of the final playoff series from LaVale by the score of 2 to 0.

LaVale won the first and fourth games of the series, 8-4 and 4-1. Corriganville captured the second and third contests, 7-4 and 11-1. The Corgs eliminated Potomac Valley's Cubs in two straight games in the playoff semi-finals after winning the pennant with a 28-7 record, seven full games in front of the runner-up LaVale team.

The "rubber" game was marked by some of the best fielding plays witnessed in the league this season as Glenn Kauffman emerged the winner over Junior Brelsford in a neat mound duel.

Corriganville scored its first run in the opening frame when Bill Clites singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch, took third on George Cook's sacrifice and came home on "Red" Whitman's long foul fly which Leasure caught after one out. Whitman hit a homer over the right fielder's head for the final marker in the sixth frame.

The victory was the thirty-third for Kauffman, who lost seven games. His record for the regular league campaign was 28-5 and in the playoffs he won five and lost two. He limited LaVale to four singles in yesterday's contest.

Lloyd W. Kline managed the championship team which was sponsored by Corriganville Post of the American Legion. Box:

Good Offensive Elevens Spark Fort Hill Rise

Sentinels Blanked Once In 5 Years

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks, although not a powerhouse on the tri-state gridirons, holds the distinction of being the only football team to blank Coach Bill Hahn's Fort Hill High's perennial champions in the past five years.

Hahn-coached elevens have sparkled offensively since Bill returned from Uncle Sam's Navy in 1946 to take over the reins of the Sentinels who had not captured a city championship since 1940.

Teams Began To Roll

And the Sentinels began to roll on the gridiron with Hahn's return. Although the 19-game winning streak held by Alegany High twice eluded Fort Hill elevens, the Red and White machine has set other enviable marks that will probably stand for some time on the record books.

Among these records is that of not losing a game at home in the Fort Hill Stadium for 37 consecutive contests, scoring 361 points in one season—1949—and having scored in 43 straight games both at home and away—a record which is still progressing.

The consecutive scoring mark began in Fort Hill's seventh game in 1946 after they played a scoreless tie in the mud and rain with Ridgeley High, then coached by Jesse Riggleman, now Petersburg High mentor.

Score 1,484 Points

Working the split-T almost to perfection in the five years since 1946 Fort Hill elevens scored two or more touchdowns in every game played except the Ridgeley deadlock and a 6-6 tie with Allegany in the 1948 Thanksgiving Day fracas.

The Sentinels have compiled an amazing 1,484 points in 50 games in the past five years including three played this season. That's an average of 29.68 points per game.

And that four-touchdown average, spearheaded by a hard-running backfield, has captured four city titles outright and a share of the fifth in five seasons, as the Sentinels chalked up 43 victories, lost four and played three ties.

Oregon Cage Coach Resigns

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 24 (AP)—John Warren, Oregon basketball coach, resigned today in a move that caught the campus by surprise.

Two years ago there were rumors that Warren was on his way out, but last year his team was a title contender in the Coast Conference Northern Division until the final series of the season, being nosed out by Washington. That boosted Warren's stand and the rumors stopped.

AFL Pari-Mutuel Employes' Union Seeks Agreement

Charge Conspiracy By Reckord, Shapiro

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—AFL pari-mutuel employes at Laurel and Pimlico race tracks today empowered their negotiating committee to take whatever action it finds necessary to force the tracks to recognize their union as bargaining agent.

This could mean a strike at the tracks' betting windows during their fall meetings if the question is not settled by then.

Edward H. Johns, executive secretary of the Baltimore Federation of Labor, told about 150 track employes he will meet with Gov. McKeldin Wednesday morning to seek his aid in settling the question peacefully.

But he warned that "if some agreement is not reached, there will be a strike. I dislike such an action, but if they force us to, we will go out."

Johns accused Brig. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, president of Pimlico, and John D. Shapiro, owner of Laurel, of forming a conspiracy to break down the local union of mutuel clerks. The local is seeking bargaining rights for 250 union employes.

The two tracks already have signed agreements with the Independent Association of Pari-Mutuel Employes of Maryland. The contract grants a blanket five per cent salary increase above the wages paid mutuel employes during the spring meetings.

Johns called the independent group a "company union."

He did not indicate what he would talk about with McKeldin.

The negotiating committee consists of Johns as negotiator; John Flynn, local president; Charles Robson, Isadore Sinskey, Clarence Cunningham, and Harvey J. Nicholson.

Frostburg Booters Open Oct. 3; Corriganville Wins Title

Six Opponents On Bobcats' 1951 Schedule

Eight Lettermen On Squad; Towson Will Be Opening Foe

Frostburg State Teachers soccer team will open a tough six-game schedule at Towson Wednesday, Oct. 3, Coach Kenneth Babcock announced last night.

Always a strong contender for the mythical state teachers college soccer title, Frostburg will have eight lettermen and five other holdovers returning to this season's squad.

Eight Lettermen Return

Coach Babcock began practice on opening day of school, Sept. 11, and is building his 1951 eleven around these returning veterans and Freshman Jimmy Byrnes, LaSalle High School graduate who has showed much promise. Byrnes, although he played no soccer previously, has come along nicely, Babcock added and although inexperienced will probably see much action during the year.

Lettermen include Don and Dave Lewis, Ray Ralston, Sam and Wayne Layman, Bill Pugh, Bob Thomas and Sam Lisanti. Returning holdovers who were on last year's squad but failed to earn letters are Bill Leonard, Harold Scott, Jim Jones, Vaughn Dullabaum and Lee Simth.

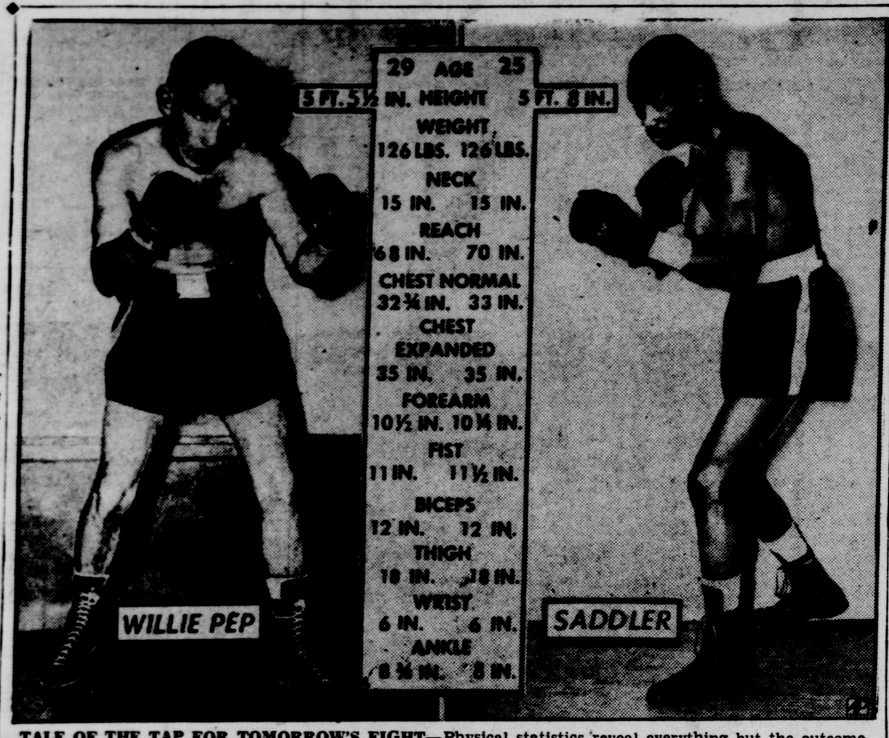
Despite the returning nucleus for this season Coach Babcock still faces a rebuilding job with the loss of such key players as Goalie John Frank, Fullback Bill Sonnenberg, Halfbacks Roy Pepper and Bill Best and Wingman Bill Kildow.

All Games Away

The 1950 eleven won six games and lost three and dropped the state title when defeated by Salisbury 3-1. This year's squad will battle Towson State Teachers, Salisbury, Grove City, Pa., Indiana, Pa., State Teachers, University of Virginia at Charlottesville and Slippery Rock, Pa., State Teachers.

Because of the lack of a home field the Frostburg eleven will play all its games on the road, Coach Babcock pointed out, playing their games on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays. The schedule:

Wed., Oct. 3—At Towson
Wed., Oct. 10—Salisbury at Towson
Fri., Oct. 19—At Grove City, Pa.
Sat., Oct. 27—At Indiana, Pa.
Sat., Nov. 3—U. of Va. at Charlottesville
Fri., Nov. 9—At Slippery Rock, Pa.



TALE OF THE TAP FOR TOMORROW'S FIGHT—Physical statistics reveal everything but the outcome of the battle as contender Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., and World Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler of New York shape up for their title bout in New York's Polo Grounds on Wednesday, September 26. Saddler is a 2 to 1 choice.

Giants Defeat Braves, Slash Dodgers' Lead

Trail Brooklyn By 2½ Games, Koslo Notches Tenth, 4-3

NE WYORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—The relentless New York Giants slashed idle Brooklyn's lead to 2½ games today with a 4-3 victory over Boston that fired new hope in their long shot pennant chances.

Brooklyn still needed any combination of four wins or New York defeats to clinch the National League championship. Both the Dodgers and the Giants finish up on the road.

Eddie Stanky, whose error opened the door for a two-run Boston rally in the fourth, struck the winning blow with a ninth-inning single.

Tied 3-3 going to the last of the ninth with young Chet Nichols blazing an eight-strikeout game, Don Mueller opened with a single. Manager Leo Durocher sent in Dave Williams to run for Mueller.

Billy Rigney, batting for Wes Westrum, moved Williams to second with an effective sacrifice bunt. Ray Noble popped out as a pinch hitter for the second out.

Stanky then singled off the glove of third baseman Sibby Sisti, who just moved over from shortstop in the eighth, and Williams scooted home with the winning run.

Sheldon Jones dueled with the Braves' 20-year-old southpaw in the early innings. Dave Koslo, who came in when the Braves knocked out Jones in the sixth, won his 10th game. It was Nichols' ninth loss. Box:

LaVale Team Is Shut Out By Kauffman

Glenn Registers 33rd Win, 2-0, In Fifth Contest Of Series

Corriganville won its first championship in the County Softball League yesterday by taking the fifth and deciding game of the final playoff series from LaVale by the score of 2 to 0.

LaVale won the first and fourth games of the series, 8-4 and 4-1. Corriganville captured the second and third contests, 7-4 and 11-1. The Corgs eliminated Potomac Valley's Cubs in two straight games in the playoff semi-finals after winning the pennant with a 28-7 record, seven full games in front of the runner-up LaVale team.

The "rubber" game was marked by some of the best fielding plays witnessed in the league this season as Glenn Kauffman emerged the winner over Junior Brelsford in a neat mound duel.

Corriganville scored its first run in the opening frame when Bill Clites singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch, took third on George Cook's sacrifice and came home on "Red" Whitman's long foul fly which Leasure caught after one out. Whitman hit a homer over the right fielder's head for the final marker in the sixth frame.

The victory was the thirty-third for Kauffman, who lost seven games. His record for the regular league campaign was 28-5 and in the playoffs he won five and lost two. He limited LaVale to four singles in yesterday's contest.

Lloyd W. Kline managed the championship team which was sponsored by Corriganville Post of the American Legion. Box:

Sportsmen To Meet Crump Stingy Fella

Edmund Wicht Passes Bets Up Six Million

By C. V. BURNS

Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, reports that the following subjects are among those that will be submitted for discussion at a public hearing at the City Hall auditorium here Friday, October 12, at 7:30 p. m.:

Extend the present closing date on trout fishing from July 15 to November 15. In other words the trout season would be from April 15 to November. Mr. Vaughn feels that this is a wise suggestion since there is a large holdover of trout after the season closes on July 15 which are lost due to lack of water.

Change the size limit on trout from 7 to 6 inches. (This does not mean a change in hatchery operations and reduction in size of fish produced).

Reduce creel limit, all species of trout, from the present 10 to 5. In extending the season for the taking of trout to November 15, the commission feels that the daily creel limit should be reduced to five inasmuch as Maryland is stocking larger fish than neighboring states and Vaughn feels that any good sound-thinking sportsman will agree that five large trout per day is an ample return for the price of a license.

Other proposed regulations to be discussed include:

Open season on bass, June 1, in Garrett county.

Close season on wild turkey, state-wide, except in Allegany and Washington counties.

Three holes-in-one have been chalked up at the Oakland Country Club in Garrett County this year. This is a new record for the Oakland course.

R. A. Dunn of Madison, N. J., an employe of a coal company at Crellin, got the third ace of the season on hole No. 4. The distance was 173 yards.

Neddie's Doll, owned by Enoch Price of Frostburg, ran one mile and a sixteenth last Friday in 1:48 1-5, which is one-fifth of a second off the record for the Wheeling Downs track.

The payoff was $23.80 for $2.

No track records have been equalled or broken at Wheeling's current session.

How's this for an earned run average?

Bob "Lefty" Crump, of the Mt. Savage Braves, champions of the Pen-Mar Baseball League, pitched 61⅓ innings, yielded 12 runs, six of which were earned and had a record of five wins and three losses.

His earned run average is 0.882 per nine inning ball game.

Funeral services were held yesterday at Plymouth, Pa., for Edmund C. Wicht, one of Pennsylvania's best known school athletic officials.

Mr. Wicht, better known as "Big Ed" served for 22 years as the P. I. A. A. executive secretary. The P. I. A. A. supervises schoolboy athletics in the Keystone State. He died last Thursday.

Much of the success of the annual state basketball championship tournaments is attributed to the untiring efforts of Wicht.

Saddler, Pep End Training For Title Go

Saddler 2-1 Choice To Defeat Willie

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and challenger Willie Pep wound up training today for Wednesday's fourth edition of their title series at the Polo Grounds.

Saddler, winner in two of three previous meetings, remained a 2 to 1 favorite to do it again in his 15-rounder.

Pep prepared to leave his Hartford, Conn., home for New York tonight after his final four-round drill.

The 25-year-old champ, four years younger than the challenger, also boxed four rounds at his Summit, N. J. camp. He will do road work tomorrow, breaking camp Wednesday morning.

Overshadowed by the Sugar Ray Robinson-Randy Turpin fight two weeks ago, the contest has not generated as much excitement as their earlier scraps. It may catch on in the final days.

A gate of between $75,000 and $100,000 is expected by the International Boxing Club which has a profitable movie and theater television deal on the side. The movies will bring $100,000 and the theater TV rights from 17 theaters in 13 cities outside of New York represent $10,000.

The IBC announced 15,000 seats in the upper stands will go on sale for $2.00 at the ball park the night of the fight. This is one of the lowest prices in recent years for a title fight.

Weak-Hitting Yankees Near Third Straight AL Pennant

Stengelmen Have Only One .300 Slugger

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Casey Stengel was close to his third straight pennant today with only one .300 hitter and no 100 RBI man on his New York Yankee club.

Actually the Yanks were nearer to the clinching than Brooklyn, practically conceded the National League flag in mid-summer. The New York Giants continue to give the Dodgers fits down the stretch while the Yank opposition falters.

Needing only three more wins or Cleveland defeats to nail it down, Stengel rested his Yanks today for the final six-game dash to the wire.

Shantz vs. Kuzava

Bob Kuzava (11-6), used only in relief since Aug. 9, was named to face Philadelphia's Bobby Shantz (17-9) in a stadium battle of lefthanders tomorrow. Stengel hesitated to take Kuzava out of the bullpen for he has been his most effective fireman. He's 1-0 against the A's since he was traded to New York by Washington June 15.

The Yanks expect trouble from Shantz, a five-foot-seven inch toughie who has beaten them three times. Manager Jimmy Dykes was prepared to shoot the works with Morris Martin (11-4) if Shantz was off form.

This diet of lefthanders offered no relief for Yogi Berra who has gone 15 for 0 at bat lately. Perhaps birth of his second son last night at Holy Name hospital in Teaneck, N. J., will lift him out of his slump.

Cleveland, with only three games to play, faces Chicago in a night game at Comiskey Park tomorrow with Early Wynn (20-12) to face Lefty Billy Pierce (14-14), another toughie. Boston, five games behind and practically eliminated, plays a night game at Washington tomorrow.

Brooks In Twin Bill

Idle Brooklyn lined up Clem Labine (4-1) and Carl Erskine (16-10) to face the Braves tomorrow night in a twi-night doubleheader at Boston. The Braves will use Warren Spahn (21-13) and Jim Wilson (6-6) or Dave Cole (2-4).

The Giants will pitch Jim Hearn (15-9) against Robin Roberts (21-12) at Philadelphia.

If the Yanks go on to win, this probably will be recognized as Stengel's greatest triumph. For this has been a skillful job of piecing together a club that never was "set" all season.

Still Stengel kept their heads above water, shook off seeming disaster and opened up a 2½ game lead with a week to go . . . their best lead since May 17.

AL Prepared For Playoff

Dates Set In Case Race Ends In Tie

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—Although it doesn't seem the New York Yankees will be caught, the American League today arranged a playoff program in the event the Cleveland Indians or Boston Red Sox should squeeze into a pennant tie.

Now trailing by two and a half games with only three games left, second-place Cleveland did the best in the coin-tossing ceremony in the office of league president Will Harridge. The three top contenders were represented by writers from wire services.

If Cleveland ties with either New York or Boston in a two-club deadlock, either opponent would have to come to Cleveland for an Oct. 1 single playoff game.

If Boston somehow should erase its five-game lag and tie New York, that playoff would be held at Boston, also Oct. 1.

In the coin-flipping to determine order of play in event of a three-club tie, Cleveland drew a bye which left New York and Boston to face in a first playoff at New York Oct. 1. The winner then would be host to Cleveland the following day.

The world series is scheduled to start Wednesday, Oct. 3 in the American League city if New York or Boston wins and Thursday, Oct. 4, if Cleveland wins.

Toler, Kauffman To Pitch In Series

A post-season series between Corriganville, champions of the County Softball League, and Wellersburg of the same circuit, will get under way Wednesday at 5:45 p. m.

All of the games of the best-of-three series will be staged at Corriganville.

The second contest is set for Friday at 5:45.

Frank Toler, pitching ace of the Hercules Powder Company team, champions of the Industrial League and winner of the recent Western Maryland softball tournament, will pitch for Wellersburg for whom he formerly starred in the County League. Glenn Kauffman, a 33-game winner this season will be on the firing line for Corriganville.

Umpires To Meet At Moose Tomorrow

The Tri-State Umpires Association will hold its final business session tomorrow at the Loyal Order of Moose home, Beall Street, at 8 p. m., President Russ Minnicks announced last night. Minnicks said it was imperative that all arbiters of the Interstate and Pen-Mar Leagues attend this meeting.

AHS-Ridgeley To Clash 12th Time Friday

Beall Meets Keyser; LaSalle At Pittsburgh

Allegany and Ridgeley will clash for the 12th time on the gridiron Friday night at Fort Hill stadium with the Campers on the rebound from a 7-0 defeat at the hands of an Alumni aggregation Saturday. Game time is 8 p. m.

In the 11 clashes played to date between the two elevens Allegany has emerged the victor nine times while Ridgeley won one and tied the Campers once.

This will be the only game for a Cumberland school in the stadium this week as Fort Hill is idle and LaSalle High plays St. Justin's High at Moore Field, Brookline, Pittsburgh, Pa., Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Won 33-6 Last Year

Allegany defeated Ridgeley 33-6 last year and Coach Bob Pence's gridders have trounced Beall 36-6 and lost to the Grads this season. Ridgeley has won two straight this year, defeating an Alumni eleven 20-19 and Circleville 44-6. Past series:

1940—Allegany 21, Ridgeley 6
1941—Allegany 13, Ridgeley 0
1942—Allegany 47, Ridgeley 0
1943—Allegany 47, Ridgeley 6
1944—Allegany 25, Ridgeley 0
1945—Allegany 19, Ridgeley 0
1946—Allegany 7, Ridgeley 7 (tie)
1947—Ridgeley 26, Allegany 6
1948—Allegany 46, Ridgeley 0
1949—Allegany 26, Ridgeley 6
1950—Allegany 33, Ridgeley 6

LaSalle's game with St. Justin's Sunday will mark the second meeting of the two teams, the Explorers having won the only meeting to date 18-0 in 1948. Coach Phil Carolan's charges have won one of two games this season, stopping St. Wendelin's High of Pittsburgh, 13-6, and losing to another Pittsburgh eleven, St. Mary's of the Mount, 12-6. Johnstown Catholic defeated St. Justin Friday, 33-26.

Moorefield At Petersburg

In other games scheduled Friday Moorefield will be striving for their third straight win at Petersburg and Romney High's Pionees will play host to Franklin which held Keyser to a scoreless tie last week. Both contests are Potomac Valley Conference tilts. Also scheduled Friday is Thomas at Circleville.

Moorefield and Romney shared the PVC title in 1950. The Pioneers defeated Berkeley Springs 12-7 for their only win in two starts this season. Charles Town tied Romney last Saturday 12-12. Moorefield holds wins over Greenbank, 26-13, and Thomas, 33-7, after losing their opener to Fort Hill, 20-7.

Saturday will find Coach Joe Hoopengardner's Beall High squad at Keyser to battle Fred "Tack" Clark's punchless Golden Tornado.

The Mountaineers have split two games, losing to Allegany 33-6 and defeating James Wood of Winchester, Va., 13-6. Keyser has lost two and tied one, scoring only one touchdown in its three games, dropping tilts to Morgantown, 13-0, and Charles Town, 26-6, while tying Franklin 0-0.

Team's Fourth Meeting

This will be the fourth clash between the two teams, with Beall leading the series, 2-1, having copped the 1948 and 1950 battles. Keyser won in 1949. The past series:

1948—Beall 7, Keyser 6
1949—Keyser 19, Beall 12
1950—Beall 41, Keyser 0

In another Saturday clash Parsons (2-1) is at Belington where the Panthers will attempt to avenge last year's 45-0 trouncing at the hands of the Belington eleven. Parsons lost its first game this season Friday when Kingwood toppled them 18-13.

Good Offensive Elevens Spark Fort Hill Rise

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks, although not a powerhouse on the tri-state gridirons, holds the distinction of being the only football team to blank Coach Bill Hahn's Fort Hill High's perennial champions in the past five years.

Hahn-coached elevens have sparkled offensively since Bill returned from Uncle Sam's Navy in 1946 to take over the reins of the Sentinels who had not captured a city championship since 1940.

Teams Began To Roll

And the Sentinels began to roll on the gridiron with Hahn's return. Although the 19-game winning streak held by Alegany High twice eluded Fort Hill elevens, the Red and White machine has set other enviable marks that will probably stand for some time on the record books.

Among these records is that of not losing a game at home in the Fort Hill Stadium for 37 consecutive contests, scoring 361 points in one season—1949—and having scored in 43 straight games both at home and away—a record which is still progressing.

The consecutive scoring mark began in Fort Hill's seventh game in 1946 after they played a scoreless tie in the mud and rain with Ridgeley High, then coached by Jesse Riggleman, now Petersburg High mentor.

Score 1,484 Points

Working the split-T almost to perfection in the five years since 1946 Fort Hill elevens scored two or more touchdowns in every game played except the Ridgeley deadlock and a 6-6 tie with Allegany in the 1948 Thanksgiving Day fracas.

The Sentinels have compiled an amazing 1,484 points in 50 games in the past five years including three played this season. That's an average of 29.68 points per game.

And that four-touchdown average, spearheaded by a hard-running backfield, has captured four city titles outright and a share of the fifth in five seasons, as the Sentinels chalked up 43 victories, lost four and played three ties.

Oregon Cage Coach Resigns

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 24 (AP)—John Warren, Oregon basketball coach, resigned today in a move that caught the campus by surprise.

Two years ago there were rumors that Warren was on his way out, but last year his team was a title contender in the Coast Conference Northern Division until the final series of the season, being nosed out by Washington. That boosted Warren's stand and the rumors stopped.

AFL Pari-Mutuel Employes' Union Seeks Agreement

Charge Conspiracy By Reckord, Shapiro

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—AFL pari-mutuel employes at Laurel and Pimlico race tracks today empowered their negotiating committee to take whatever action it finds necessary to force the tracks to recognize their union as bargaining agent.

This could mean a strike at the tracks' betting windows during their fall meetings if the question is not settled by then.

Edward H. Johns, executive secretary of the Baltimore Federation of Labor, told about 150 track employes he will meet with Gov. McKeldin Wednesday morning to seek his aid in settling the question peacefully.

But he warned that "if some agreement is not reached, there will be a strike. I dislike such an action, but if they force us to, we will go out."

Johns accused Brig. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, president of Pimlico, and John D. Shapiro, owner of Laurel, of forming a conspiracy to break down the local union of mutuel clerks. The local is seeking bargaining rights for 250 union employes.

The two tracks already have signed agreements with the Independent Association of Pari-Mutuel Employes of Maryland. The contract grants a blanket five per cent salary increase above the wages paid mutuel employes during the spring meetings.

Johns called the independent group a "company union."

He did not indicate what he would talk about with McKeldin.

The negotiating committee consists of Johns as negotiator; John Flynn, local president; Charles Robson, Isadore Sinskey, Clarence Cunningham, and Harvey J. Nicholson.

Horse Trainers Deny Racers' Tails Were Tied To Starting Gate In Ohio

Starter Says Holding Tail Common Practice

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24 (AP)—A parade of horse trainers today denied to the Ohio Racing Commission that tails of racers at Hamilton (O.) Race Track had been tied to starting gates.

"I've raced at Cincinnati, Hamilton, Columbus and at Ascot Park (Akron)," said E. C. Bunting of Olney, Ill., "and I've never seen any instances of tail-tying or any other mistreatment."

Bunting's testimony came in a commission investigation of charges by George T. Becknell of Emory, Texas, that his horse "Detroit Tiger" was tied to a Hamilton starting gate by its tail, Aug. 22.

Bunting's denial of tail-tying was supported by 11 other trainers who testified before the commission in a hearing at nearby Beulah Park.

Bunting's testimony was nearly a pattern for all the trainers who were questioned by Hugh Shearer, assistant attorney general.

Robert O. Read of Columbus, president of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association and counsel for Becknell, sat silent. Becknell did not show up for the hearing.

The commission also heard testimony in the case of Frank Duke of Los Angeles, trainer who has been suspended for striking an assistant starter at Hamilton Sept. 3.

Duke admitted he struck Victor Swanson of New Orleans but said he did so after he caught Swanson tying the tail of his horse, "Stepping Dell," to a bar on the starting gate.

Duke said he jumped over the track rail and asked Swanson to free his horse.

"Is asked him either to scratch the horse or to let him go," said Duke.

He said Swanson told him to mind his own business. The blow followed.

Swanson testified no one said anything to him before the blow. He said he was merely holding up the horse's tail so it could not rear in the gate. This, he said, is common practice.

Bi-State Special Session Is Called

Hyndman Protests Ruling On Sunday

A special meeting has been called by President Carl "Pete" Dicken for Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Frostburg American Legion Home to discuss Sunday's Bi-State Baseball League game at Westernport in which Westvaco rallied for five runs in the 9th inning and defeated Hyndman 8-7 to annex the playoff series and the league championship for 1951.

Dicken announces that Hyndman has protested a play at third base in which Manager Frank Patrone of Westvaco was involved.

According to the league president, Patrone was trapped off third base on an attempted squeeze play. The catcher threw the ball to Bobby Shaffer, third sacker, but Patrone is alleged to have run out of the base line to get back safely to third base.

Umpire Diaz at third base, called Patrone safe. Eddie Thompson, plate umpire, ruled that Patrone was out for running out of the base line. Patrone scored what later proved to be the winning run on Muir's hit.

President Dicken asks Umpires Thompson, Diaz and Davis, Managers Patrone and Scarpelli, Bobby Shaffer, Dr. Koplovitz, league vice president to meet with him Wednesday night in Frostburg.

Garrett Is Named Director At Laurel

LAUREL, Md., Sept. 24 (AP) — George A. Garrett, former U. S. minister to Ireland, was named today to replace the late Stephen Early as a director of the Laurel race track.

Garrett is a breeder and owner of thoroughbreds. He operates Chilly Bleak Farm in Marshall, Va., for breeding. Four of his horses will race at Laurel starting Oct. 10 under Trainer W. Randolph Taylor of Beryville, Va.

Garrett is in the investment banking business in Washington. He was appointed in 1947 to be minister to Ireland from where he recently returned.

Baltimore Colts Gone But Melody Lingers On

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts are gone, but their melody lingers on.

Baltimoreans still are eager professional football fans even though the Colts lost their National League franchise after last season.

They're organizing a special train trip to Philadelphia on Oct. 6 to see the Eagles and San Francisco 49ers. And traveling with them will be the Colt band which didn't turn in its uniforms.

Cianelli Is Injured

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—Dave Cianelli, Maryland's prize line-backer, was hobbling around with a cane today and apparently will be sidelined Saturday when the Terps open the season against Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.

Cianelli aggravated an old leg injury in the scrimmage last Saturday with Penn and had to be helped off the field. Trainer Wyre said he would know definitely by Wednesday whether Cianelli could make the trip.

Byers Appointed NCAA Executive Director

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—Appointment of Walter Byers, National Collegiate Athletic Association and Big Ten administrative aide the past four years, to fill the newly-created post of executive director of the NCAA was announced today.

It was also disclosed that the NCAA's executive office would be moved next spring to Kansas City, as also will be the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau now operating in New York.

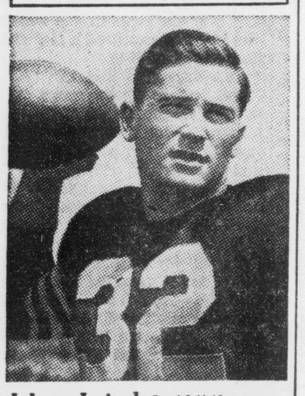
The announcements were made jointly by Hugh C. Willett of Southern California, NCAA president, and Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, NCAA secretary-treasurer.

Berras Have Son

TEANECK, N. J., Sept. 24 (AP)—Carmen Berra, wife of Yankee catcher Yogi Berra, gave birth to a second son here last night. The new arrival will be named Timothy.

The Berra's other son, Larry, Jr., is 20 months old.

FANCY PASSING



Johnny Lujack first hit the country's headlines in college football and then went to further glory with the Chicago Bears. His phenomenal passing in 1949 netted him 2,658 yards — or, roughly, a mile and a half. Johnny tells us he gets pretty good mileage in his car which he always keeps in tip-top condition. "I like something I can depend on — that's why I use 'Prestone' anti-freeze in my car," says Johnny. "I put it in and forget about it right on into Spring. I know my radiator won't freeze up in bitter cold . . . and it won't boil over, no matter how warm it gets between cold spells. It's tops!" One shot lasts all winter. No other anti-freeze gives you the same degree of protection as "Prestone" brand anti-freeze.

You're SET
One shot lasts all winter!

You're SAFE
No rust . . . no foam . . . no freeze . . . no failure!

You're SURE
No other anti-freeze gives the same degree of protection!

Garrett Is Named Director At Laurel

LAUREL, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—George A. Garrett, former U. S. minister to Ireland, was named today to replace the late Stephen Early as a director of the Laurel race track.

Garrett is a breeder and owner of thoroughbreds. He operates Chilly Bleak Farm in Marshall, Va., for breeding. Four of his horses will race at Laurel starting Oct. 10 under Trainer W. Randolph Taylor of Berryville, Va.

Garrett is in the investment banking business in Washington. He was appointed in 1947 to be minister to Ireland from where he recently returned.

Baltimore Colts Gone But Melody Lingers On

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts are gone, but their melody lingers on.

Baltimoreans still are eager professional football fans even though the Colts lost their National League franchise after last season.

They're organizing a special train trip to Philadelphia on Oct. 6 to see the Eagles and San Francisco 49ers. And traveling with them will be the Colt band which didn't turn in its uniforms.

Cianelli Is Injured

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—Dave Cianelli, Maryland's prize line-backer, was hobbling around with a cane today and apparently will be sidelined Saturday when the Terps open the season against Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.

Cianelli aggravated an old leg injury in the scrimmage last Saturday with Penn and had to be helped off the field. Trainer Wyre said he would know definitely by Wednesday whether Cianelli could make the trip.

Byers Appointed NCAA Executive Director

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—Appointment of Walter Byers, National Collegiate Athletic Association and Big Ten administrative aide the past four years, to fill the newly-created post of executive director of the NCAA was announced today.

It was also disclosed that the NCAA's executive office would be moved next spring to Kansas City, as also will be the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau now operating in New York.

The announcements were made jointly by Hugh C. Willett of Southern California, NCAA president, and Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, NCAA secretary-treasurer.

FANCY PASSING

Johnny Lujack first hit the country's headlines in college football and then went to further glory with the Chicago Bears. His phenomenal passing in 1949 netted him 2,658 yards — or, roughly, a mile and a half. Johnny tells us he gets pretty good mileage in his car which he always keeps in tip-top condition. "I like something I can depend on — that's why I use 'Prestone' anti-freeze in my car," says Johnny. "I put it in and forget about it right on into Spring. I know my radiator won't freeze up in bitter cold . . . and it won't boil over, no matter how warm it gets between cold spells. It's tops!" One shot lasts all winter. No other anti-freeze gives you the same degree of protection as "Prestone" brand anti-freeze.

You're SET One shot lasts all winter!

You're SAFE No rust . . . no foam . . . no freeze . . . no failure!

You're SURE No other anti-freeze gives the same degree of protection!

Truck Drivers Arrested In Turnpike Scheme

State Police Charge Cut Rate Arrangement

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania State Police report they have arrested five truck drivers in connection with a scheme they said was devised to get "cut rates" on Pennsylvania's famed Super Highway, a toll turnpike running between eastern and western Pennsylvania.

All five have been charged with forgery and receiving stolen goods.

Three of the men were arrested Saturday and two Sunday. At least one more arrest is expected, a State Police spokesman said.

The men were identified as Henry Edward Hooten, 501 East Second Street, Paoli, Ind.; Robert C. Johnston, 2524 Charles Street, Pittsburgh; Leonard Dewey Calliahn, 1025 36th Street, Parkersburg, W. Va.; John R. Matz, 527 West Master Street, Philadelphia and Paul Checchio, 2203 South Lambert Street, Philadelphia.

The State Police spokesman said the five were arrested after a quiet investigation following the theft of Turnpike requisitions from the Mid-States Freight Lines at Breezewood, Pa., about September 15. He added:

"The ordinary toll charge for trucks on the Turnpike is $12.50 for the trip from King of Prussia, near Philadelphia, to Irwin, near Pittsburgh.

"We got a tip that some drivers were buying these requisitions for $5 apiece. Ultimately, the Mid-States company would have been billed for all the tickets although their drivers and trucks were not using them."

Three of the men — Hooten, Johnston and Calliahn—were released on $500 bond apiece for a hearing at a later date. Police said Matz also expected to be released soon on bail but added that Checchio is being held for additional questioning.

Dr. Shaffer To Be Speaker At Keyser Methodist Rally

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Dr. Frank L. Shaffer, vice president of Westminster Theological Seminary of the Methodist Church will speak at Keyser High School auditorium Sunday at the huge Victory Rally of Moorefield District Methodists. The meeting is expected to have an attendance of approximately 2,000 people of the district.

Dr. Shaffer was elected to the vice presidency in June 1950 and was placed in charge of the Diamond Jubilee development program of the Seminary. Under his direction the seminary plans an expansion program which will provide much needed facilities for an ever-increasing enrollment.

Dr. Shaffer graduated from Westminster Theological Seminary in 1929. The Doctor of Divinity degree was conferred on him in 1941 by Adrian College, Adrian, Mich., and by Western Maryland College in 1945.

A member of the West Virginia Conference since 1925, Dr. Shaffer served pastorates at Candeeville, Morgantown and Clarksburg. For six years he was superintendent of Charleston District, was director of the Crusade for Christ, and for five years was executive secretary of the Board of Pensions of West Virginia Conference. Under his direction the conference raised $640,000 for the Crusade for Christ and $1,000,000 for the pension program.

Dr. Shaffer has been a member of the general Conferences of 1932, 1936, 1940, 1944, 1948, and the Uniting Conference of 1939.

He is a 32 degree Mason and a Kiwanian.

The annual chicken dinner of the unit will be held today at the VFW home, Lonaconing.

New Conduit Will Be Laid In Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—Employes of the City Street Department and of the Potomac Light and Power Company began work at the intersection of North Main and Armstrong Streets, preparatory to placing a conduit underground for carrying electric cable for the four traffic lights at that corner.

A shallow trench was drilled across Armstrong Street on the east side of Main Monday and when this is completed, another crossing will be drilled and the conduit will be placed and the work will continue until connections are made with each of the four traffic lights.

The lights have been out of service for several weeks due to a short circuit in the old conduit.

Mayor Compton Attending School

KEYSER, W. Va.—Mayor Chester J. Compton left Saturday for Springfield, Mass., where he will spend two weeks at the annual two weeks Business Life Insurance School, conducted by the Monarch Life Insurance Company.

The company sometime ago erected a large building especially constructed for the school activities. It adjoins the business administration building of the company.

Congregational Church Secures Electric Organ

Improvement Plan To Cost $5,200

FROSTBURG—The congregation of First Congregational Church, Bowery Street, has purchased a new Wurlitzer electric two manual organ equipped with three octaves and 25 pedals. The instrument will replace the piano now in the auditorium, and will be the first step in a number of improvements to be made within the next two months.

A contract has also been awarded to Seaber Art and Decorating Company, Westernport, for redecorating the church interior. A new indirect lighting system will also be installed.

The estimated cost of the combined improvements has been placed at $52,000.

Rev. J. F. Zimmerman, pastor, stated that the new improvements to be made together with previous work on the property, would total a cost of $10,000 spent on improvements since he assumed the pastorite 20 years ago.

Tentative plans will be discussed by the officers of the church for a membership drive, to be climaxed with a special service during the coming holidays in observance of Rev. Zimmerman's 20 years of service to the church.

Miss Everline Is Married

FROSTBURG — Miss Jane Everline, daughter of Mrs. Mary B. Everline, East College Avenue, Frostburg, and the late Samuel Everline, was married to James V. Blaine, Frazee, Minnesota, on Saturday night, September 15, at Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church, Washington, D. C., with Rev. Robert W. Olewiler officiating.

Miss Athalia Everline, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. June Lilja was bridesmaid. Carl Lilja served as best man.

After the wedding a dinner was held on the terrace of the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, for the bridal party.

The bride is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and taught school for several years in Allegany County. For the past eight years, she has been employed as a laboratory technician with the F. B. I.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Moorehead College, Moorehead, Minnesota, and attended Columbus School of Law in Washington. He is a special agent with the F. B. I.

After a honeymoon through the Southern States, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine will reside in Takoma Park.

Pendleton Co. Boy Dies After Car Hits Pole

A Pendleton County, W. Va., youth, one of a family of 15 brothers and sisters, died Sunday night in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, from injuries received in an auto accident on Route 220.

The victim was Merrill Champ, 17, son of Andrew J. and Ethel (Alt) Champ, of Mouth of Seneca. He is survived by 14 brothers and sisters. One other brother preceded him in death several years ago.

According to Cpl. Frank H. Tribett, of the West Virginia State Police station at Petersburg, Champ and five others were in a car that went out of control at 2 p. m. on the Franklin Pike between Petersburg and Franklin.

The auto, driven by Roosevelt Miller, 19, of near Mouth of Seenca, ran off one side of the road, then careened back across the highway into a utility company pole.

Also taken to Potomac Valley Hospital where they are still patients were the driver, and Martha Self, 15, Zola Self, 17, and Marian Alt, 18, all of Smoke Hole. Not injured was another occupant, a brother of the driver.

The condition of those in the hospital was reported as not being critical.

Committeemen Named For 1951 Luke Fire-Safety Rally

Committeemen for the annual Fire-Safety Rally in the Tri-Towns area have been appointed, John J. Long, director of plant and personnel protection of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke announced yesterday.

This year's program is scheduled for October 10 at the Devon Club theatre in Luke. Included on the program is a demonstration of fire equipment given by the fire companies of that area at 6:30 p. m.

Featuring the rally is a school program which amounts to 4,000 home fire prevention inspection forms being completed with a Junior Fire Chief receiving an award for the best job. Schools participating are Bruce High, St. Peter's High, Howard High, Bloomington, McCoole, Hammond Street, Piedmont Elementary, Piedmont Junior High and Beryl.

At 8 o'clock October 10 the following program is planned:

Motion pictures of the 1950 Baseball World Series between the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Phillies will be shown as well as Factory Mutual Insurance Company's "Know You Fire Extinguishers."

Junior Fire Chiefs awards will be presented as well as National Safety Council award pins.

Community committeemen appointed are John J. Long, chairman, Russell Ross, safety inspector, Victor Kalbaugh, fire marshall, Chester Shimer, Potomac Fire Company, Clyde Bantz, Luke Fire Company, Larry Patterson, Bruce High School.

West Virginia Pulp and Paper Mill Safety Committee members are Alton Fortney, William LaFon, Hubert Worgan, Homer Ferrell, Elmer May, Newt Dawson, Louis Diaz, Thomas Walsh, Ivan Wilson, James Guy.

William Phelps, Julian Patrick, Avelino Diaz, Dan Eisenberger, Paul Seers, Baxter Willey, William Shaffer, Adrian Rankin, Michael Lannon, Harry Hopkins, Frederick Byer, William Trenum and Paige Jenkins.

PROBATION-PAROLE CHIEF—A. Earl Shipley, Republican from Westminster, is Maryland's new probation and parole director.

Truck Drivers Arrested In Turnpike Scheme

State Police Charge Cut Rate Arrangement

GREENSBURG, Pa (AP)—Pennsylvania State Police report they have arrested five truck drivers in connection with a scheme they said was devised to get "cut rates" on Pennsylvania's famed Super Highway, a toll turnpike running between eastern and western Pennsylvania.

All five have been charged with forgery and receiving stolen goods.

Three of the men were arrested Saturday and two Sunday. At least one more arrest is expected, a State Police spokesman said.

The men were identified as Henry Edward Hooten, 501 East Second Street, Paoli, Ind.; Robert C. Johnston, 2524 Charles Street, Pittsburgh; Leonard Dewey Callahn, 1025 36th Street, Parkersburg, W. Va.; John R. Matz, 527 West Master Street, Philadelphia and Paul Checchio, 2203 South Lambert Street, Philadelphia.

The State Police spokesman said the five were arrested after a quiet investigation following the theft of Turnpike requisitions from the Mid-States Freight Lines at Breezewood, Pa., about September 15. He added:

"The ordinary toll charge for trucks on the Turnpike is $12.50 for the trip from King of Prussia, near Philadelphia, to Irwin, near Pittsburgh.

"We got a tip that some drivers were buying these requisitions for $5 apiece. Ultimately, the Mid-States company would have been billed for all the tickets although their drivers and trucks were not using them."

Three of the men — Hooten, Johnston and Callahn—were released on $500 bond apiece for a hearing at a later date. Police said Matz also expected to be released soon on bail but added that Checchio is being held for additional questioning.

Dr. Shaffer To Be Speaker At Keyser Methodist Rally

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Dr. Frank L. Shaffer, vice president of Westminster Theological Seminary of the Methodist Church will speak at Keyser High School auditorium Sunday at the huge Victory Rally of Moorefield District Methodists. The meeting is expected to have an attendance of approximately 2,000 people of the district.

Dr. Shaffer was elected to the vice presidency in June 1950 and was placed in charge of the Diamond Jubilee development program of the Seminary. Under his direction the seminary plans an expansion program which will provide much needed facilities for an ever-increasing enrollment.

Dr. Shaffer graduated from Westminster Theological Seminary in 1929. The Doctor of Divinity degree was conferred on him in 1941 by Adrian College, Adrian, Mich., and by Western Maryland College in 1945.

A member of the West Virginia Conference since 1925, Dr. Shaffer served pastorates at Candeeville, Morgantown and Clarksburg. For six years he was superintendent of Charleston District, was director of the Crusade for Christ, and for five years was executive secretary of the Board of Pensions of West Virginia Conference. Under his direction the conference raised $640,000 for the Crusade for Christ and $1,000,000 for the pension program.

Dr. Shaffer has been a member of the general Conferences of 1932, 1936, 1940, 1944, 1948, and the Uniting Conference of 1939.

He is a 32 degree Mason and a Kiwanian.

Piedmont Moose Hold Initiation

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—The 39th anniversary of Piedmont Lodge No. 1120, Loyal Order of the Moose was observed at the Moose Home, yesterday with an initiation, talks, banquet and dance.

A class was initiated with the degree work being given by the Martinsburg team.

Following that part of the program talks were given by John Chenowith, Elkins, sheriff of Randolph County, and John Caplinger, also of Elkins, vice president of the State Moose Association.

The banquet was served to the 350 guests by the ladies of Piedmont Chapter No. 925, Women of the Moose.

The memorial service in respect to the departed brothers was in charge of Foster Daniels, governor of Piedmont Lodge. Piano and vocal selections were presented by a duo from Frostburg.

After the banquet a dance was held with the music being provided by an orchestra from Salisbury, Pa.

Fire Auxiliary Installs Officers

MIDLAND—At a recent meeting of the Midland Volunteer Fire Company Auxiliary, officers were installed with Arvella Loar as president.

Others installed were Alma Kroll, recording secretary; Marie Dunn, financial secretary; and Ruth Shillingburg, treasurer. Installation was conducted by Helen Manley.

Prizes were awarded to Delphia Hyde and Ruth Brinegar. Admitted as new members were Mabel Marble and Ruth Brinegar.

A ways and means committee was appointed with Alfreda Clark as head. Beatrice Campbell was appointed as chairman, and Catherine Brinegar, Delphia Hyde and Anastasia Youngblood as co-chairmen.

The annual chicken dinner of the unit will be held today at the VFW home, Lonaconing.

New Conduit Will Be Laid In Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—Employes of the City Street Department and of the Potomac Light and Power Company began work at the intersection of North Main and Armstrong Streets, preparatory to placing a conduit underground for carrying electric cable for the four traffic lights at that corner.

A shallow trench was drilled across Armstrong Street on the east side of Main Monday and when this is completed, another crossing will be drilled and the conduit will be placed and the work will continue until connections are made with each of the four traffic lights.

The lights have been out of service for several weeks due to a short circuit in the old conduit.

Mayor Compton Attending School

KEYSER, W. Va.—Mayor Chester J. Compton left Saturday for Springfield, Mass., where he will spend two weeks at the annual two weeks Business Life Insurance School, conducted by the Monarch Life Insurance Company.

The company sometime ago erected a large building especially constructed for the school activities. It adjoins the business administration building of the company.

Night Shorthand Class Planned In Lonaconing

LONACONING.—Under the Allegany County Adult Training program, directed by J. D. Lonnholm, there will be a shorthand class at Central High School on Tuesdays and Thursdays each week, from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m.

Miss Deborah Birdsall will be shorthand instructor and anyone interested in enrolling in this class may attend the class this week on Thursday night or next Tuesday and Thursday.

Congregational Church Secures Electric Organ

Improvement Plan To Cost $5,200

FROSTBURG—The congregation of First Congregational Church, Bowery Street, has purchased a new Wurlitzer electric two manual organ equipped with three octaves and 25 pedals. The instrument will replace the piano now in the auditorium, and will be the first step in a number of improvements to be made within the next two months.

A contract has also been awarded to Seaber Art and Decorating Company, Westernport, for redecorating the church interior. A new indirect lighting system will also be installed.

The estimated cost of the combined improvements has been placed at $52,000.

Rev. J. F. Zimmerman, pastor, stated that the new improvements to be made together with previous work on the property, would total a cost of $10,000 spent on improvements since he assumed the pastorite 20 years ago.

Tentative plans will be discussed by the officers of the church for a membership drive, to be climaxed with a special service during the coming holidays in observance of Rev. Zimmerman's 20 years of service to the church.

Miss Everline Is Married

FROSTBURG — Miss Jane Everline, daughter of Mrs. Mary B. Everline, East College Avenue, Frostburg, and the late Samuel Everline, was married to James V. Blaine, Frazee, Minnesota, on Saturday night, September 15, at Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church, Washington, D. C., with Rev. Robert W. Olewiler officiating.

Miss Athalia Everline, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. June Lilja was bridesmaid. Carl Lilja served as best man.

After the wedding a dinner was held on the terrace of the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, for the bridal party.

The bride is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and taught school for several years in Allegany County. For the past eight years, she has been employed as a laboratory technician with the F. B. I.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Moorehead College, Moorehead, Minnesota, and attended Columbus School of Law in Washington. He is a special agent with the F. B. I.

After a honeymoon through the Southern States, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine will reside in Takoma Park.

To Install Officers

MIDLAND—The Auxiliary of Post No. 169, American Legion will install officers elected this month at a meeting at the Legion home. Installation is scheduled for the October meeting of the group.

Officers to be installed are Catherine Stakem, president; Edith Cavey, first vice president; Rose Perkins, second vice president; Alice Brinegar, treasurer; Ann Stakem, secretary; Teresa Sulser, chaplain; Edith Cavey, historian; and Mary Shearer and Mary Knippenberg, color-bearers.

Pendleton Co. Boy Dies After Car Hits Pole

A Pendleton County, W. Va., youth, one of a family of 15 brothers and sisters, died Sunday night in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, from injuries received in an auto accident on Route 220.

The victim was Merrill Champ, 17, son of Andrew J. and Ethel (Alt) Champ, of Mouth of Seneca. He is survived by 14 brothers and sisters. One other brother preceded him in death several years ago.

According to Cpl. Frank H. Tribett, of the West Virginia State Police station at Petersburg, Champ and five others were in a car that went out of control at 2 p. m. on the Franklin Pike between Petersburg and Franklin.

The auto, driven by Roosevelt Miller, 19, of near Mouth of Seenca, ran off one side of the road, then careened back across the highway into a utility company pole.

Also taken to Potomac Valley Hospital where they are still patients were the driver, and Martha Self, 15, Zola Self, 17, and Marian Alt, 18, all of Smoke Hole. Not injured was another occupant, a brother of the driver.

The condition of those in the hospital was reported as not being critical.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24—(INS)—I don't wonder Irene Dunne said a big yes to Universal International when the plot of "There's Nothing Like Money" was told to her. It a screamingly funny idea. That of an ordinary housewife who goes out in the back yard and finds a tree that grows five and ten dollar bills. Can you imagine the comedy situations?

Irene Dunne

The two young authors of the money yarn, Barney Slater and Leonard Praskins, took their story to Arthur Lubin, who was so crazy about it he took it to the studio heads. Results: Lubin will direct, and Leonard Goldstein will produce. Lubin, who is responsible for such comedy fantasies as "Francis" and "Rhubarb," saw at once its possibilities. Personally, I'm glad Irene is going to do a comedy again.

• — • — •

My young friend, Mitzi Gaynor, is getting about everything she wants in the musical line on the 20th lot. George Jessel tells me he is teaming her with Scott Brady in the Damon Runyon story "Bloodhounds On Broadway."

Mitzie will play a girl who takes her bloodhounds to Broadway, and falls in love with a big time gambler. Scott, of course, plays that gambler.

George is conferring with Lloyd Bacon about directing and he himself wrote the musical score with Sam Lerner and Joe Cooper.

With "Guys And Dolls" so popular, Damon Runyon's stories about the Broadway characters continue to be more and more in demand.

• — • — •

Yvonne De Carlo back from a singing tour of Israel, says she's been signed to star in "Queen Of Sheba" for London Producer Sidney Fox. Peter Ustinov will play Solomon.

This is interesting in view of the fact that 20th announced plans to make "Queen Of Sheba And Solomon" about a year ago. Their Solomon will probably be Gregory Peck although no one has been mentioned for the Queen of Sheba role.

Fox made "Queen Of Sheba" in the silent days with Betty Blythe draped in pearls playing Sheba. That picture won her fame on the screen.

• — • — •

Eleanor Parker told me that any actress who goes east on personal appearances without a smart wardrobe is plain crazy.

"The press and the fans expect us to look chic," she said. "I buy very few clothes when I am home, but I really splurged when I went on personal appearance tours with my picture, 'A Millionaire For Christy.'"

She made appearances in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Toledo. She was born in Ohio, and she said Vice President Barkley, who was visiting in her home state at the same time, had his picture taken with her.

"He's very charming and gracious," said Eleanor, "and when I received a copy of our picture there was a little note asking me to autograph it for him."

• — • — •

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Nancy Olsen expects her baby October 15, the opening night on Broadway of her husband Alan Lerner's musical, "Paint Your Wagon."

Mario Lanza dropped 27 pounds, but he has to take off 10 more to get down to 190 before he starts his picture.

Jean Peters' mother, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Peters, will come to Hollywood to remain with Jean until she is entirely recovered from bronchial trouble.

Laurence Olivier is dickering with Lilli Palmer and Rex Harrison to make a picture for him in England. It will be nice if they accept.

The Gene Nelsons celebrate their 10th wedding anniversary Christmas and will have their first big party to mark the event. That's certainly planning ahead.

Harold Russell, the GI veteran, will do a TV show to demonstrate how vets without hands can use a telephone, typewriter, etc. No one has done more for these amputees than Harold, who has devoted his life to helping them.

Norman Taurog is writing a book on all the child stars he has directed: Jackie Cooper, in "Skippy" 20 years ago, Mickey Rooney, Margaret O'Brien, Judy Garland, Virginia Weidler, and others.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Mirror Of Your Mind

By LAWRENCE GOULD, Consulting Psychologist

May you be a slave to schedules?

Answer: Yes, says Dr. Otto Fenichel. Compulsive neurotics often take an exaggerated interest in time-tables, and may regulate their whole lives by self-devised schedules. Their unconscious object is to leave no gaps through which forbidden impulses might slip and find expression. If they can account for every minute of the past, they can feel sure they have done nothing wrong or punishable and if they have planned an exact schedule for the future, "they are able to overcome the fear that their own excitement may induce them to do things they are afraid of." The man by whose movements you can "set your watch" may merely be suffering from a morbid fear of letting himself go.

Does psychoanalysis oppose materialism?

Answer: Yes, says Dr. Beppino Disertori, Swiss psychiatrist, in an article on "Psychoanalysis and Metaphysics." Materialistic science has sought to restrict the sphere of consciousness and even to prove that it is powerless or non-existent; such science says the mind is a mere by-product of the body, of little or no importance to it. On the other hand, Freud treats the mind and its "metaphysical" components, "Id," "Ego" and "Superego," as not only real enough to cause neuroses and psychoses, but powerful enough to alter the physiological functions of the human organism. He provides an effective answer to the dogmas of Marxism.

May your "ego-ideal" be childish?

Answer: Yes, in so far as it is unrealistic — as you expect more of yourself than you are capable of being or doing. An impossible ego-ideal may have started with unreasonable demands made on you by your parents, or with an exaggerated idea of their power and perfection. It is normal for a boy to aspire to be as "big" or "good" as Daddy when he grows up, but if he imagines Daddy to be too much bigger and better than he actually is, the boy may develop an ego-ideal that will give him a crushing feeling of inadequacy. It is wiser not to be too rigid in the standards you set for yourself, but to be satisfied to do the best you can.

Garrett Countians Fined $8,250 In Liquor, Gaming Violations

The operators of nine Garrett County establishments were heavily fined yesterday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris on charges of selling whiskey illegally, and several of them were also fined for maintaining gaming devices.

The fines totaled $8,250 and are believed to be the heaviest ever levied in Garrett County Circuit Court at Oakland.

The nine defendants, indicated by the September grand jury, entered guilty pleas when they appeared before the court yesterday.

Clark Railey, who operates the Peoples' Market, near Oakland, was fined $500 and costs; Charles G. and Earl W. Railey, operators of Stone Tavern, were fined a total of $1,000; J. Phillip Thayer, operator of Thayer's Barn, was fined $1,000; Clarence Savage, operator of Red Run Lodge, was fined $1,000; Lee McRobie and Hazel McRobie, Route 38 near Vindex, were fined $750; William B. Wagner, operator of Bill's Place, Route 40, near Grantsville, was fined $500; Oswald and Gladys Vanucci, operators of Point View Inn, were fined $1,000; Lloyd A. Wagner, operator of the Meshack Browning Club near Grantsville, was fined $1,000 on a whisky charge and $500 for maintaining slot machines; Roy H. Zehner, of Arlington, near Grantsville, was fined $500 on a whisky charge and $500 for having slot machines.

Indictments were returned following information presented by two members of the State Police, who had cooperated with Sheriff Paul W. Fisher over a period of the past several weeks. Fisher said the two plain clothes officers had recently assisted Senator Herbert R. O'Conor with his investigations of crime in Baltimore City and other parts of Maryland.

Most of the places involved are located on Deep Creek Lake, well-known summer resort area.

WSCS Plans Supper For Next Month

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24—(INS)—I don't wonder Irene Dunne said a big yes to Universal International when the plot of "There's Nothing Like Money" was told to her. It a screamingly funny idea. That of an ordinary housewife who goes out in the back yard and finds a tree that grows five and ten dollar bills. Can you imagine the comedy situations?

Irene Dunne

The two young authors of the money yarn, Barney Slater and Leonard Praskins, took their story to Arthur Lubin, who was so crazy about it he took it to the studio heads. Results: Lubin will direct, and Leonard Goldstein will produce. Lubin, who is responsible for such comedy fantasies as "Francis" and "Rhubarb," saw at once its possibilities. Personally, I'm glad Irene is going to do a comedy again.

●—●—●

My young friend, Mitzi Gaynor, is getting about everything she wants in the musical line on the 20th lot. George Jessel tells me he is teaming her with Scott Brady in the Damon Runyon story "Bloodhounds On Broadway."

Mitzie will play a girl who takes her bloodhounds to Broadway, and falls in love with a big time gambler. Scott, of course, plays that gambler.

George is conferring with Lloyd Bacon about directing and he himself wrote the musical score with Sam Lerner and Joe Cooper.

With "Guys And Dolls" so popular, Damon Runyon's stories about the Broadway characters continue to be more and more in demand.

Yvonne De Carlo back from a singing tour of Israel, says she's been signed to star in "Queen Of Sheba" for London Producer Sidney Fox. Peter Ustinov will play Solomon.

This is interesting in view of the fact that 20th announced plans to make "Queen Of Sheba And Solomon" about a year ago. Their Solomon will probably be Gregory Peck although no one has been mentioned for the Queen of Sheba role.

Fox made "Queen Of Sheba" in the silent days with Betty Blythe draped in pearls playing Sheba. That picture won her fame on the screen.

Eleanor Parker told me that any actress who goes east on personal appearances without a smart wardrobe is plain crazy.

"The press and the fans expect us to look chic," she said. "I buy very few clothes when I am home, but I really splurged when I went on personal appearance tours with my picture, 'A Millionaire For Christy.'"

She made appearances in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Toledo. She was born in Ohio, and she said Vice President Barkley, who was visiting in her home state at the same time, had his picture taken with her.

"He's very charming and gracious," said Eleanor, "and when I received a copy of our picture there was a little note asking me to autograph it for him."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Nancy Olsen expects her baby October 15, the opening night on Broadway of her husband Alan Lerner's musical, "Paint Your Wagon."

Mario Lanza dropped 27 pounds, but he has to take off 10 more to get down to 190 before he starts his picture.

Jean Peters' mother, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Peters, will come to Hollywood to remain with Jean until she is entirely recovered from bronchial trouble.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

BOYS TOWN, Neb., Sept. 24 (INS) — The most significant $90 ever borrowed has reached remarkable flower in this model American community.

Boys Town today covers more than a thousand acres, where once it was an abandoned house in downtown Omaha. It has student "cottages" which are the last word in functional design. It has class rooms and trade schools better equipped than any I've seen, and a model farm which not only supports many of the needs of the school but trains fine farmers.

Its field house has few parallels for size and none of modernity among even the colleges of the U. S. Its auditorium is a scale model Radio City Music Hall, and its school of music is like a fine radio broadcasting building. Its chapel, where lies the body of the remarkable founder, Father Flanagan, is an exquisite example of religious architecture.

The population of Boys Town is now about 800, ranging in age from 10 to the early 20's, the older boys being those admitted near the age limit of 16 and now completing their high-school education or their manual training.

The original population was five boys, three of them sent to Father Flanagan by courts and two picked off the streets of Omaha by the priest—whose dogged slogan, "There are no bad boys," is subscribed to by his successor, a fine robust Nebraska priest named Nicholas H. Wegner.

Today's Boys Town emerged from $90 which Flanagan — who had come to Omaha to live out the apparently short remainder of a life imperilled by lung trouble — borrowed from his parishoners. The man was a great dreamer as well as humanitarian, but it is hardly likely that his fertile mind could have pictured, when he started in 1917, the Boys Town of this moment.

Like Wegner, however, he would not have stopped — having attained the present Boys Town. His phone would have been ringing night and day, as does Wegner's . . . calls from judges, social workers, men of the cloth, distracted parents and guardians all over the country — seeking haven for boys in desperate need of a friend.

There is a waiting list of nearly 3,000 applications in Father Wegner's office, and it is a source of perpetual concern to him. The marvels of expansion achieved by Flanagan have been, in turn, expanded and strengthened by Wegner. Between them they have produced a bona fide miracle of man's humanity to boy.

• — • — •

But it will never be a complete one as long as American boys need help. On that premise Wegner operates today.

Boys Town is an unforgettable melting pot. Its 6,000 alumni are of every color, creed, occupation and profession. Its record in World War II was tremendous, and it has a "chapter" in Korea. Its products are spread through the entire nation.

Yet once upon a time these (and the 800 now at Boys Town) were kids who had reached the ends of their ropes. They were the wards of busy courts, the remnants of broken families, the products of rough slums, and the homeless in general. Some came to Boys Town as pathetic and hungry moppets. Some arrived as hardened and successful young criminals, including a few juvenile murderers. And all found a helping hand.

Hundreds of well-heeled U. S. families attempt each year to place their pampered and slightly curdled spawn in Boys Town, "for their own good." But Father Wegner, who turned down a major league baseball career to take up his present life, shakes his head. A boy still has to need it "real bad" to get in.

I'm inclined to take a dim view of most youth rehabilitation centers, though there are fine exceptions to the rule. It's encouraging to visit Boys Town, though. (Indeed, it has become the biggest tourist attraction in this section of the country.) It's encouraging just to look at the faces of the kids and hear the warmth of their informal salutes when their big, free-striding pal — Wegner — goes by.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

BOYS TOWN, Neb., Sept. 24 (INS) — The most significant $90 ever borrowed has reached remarkable flower in this model American community.

Boys Town today covers more than a thousand acres, where once it was an abandoned house in downtown Omaha. It has student "cottages" which are the last word in functional design. It has class rooms and trade schools better equipped than any I've seen, and a model farm which not only supports many of the needs of the school but trains fine farmers.

Its field house has few parallels for size and none of modernity among even the colleges of the U. S. Its auditorium is a scale model Radio City Music Hall, and its school of music is like a fine radio broadcasting building. Its chapel, where lies the body of the remarkable founder, Father Flanagan, is an exquisite example of religious architecture.

The population of Boys Town is now about 800, ranging in age from 10 to the early 20's, the older boys being those admitted near the age limit of 16 and now completing their high-school education or their manual training.

The original population was five boys, three of them sent to Father Flanagan by courts and two picked off the streets of Omaha by the priest—whose dogged slogan, "There are no bad boys," is subscribed to by his successor, a fine robust Nebraska priest named Nicholas H. Wegner.

Today's Boys Town emerged from $90 which Flanagan — who had come to Omaha to live out the apparently short remainder of a life imperilled by lung trouble — borrowed from his parishoners. The man was a great dreamer as well as humanitarian, but it is hardly likely that his fertile mind could have pictured, when he started in 1917, the Boys Town of this moment.

Like Wegner, however, he would not have stopped — having attained the present Boys Town. His phone would have been ringing night and day, as does Wegner's . . . calls from judges, social workers, men of the cloth, distracted parents and guardians all over the country — seeking haven for boys in desperate need of a friend.

There is a waiting list of nearly 3,000 applications in Father Wegner's office, and it is a source of perpetual concern to him. The marvels of expansion achieved by Flanagan have been, in turn, expanded and strengthened by Wegner. Between them they have produced a bona fide miracle of man's humanity to boy.

But it will never be a complete one as long as American boys need help. On that premise Wegner operates today.

Boys Town is an unforgettable melting pot. Its 6,000 alumni are of every color, creed, occupation and profession. Its record in World War II was tremendous, and it has a "chapter" in Korea. Its products are spread through the entire nation.

Yet once upon a time these (and the 800 now at Boys Town) were kids who had reached the ends of their ropes. They were the wards of busy courts, the remnants of broken families, the products of rough slums, and the homeless in general. Some came to Boys Town as pathetic and hungry moppets. Some arrived as hardened and successful young criminals, including a few juvenile murderers. And all found a helping hand.

Hundreds of well-heeled U. S. families attempt each year to place their pampered and slightly curdled spawn in Boys Town, "for their own good." But Father Wegner, who turned down a major league baseball career to take up his present life, shakes his head. A boy still has to need it "real bad" to get in.

I'm inclined to take a dim view of most youth rehabilitation centers, though there are fine exceptions to the rule. It's encouraging to visit Boys Town, though. (Indeed, it has become the biggest tourist attraction in this section of the country.) It's encouraging just to look at the faces of the kids and hear the warmth of their informal salutes when their big, free-striding pal — Wegner — goes by.

Visit Niagara Falls

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin G. Beeman of Moscow and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beeman of Conneaut, Pa., have returned home after visiting in Niagara Falls and Toronto, Ontario. They also journeyed to Detroit, Mich. The Moscow Beemans also stopped in Conneaut before finishing their trip.

Card Of Thanks

We are taking this means of thanking our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our recent bereavement, the death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Pauzey. We especially wish to thank the Rev. John Bayley Jones, the pallbearers, the choir of Mt. Zion Church, and those who donated cars for the funeral.

Rails Exception As Stock Market Dips Little Lower

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—The stock market dipped a little lower today with all categories excepting rails joining in the fall.

There was nothing very violent about the selling, however. Neither the losses nor the smaller number of gains amounted to more than fractions. Price changes of a point or more were rare. As has been the case in recent sessions the volume turned down as prices eased. The total for the day was only 1,630,000 shares, the smallest since the 1,520,000 on September 4.

The Associated Press averages gave a good picture of the situation. The average for 60 stocks dropped 20 cents at $100.10. Industrials fell 70 cents and utilities slipped ten cents while the rails gained 30 cents at $70.20.

The breakdown on gains and losses showed that of 1,141 issues traded 565 of them lost ground and 330 advanced. There were 15 new highs and seven issues hit new low points.

A railroad stock, Baltimore and Ohio, led the 15 most active. The issue sold 22,200 shares and gained ⅜ at 21⅞. A railroad stock was the runner up too—Pennsylvania—21,300 shares, up ¾ at 19⅝. Five other rails, two of them fractional losers, were on the most active list.

St. Louis and San Francisco down ¼ at 27½ and Canadian Pacific, off ⅝ at 31⅛, were the declining carriers in the 15 most active.

New Haven Railroad common moved up ⅞ at 18⅛ and the preferred gained 1¾ at 50½.

Nickel Plate moved ahead a point at 222 and Santa Fe, New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio advanced lesser amounts

Excepting for railroad stocks the market presented a pattern of small losses.

The large steel stocks were down less than a point each—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown.

General Motors and Chrysler were down slightly while Packard and Studebaker remained steady.

Goodrich was down 1½ at 64½ and Firestone was off 1¾ at 120½. Goodyear and U. S. Rubber were down lesser amounts.

Such oils as Sinclair, Standard (NJ), Texas Co., and Gulf were off fractions.

N. Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Irregularity prevailed in the wholesale egg market today.

Eggs 28,823, irregular. New York spot quotations, based largely on exchange trading, follow:

Nearby whites: Extra fancy heavyweights 67; fancy heavyweights 66, others large 65; mediums 55½-56; pullets 41-42½.

Browns: Extra fancy heavyweights 66; mediums 55½-56; pullets 41-42½.

Position Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Sept. 20:

Net budget recpts, $655,713,403.98; budget expenditures, $168,363,976.05; cash balance, $6,000,222,442.97; customs recpts for month, $28,973,201.34; budget recpts fiscal year July 1, $9,955,697,278.35; budget expenditures fiscal year, $13,313,836,912.27; budget deficit, $3,358,139,633.92; total debt, $256,979,389,447.67; increase over previous day, $181,895,603.34; gold assets, $21,933,430,687.12.

Central Music Teacher Speaks At Meyersdale

LONACONING—Joseph L. Derry, head of the Music Department of Central High School, was guest speaker at the Meyersdale Lions club dinner meeting Monday, September 24.

"Frederic Chopin, Poet of the Piano", was Derry's subject of his address to the Meyersdale club. His talk was illustrated with examples from the works of the Polish composer-pianist.

Rails Except As Stock Market Dips Little Lower

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—The stock market dipped a little lower today with all categories excepting rails joining in the fall.

There was nothing very violent about the selling, however. Neither the losses nor the smaller number of gains amounted to more than fractions. Price changes of a point or more were rare. As has been the case in recent sessions the volume turned down as prices eased. The total for the day was only 1,630,000 shares, the smallest since the 1,520,000 on September 4.

The Associated Press averages gave a good picture of the situation. The average for 60 stocks dropped 20 cents at $100.10. Industrials fell 70 cents and utilities slipped ten cents while the rails gained 30 cents at $70.20.

The breakdown on gains and losses showed that of 1,141 issues traded 565 of them lost ground and 330 advanced. There were 15 new highs and seven issues hit new low points.

A railroad stock, Baltimore and Ohio, led the 15 most active. The issue sold 22,200 shares and gained ⅜ at 21⅞. A railroad stock was the runner up too—Pennsylvania—21,300 shares, up ¾ at 19⅝. Five other rails, two of them fractional losers, were on the most active list.

St. Louis and San Francisco down ¼ at 27½ and Canadian Pacific, off ⅝ at 31⅛, were the declining carriers in the 15 most active.

New Haven Railroad common moved up ⅞ at 18⅛ and the preferred gained 1¾ at 50½.

Nickel Plate moved ahead a point at 222 and Santa Fe, New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio advanced lesser amounts

Excepting for railroad stocks the market presented a pattern of small losses.

The large steel stocks were down less than a point each—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown.

General Motors and Chrysler were down slightly while Packard and Studebaker remained steady.

Goodrich was down 1½ at 64½ and Firestone was off 1¾ at 120½. Goodyear and U. S. Rubber were down lesser amounts.

Such oils as Sinclair, Standard (NJ), Texas Co., and Gulf were off fractions.

Boy Released In $1,000 Bail On Arson Counts

16-Year-Old Will Get Hearing Friday

A 16-year-old Mineral County (W. Va.) boy was released yesterday under $1,000 bond after his arraignment in Keyser on four charges of arson.

Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle ordered him to return for a preliminary hearing Friday at 4 p. m. (EST).

The boy was arested Saturday morning after weeks of investigation led West Virginia State Police to suspect him in connection with several recent fires in the Piedmont area.

State Police Cpl. O. G. Webley and Trooper Frank W. Bowley said the boy admitted setting five fires which damaged or destroyed buildings at the Bennett Mine on Piedmont Hill, a pasture, a farm house and a television tower.

All the fires occurred between August 30 and September 10.

Police said the youth admitted starting the fires only after lengthy lie detector tests by State Police Sgt. N. C. Reger of the Charleston headquarters.

He was later released in custody of his parents until yesterday's arraignment.

At the hearing Friday, the youth may waive a hearing and ask the court to set bond for his appearance before the grand jury, which meets in mid-October. Or, he may elect to be tried at the hearing before Miss Bazzle.

Briefs

Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, will hold a Court of Honor today at 7:30 p. m. at Central YMCA. About 50 Scouts will receive awards. House Delegate Noel Speir Cook will speak.

Cpl. Samuel Conrad of the State Police will speak on "Traffic Direction and Control" at a meeting of the Cumberland Auxiliary Police October 3 at Canada Hose House, North Mechanic Street.

Rehearsals of the Cumberland Civic Symphony Orchestra will resume at 8 p. m. today in Allegany High School auditorium, according to S. Lua Syckes, director. Forty musicians already have been enrolled, and Syckes asked that all interested players attend tomorrow's rehearsal.

The first meeting of the school year of the Parent-Teacher Association of Gephart School will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at the school. Neis Robinson, president, said refreshments would be served and square dancing would feature the entertainment after the meeting.

POLICE INSPECT DOPE HAUL—Baltimore officers inspect 12½ pounds of granulated marjuana which they said Robert Brant, 58, of Cumberland, tried to sell Officer Casimir Moniewski (right). Brant and a Baltimorean, John Nassrie, 27, were ordered held in $10,000 bail each at their arraignment yesterday in Baltimore Federal Court. Shown in the picture with Moniewski is Sgt. Joseph Carroll, head of Baltimore's special narcotics squad, who said the total cache seized by police would have made about 40,000 reefers worth $20,000. The "dream cigarettes" retail at 50 cents each.

Phone Firm May Enforce Bookie Curb

Antigambling Laws Under Consideration

Telephone operators might be forced to listen in on conversations if Congress places responsibility on the communications companies for enforcing antigambling legislation now up for consideration in the Senate, John J. Hanselman, assistant vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, yesterday told the Senate Foreign and Interstate Commerce Committee.

The bill under consideration, Senate Bill 2116, contains a provision which says in effect that it would be unlawful to furnish any communication facility used to transmit or receive gambling information.

Penalties are provided. Asking how a telephone company can know whether one of its facilities is being used for this purpose Hanselman stated "In order to protect ourselves from a barrage of indictments for violations . . . it might well be that the telephone industry would be forced to establish a practice of listening in on telephone calls and requiring operators, of whom there are a quarter of a million, to report what they might construe to be the transmission of gambling information."

Number of Calls Noted

There are well over half a billion messages originated each year in interstate commerce, Hanselman pointed out.

"The magnitude of such a job is unthinkable. But far more important is the fact that it would put private industry in the business of crime detection and law enforcement."

He added that he could not conceive that the Congress would wish to put the communications carriers in such a position "or that the general public would stand for any such violations of the privacy of telephone conversations."

Invades Privacy

Hanselman expressed the fear that the inclusion of such a provision in the law "may be the opening wedge in the ultimate destruction of the secrecy of telephone service. Privacy of communication," he said, "is one of the foundation stones of personal freedom in our country and we earnestly ask that this provision be deleted from any bill which this committee recommends."

He stressed that the telephone companies are in "full accord" with the objective of the proposed legislation which would make it unlawful to use telephone facilities of sending or receiving gambling information but said "We believe most strongly that the enforcement of the law should be kept in the hands of the law enforcement agencies."

Tax Collector Has Busy Day

The annual rush to pay city taxes began in earnest yesterday.

George E. Davis, city collector, reported collections of $28,000 yesterday at 2:30 p. m. and estimated that total collections for the day, including payments received through the mail, would reach the $35,000 mark.

Davis said none of the citizens had to stand in line for more than a few minutes at any time during the day, since two windows were kept open at all times, including the lunch hour.

City taxes must be paid by October 20 to avoid payment of interest.

Area Korean Veterans To Arrive In States

Two Cumberland area men are included in the 755 combat veterans from Korea who are slated to arrive in San Francisco today.

They are Cpl. Elmer L. Nield, Station A, Box 2155, Cumberland, and Cpl. Porter F. Broadwater, Swanton.

$10,000 Bail Set For Brant

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Two men were held in $10,000 bail each late today after a preliminary hearing on charges they had more than 12 pounds of marijuana in their possession.

They were arrested along with two others Friday night at a midnight rendezvous, after an undercover agent arranged to buy the stuff for $2,500.

That raid led police to a haul of about 25 pounds of marijuana recovered in a shed at Cumberland. Police estimated it would be worth some $24,000 if sold as reefers on the illegal drug market.

Those accused at the hearing were Robert Brant, 53, of Cumberland, and John Nassrie, 27, of Baltimore. The two other persons picked up at the same time have been released by police.

Sgt. Joseph Carroll of the Baltimore Police Narcotics Squad, said the marijuana seized here would have made about 40,000 reefers. He estimated the illicit value at retail to be $20,000.

Agents seized the men Friday night at Broadway and Fayette streets. They had told an undercover man they knew where they could get 100 pounds more, which led to the marijuana haul at Cumberland.

City Rec Board Begins Study Of 27 Point Plan

A general discussion on recommendations of Edmund F. Hoey, city recreation director, was held at a meeting of the City Recreation Board last night in City Hall.

A 27-point program was presented to the Board last Thursday by Hoey, who said the recreation program here will be stalemated unless action is taken by the Board and City officials on problems which have arisen druing the past two years.

Clifton Van Roby, chairman, said the next meeting of the board will be held October 18.

He added the board hopes in the near future to arrange meetings with the Mayor and Council and Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, to iron out some of the problems pointed out by Hoey.

Hoey asked that the Board establish a policy with the Board of Education in connection with the use of school facilities and for recreational classes in the Adult Education program.

He asked the Board to establish the responsibilities of each city department in the recreation program; that part of the recreation bond issue be floated to finance a building program, and that a Street Department truck and crew be assigned at intervals to the rec department.

Haywood Guest Speaker For Instrument Meet

Paper Industry To Be Topic Of Discussion

Guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Instrument Society of America tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club will be Gerald Haywood, chief research chemist of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke.

Haywood's topic of discussion before the Cumberland section of the society will be "Development of the Pulp and Paper Industry." A graduate of chemical engineering, Haywood has been prominent in many of the new developments pioneered by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

He began his career with the paper company in 1914 in the main laboratory at Luke. After a short while he was transferred to the firm's New York laboratory, where he assisted the late Dr. Viggo Drewsen, who was a prominent authority in the field of paper research.

Serving many years under Dr. Drewsen he returned to the Luke plant as technical director in the Coating Mill, until its elimination several years ago. At that time Haywood was made research director at Luke, the position he now holds.

Invited to attend tomorrow nights dinner meeting, according to Clyde Babst, secretary-treasurer, are members of the chemical and engineer societies.

A joint meeting of the Engineers Club of Cumberland and the Instrument Society of America is scheduled for October 17 at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club with Charles Bowden of the Brown Instrument Company as guest speaker.

Over Ten Million Dollars Being Spent To Promote Tourist Trade

Grand Jury Will See 82 Witnesses In Heavy Session

The Allegany County Circuit Court grand jury, which will open the new term of court next Monday, appears slated for a long session.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir yesterday received orders from State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher to summon 82 witnesses to appear before the grand jury in four days next week. The sheriff has been informed that additional witnesses also will be called for later dates.

Normally, grand juries meet only four or five days before concluding their investigations. The schedule outlined by Fletcher calls for 31 witnesses Monday, 18 on Tuesday, 20 on Wednesday and 13 on Thursday.

Muir's deputies expect to begin to summons grand jury witnesses today.

Cumberland Among Cities Not Listed

In the fifth annual travel survey just released, Cumberland is not listed among Maryland organizations spending funds to attract vacationers and travelers to the area.

Eight Maryland organizations outside of Cumberland are spending $59,672 in an effort to attract such trade. The State Department of Information is using $13,283; Silver Spring Board of Trade, $27,000; Ocean City Bureau of Information, $11, 389; and Frederick Chamber of Commerce, $3,510.

The other organizations include: The Chambers of Commerce of Annapolis and Anne Arundel, $1,600, Betterton, $690, Hagerstown, $1,400 and Mountain Top at Oakland, $800.

"This year's outlook for the tourist business is good. With this country's industrial economy geared to a high level of production and with personal incomes and employment on the uptrend, the tourist business should be excellent," the survey forecasts.

Titled: "Tourist and Vacation Advertising Expenditures by States, Areas, and Communities in 1951," the analysis is based on questionnaires returned from 281 state, area, and city organizations. It announces that a total of $10,272,000 is being spent this year by those groups to attract tourists and vacationers to their communities. The figure represents only expenditures for advertising and promotion and does not cover administrative and overhead costs.

A report of the expenditures being made to attract industries is included as well as tourists and vacationers. The following breakdown for every $100 spent by tourists for their vacations is presented thus:

Thirty-two dollars for railroad, bus, plane and ship fares and gasoline, oil, and auto accessories; $45 to hotels, resorts, motels, motor courts, ranches and other lodging, restaurants and food stores; $23 to department, drug sporting goods and other stores, entertainment, dry cleaning, laundry, utilities and other services, including services of doctors and lawyers.

The annual report shows that state, regional and community organizations in Florida are this season spending $1,293,397; California, $1,006,500; New York, $895,620; Arizona, $464,828; Michigan, $383,769; Wisconsin, $365,950; Hawaii, $350,000; Maine, $334,700; New Jersey, $343,500; New Mexico, $333,650; Kentucky, $322,000; North Carolina, $310,635; Colorado, $304,200; and Pennsylvania, $299,908.

Other states listing large totals for community and state advertising include Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, Oregon, Tennessee and Virginia.

W. Va. Pulp, Paper Firm To Improve

Luke Plant Included In Overall Program

West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company yesterday announced plans to borrow $20,000,000 to help finance the company's continuing program of plant improvement and additions. The company proposes to raise the money by issuing debentures in that amount, to be repaid in successive annual installments beginning August 1, 1955, with the final balance due October 1, 1971. A group of investment bankers in New York, headed by Harriman, Ripley and Company, Inc., is expected to underwrite the issue.

The company has already spent more than $55,000,000 on general improvements and additions at its six plants since the end of World War II, including about $9,000,000 to date at its plant in Luke. Much of this money, the company stated, went to restore or replace major production and service facilities, the

Overweight Truck Cases Due Today

Two precedent-setting appeals by the State Roads Commission of cases involving the Maryland Truck Overweight Law are scheduled for trial this morning in Garrett County Circuit Court at Oakland.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris. Petit jurors have been called to appear at 9:15 a. m. and it is expected that they will hear the cases.

These cases will mark the first time that the State Roads Commission in Maryland has appealed decisions of a Trial Magistrate Court.

First to be tried will be the case against John O. Riley of Accident who was charged with a 7,100 pound overload of a truck. His case was dismissed by Magistrate Charles S. Zeller of Grantsville who termed the new law "confusing, poorly written and a hardship."

The second case involves Emmett Hall, a driver for the Hopwood Lumber Co., Hopwood, Pa., who was found guilty by Magistrate Zeller of overloading a truck by 11,600 pounds. He was fined $496 plus costs by the Grantsville magistrate. The State Roads Commission appealed this case with the contention that the fine should have been $696.

Also to be tried today are appeals by two other truck drivers from convictions by Trial Magistrate James Cover of Friendsville under the overweight law.

State's Attorney Dwight Stover will be aided in prosecution of the case by Assistant Attorney-General Joseph B. Buscher, who is assigned to the State Roads Commission.

City Continuing Registration Gets Underway

Five new voters were placed on the books yesterday as Cumberland's continuing registration program got underway at City Hall.

Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk, said the first day's business also included three applications for change of voting residence.

Cards have been sent to those in two wards whose names have been stricken off the city election books for failure to vote during the past five calendar years.

The wards are No. 1, West Side, and No. 2, from Bedford Street to the city limits between the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and Wills Creek.

In all, 6,791 names were stricken off the books for failure to vote during the five year period.

The names of 153 known dead were also taken off the election books.

NEW BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENT OPENS—Cardells semi self-service clothing super-market, something new in retail merchandising, opened yesterday morning in the former Woolworth Store location, corner Baltimore and George Streets, following a ribbon-cutting ceremony by Mayor Thomas S. Post. Manager of the new store is Albert Feldman. The store's arrangement follows a food super-market pattern with customers making their own selections and paying the cashier as they leave. Featured in the new establishment are women and men's wearing apparel. Also on hand for the gala opening were Miss Patricia Engle, "Miss Western Maryland of 1951" and Joseph Silver, Sol Schaffer and Jack Rubenfeld of Cardells New York office. The scene shows some of the early customers.

BARTER PLAYER—Playing the role of Gratiano in "Merchant of Venice" at Allegany High School auditorium October 12 is John Holland, well-known Barter Player. Sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, the play is one of four productions to be presented in Cumberland by the State Theater of Virginia. Holland found his way to the legitimate stage through radio, first as an announcer, then in dramatic programs. A veteran of light opera, his first leading role was opposite Yolande Betbeze, Miss America of 1950.

During August there were 18 state child-placing agencies licensed, seven out-of-state child-placing agencies, 27 children's institutions, and 11 foster homes caring for more than five children each.

Meyers Hearing Set For Friday

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Arraignment of six defendants in a Communist conspiracy case here was rescheduled again today for Friday.

Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut cancelled a two-week postponement he had granted the defendants last week.

They are charged with conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States Government.

Two of them—George A. Meyers of Lonaconing, Md., and Leroy H. Wood of Washington—were released on bail only last week after five weeks in jail. The others are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frankfelc, Mrs. Dorothy Rose Blumberg, and Maurice L. Braverman, who posted bail earlier.

Judge Chesnut said the arraignment was set back to the original date after a conference with the defendants and U. S. Attorney Bernard J. Flynn.

Grass Fires Checked

City firemen continue to be kept busy with grass fires in the area. Yesterday East Side answered two calls. The first blaze was at 1:23 p. m. at Schriver Hill while the second was on McNamee Hill off Leiper Street at 2:30 p. m.

East Side also checked a small blaze at Bennett's Storage Warehouse, rear of 800 block, Columbia Avenue at 5:50 p. m. Some paper and other debris caught fire in an unused trailer, firemen reported, although no damage was reported. The fire was out on arrival.

Celanese Union Will Celebrate 15th Birthday

Top TWUA Officials Slated To Attend

Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), largest single local in the TWUA International Union, will celebrate its 15th anniversary here in December.

Playford Aldridge, president, said plans for the celebration will be in charge of the local's Special Activities Committee, headed by John G. Kreitzburg.

Emil Rieve, general president; George Baldanzi, executive vice president, and William Pollock, general TWUA secretary - treasurer, and all members of the TWUA executive council, have been invited to speak at the ceremonies.

Details being planned by the committee include a dance and other entertainment.

Local 1874, which was formed here in 1936, is still the largest single unit in the TWUA, although modernization of the Amcelle plant has dropped membership to about 4,500. Membership was at the 8,500 mark prior to 1948.

The history of Local 1874, which was formed here in the fall of 1936, is older than the TWUA, which was chartered by the Congress of Industrial Organizations in 1939.

Officials of the local, Aldridge pointed out, have furnished much of the leadership of the TWUA.

Among members of the Celanese local who have been appointed to TWUA positions are:

Boyd E. Payton, former president, who is now regional director for the Upper South and a vice president and member of the TWUA executive council.

James A. Dundon, president in 1937, 1939 and 1940, who has served as acting assistant director of the TWUA Synthetic Yarn division and is now serving as manager of the Utica, N. Y., joint board.

Lester Jay, chairman of the Staunton, Va., joint board.

John Neal, national TWUA representative in Tennessee.

Cobey Snyder, TWUA field representative in the Upper South.

George Ziegler, TWUA field representative in Pennsylvania.

Glidden Tour Cars Move On After Parade

Thousands Watch Old Autos Pass

The Cumberland phase of the annual Glidden Tour ended yesterday morning when some 125 antique automobiles puffed proudly through the downtown streets in a parade that attracted thousands of spectators but the revived memories of the early years of the 20th century probably will remain with local residents for a long time to come.

The parade, slightly delayed, began about 10:20 a. m. from the State Armory on South Centre Street. The route took the old cars north on Centre Street to Baltimore Street, west on Baltimore Street to Mechanic Street, south on Mechanic Street to Williams Street, east on Williams Street to Centre Street and north on Centre Street to the city limits.

Met By Band

From here the caravan of old motor vehicles, ranging in age between 47 and 25 years, journeyed to Corriganville, Hyndman, Pa., and finally to the Bedford Springs Hotel at Bedford, Pa. At Hyndman the brave travelers were met by the Hyndman High School band, which escorted them through the town to the Londonderry Township Consolidated School, where they were treated to a "curb-service" luncheon.

At the Bedford Springs Hotel there will be two days of festivities. A Gibson Girl fashion show and a Gay Nineties ball are planned as highlights. From there the cars will head east on the Pennsylvania Turnpike to Harrisburg and Hershey, Pa. The tour will end Thursday night at Sky Top, Pa.

Has Long Journey

Among the newcomers in this year's tour is Max J. Palm, III, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Palm, who has been collecting antique automobiles for the past four or five years, is driving his 1923 Hispano - Suiza, a French - made car, in the tour. The Ohioan owns 10 old cars, six of which now are in running condition. His Hispano - Suiza will have a long workout before it gets back to its home.

He drove it from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh Saturday. At the end of the tour he plans to continue on to New York City and then hopes to get back to Cincinnati in the 28-year-old automobile by Sunday. Accompanying him on the journey are Mrs. Palm and a Cincinnati friend, William Atlee.

The Weather

Yesterday was another cool, bright day with temperatures staying in the low 70s. Some cloudiness appeared in the afternoon hiding the sun somewhat, but a fresh breeze aided the housewife in drying her washday clothes. The high temperature as reported by the weather station at Constitution Park was 74 degrees, the low, a cool 38 degrees, and at 8 p. m., mercury leveled at 67 degrees. Humidity at 6 o'clock last night, was marked at 56 per cent. The weatherman says rather cloudy with some chance of scattered showers for today.

Boy Released In $1,000 Bail On Arson Counts

16-Year-Old Will Get Hearing Friday

A 16-year-old Mineral County (W. Va.) boy was released yesterday under $1,000 bond after his arraignment in Keyser on four charges of arson.

Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle ordered him to return for a preliminary hearing Friday at 4 p. m. (EST).

The boy was arested Saturday morning after weeks of investigation led West Virginia State Police to suspect him in connection with several recent fires in the Piedmont area.

State Police Cpl. O. G. Webley and Trooper Frank W. Bowley said the boy admitted setting five fires which damaged or destroyed buildings at the Bennett Mine on Piedmont Hill, a pasture, a farm house and a television tower.

All the fires occurred between August 30 and September 10.

Police said the youth admitted starting the fires only after lengthy lie detector tests by State Police Sgt. N. C. Reger of the Charleston headquarters.

He was later released in custody of his parents until yesterday's arraignment.

At the hearing Friday, the youth may waive a hearing and ask the court to set bond for his appearance before the grand jury, which meets in mid-October. Or, he may elect to be tried at the hearing before Miss Bazzle.

Cpl. Samuel Conrad of the State Police will speak on "Traffic Direction and Control" at a meeting of the Cumberland Auxiliary Police October 3 at Canada Hose House, North Mechanic Street.

Rehearsals of the Cumberland Civic Symphony Orchestra will resume at 8 p. m. today in Allegany High School auditorium, according to S. Lua Sykes, director. Forty musicians already have been enrolled, and Sykes asked that all interested players attend tomorrow's rehearsal.

The first meeting of the school year of the Parent-Teacher Association of Gephart School will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at the school. Neis Robinson, president, said refreshments would be served and square dancing would feature the entertainment after the meeting.

POLICE INSPECT DOPE HAUL—Baltimore officers inspect 12½ pounds of granulated marjuana which they said Robert Brant, 58, of Cumberland, tried to sell Officer Casimir Moniewski (right). Brant and a Baltimorean, John Nassrie, 27, were ordered held in $10,000 bail each at their arraignment yesterday in Baltimore Federal Court. Shown in the picture with Moniewski is Sgt. Joseph Carroll, head of Baltimore's special narcotics squad, who said the total cache seized by police would have made about 40,000 reefers worth $20,000. The "dream cigarettes" retail at 50 cents each.

Phone Firm May Enforce Bookie Curb

Antigambling Laws Under Consideration

Telephone operators might be forced to listen in on conversations if Congress places responsibility on the communications companies for enforcing antigambling legislation now up for consideration in the Senate, John J. Hanselman, assistant vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, yesterday told the Senate Foreign and Interstate Commerce Committee.

The bill under consideration, Senate Bill 2116, contains a provision which says in effect that it would be unlawful to furnish any communication facility used to transmit or receive gambling information.

Penalties are provided. Asking how a telephone company can know whether one of its facilities is being used for this purpose Hanselman stated "In order to protect ourselves from a barrage of indictments for violations . . . it might well be that the telephone industry would be forced to establish a practice of listening in on telephone calls and requiring operators, of whom there are a quarter of a million, to report what they might construe to be the transmission of gambling information."

Number of Calls Noted

There are well over half a billion messages originated each year in interstate commerce, Hanselman pointed out.

"The magnitude of such a job is unthinkable. But far more important is the fact that it would put private industry in the business of crime detection and law enforcement."

He added that he could not conceive that the Congress would wish to put the communications carriers in such a position "or that the general public would stand for any such violations of the privacy of telephone conversations."

Invades Privacy

Hanselman expressed the fear that the inclusion of such a provision in the law "may be the opening wedge in the ultimate destruction of the secrecy of telephone service. Privacy of communication," he said, "is one of the foundation stones of personal freedom in our country and we earnestly ask that this provision be deleted from any bill which this committee recommends."

He stressed that the telephone companies are in "full accord" with the objective of the proposed legislation which would make it unlawful to use telephone facilities of sending or receiving gambling information but said "We believe most strongly that the enforcement of the law should be kept in the hands of the law enforcement agencies."

Tax Collector Has Busy Day

The annual rush to pay city taxes began in earnest yesterday.

George E. Davis, city collector, reported collections of $28,000 yesterday at 2:30 p. m. and estimated that total collections for the day, including payments received through the mail, would reach the $35,000 mark.

Davis said none of the citizens had to stand in line for more than a few minutes at any time during the day, since two windows were kept open at all times, including the lunch hour.

City taxes must be paid by October 20 to avoid payment of interest.

Area Korean Veterans To Arrive In States

Two Cumberland area men are included in the 755 combat veterans from Korea who are slated to arrive in San Francisco today.

They are Cpl. Elmer L. Nield, Station A, Box 2155, Cumberland, and Cpl. Porter F. Broadwater, Swanton.

$10,000 Bail Set For Brant

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Two men were held in $10,000 bail each late today after a preliminary hearing on charges they had more than 12 pounds of marijuana in their possession.

They were arrested along with two others Friday night at a midnight rendezvous, after an undercover agent arranged to buy the stuff for $2,500.

That raid led police to a haul of about 25 pounds of marijuana recovered in a shed at Cumberland. Police estimated it would be worth some $24,000 if sold as reefers on the illegal drug market.

Those accused at the hearing were Robert Brant, 53, of Cumberland, and John Nassrie, 27, of Baltimore. The two other persons picked up at the same time have been released by police.

Sgt. Joseph Carroll of the Baltimore Police Narcotics Squad, said the marijuana seized here would have made about 40,000 reefers. He estimated the illicit value at retail to be $20,000.

Agents seized the men Friday night at Broadway and Fayette streets. They had told an undercover man they knew where they could get 100 pounds more, which led to the marijuana haul at Cumberland.

City Rec Board Begins Study Of 27 Point Plan

A general discussion on recommendations of Edmund F. Hoey, city recreation director, was held at a meeting of the City Recreation Board last night in City Hall.

A 27-point program was presented to the Board last Thursday by Hoey, who said the recreation program here will be stalemated unless action is taken by the Board and City officials on problems which have arisen druing the past two years.

Clifton Van Roby, chairman, said the next meeting of the board will be held October 18.

He added the board hopes in the near future to arrange meetings with the Mayor and Council and Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, to iron out some of the problems pointed out by Hoey.

Hoey asked that the Board establish a policy with the Board of Education in connection with the use of school facilities and for recreational classes in the Adult Education program.

He asked the Board to establish the responsibilities of each city department in the recreation program; that part of the recreation bond issue be floated to finance a building program, and that a Street Department truck and crew be assigned at intervals to the rec department.

Haywood Guest Speaker For Instrument Meet

Paper Industry To Be Topic Of Discussion

Guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Instrument Society of America tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club will be Gerald Haywood, chief research chemist of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke.

Haywood's topic of discussion before the Cumberland section of the society will be "Development of the Pulp and Paper Industry." A graduate of chemical engineering, Haywood has been prominent in many of the new developments pioneered by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

He began his career with the paper company in 1914 in the main laboratory at Luke. After a short while he was transferred to the firm's New York laboratory, where he assisted the late Dr. Viggo Drewsen, who was a prominent authority in the field of paper research.

Serving many years under Dr. Drewsen he returned to the Luke plant as technical director in the Coating Mill, until its elimination several years ago. At that time Haywood was made research director at Luke, the position he now holds.

Invited to attend tomorrow nights dinner meeting, according to Clyde Babst, secretary-treasurer, are members of the chemical and engineer societies.

A joint meeting of the Engineers Club of Cumberland and the Instrument Society of America is scheduled for October 17 at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club with Charles Bowden of the Brown Instrument Company as guest speaker.

Over Ten Million Dollars Being Spent To Promote Tourist Trade

Cumberland Among Cities Not Listed

In the fifth annual travel survey just released, Cumberland is not listed among Maryland organizations spending funds to attract vacationers and travelers to the area.

Eight Maryland organizations outside of Cumberland are spending $59,672 in an effort to attract such trade. The State Department of Information is using $13,283; Silver Spring Board of Trade, $27,000; Ocean City Bureau of Information, $11, 389; and Frederick Chamber of Commerce, $3,510.

The other organizations include: The Chambers of Commerce of Annapolis and Anne Arundel, $1,600, Betterton, $690, Hagerstown, $1,400 and Mountain Top at Oakland, $800.

"This year's outlook for the tourist business is good. With this country's industrial economy geared to a high level of production and with personal incomes and employment on the uptrend, the tourist business should be excellent," the survey forecasts.

Titled: "Tourist and Vacation Advertising Expenditures by States, Areas, and Communities in 1951," the analysis is based on questionnaires returned from 281 state, area, and city organizations. It announces that a total of $10,272,000 is being spent this year by those groups to attract tourists and vacationers to their communities. The figure represents only expenditures for advertising and promotion and does not cover administrative and overhead costs.

A report of the expenditures being made to attract industries is included as well as tourists and vacationers. The following breakdown for every $100 spent by tourists for their vacations is presented thus:

Thirty-two dollars for railroad, bus, plane and ship fares and gasoline, oil, and auto accessories; $45 to hotels, resorts, motels, motor courts, ranches and other lodging, restaurants and food stores; $23 to department, drug sporting goods and other stores, entertainment, dry cleaning, laundry, utilities and other services, including services of doctors and lawyers.

The annual report shows that state, regional and community organizations in Florida are this season spending $1,293,397; California, $1,006,500; New York, $895,620; Arizona, $464,828; Michigan, $383,769; Wisconsin, $365,950; Hawaii, $350,000; Maine, $334,700; New Jersey, $343,500; New Mexico, $333,650; Kentucky, $322,000; North Carolina, $310,635; Colorado, $304,200; and Pennsylvania, $299,908.

Other states listing large totals for community and state advertising include Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, Oregon, Tennessee and Virginia.

W. Va. Pulp, Paper Firm To Improve

Luke Plant Included In Overall Program

West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company yesterday announced plans to borrow $20,000,000 to help finance the company's continuing program of plant improvement and additions. The company proposes to raise the money by issuing debentures in that amount, to be repaid in successive annual installments beginning August 1, 1955, with the final balance due October 1, 1971. A group of investment bankers in New York, headed by Harriman, Ripley and Company, Inc., is expected to underwrite the issue.

The company has already spent more than $55,000,000 on general improvements and additions at its six plants since the end of World War II, including about $9,000,000 to date at its plant in Luke. Much of this money, the company stated, went to restore or replace major production and service facilities, the

Overweight Truck Cases Due Today

Two precedent-setting appeals by the State Roads Commission of cases involving the Maryland Truck Overweight Law are scheduled for trial this morning in Garrett County Circuit Court at Oakland.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris. Petit jurors have been called to appear at 9:15 a. m. and it is expected that they will hear the cases.

These cases will mark the first time that the State Roads Commission in Maryland has appealed decisions of a Trial Magistrate Court.

First to be tried will be the case against John O. Riley of Accident who was charged with a 7,100 pound overload of a truck. His case was dismissed by Magistrate Charles S. Zeller of Grantsville who termed the new law "confusing, poorly written and a hardship."

The second case involves Emmett Hall, a driver for the Hopwood Lumber Co., Hopwood, Pa., who was found guilty by Magistrate Zeller of overloading a truck by 11,600 pounds. He was fined $496 plus costs by the Grantsville magistrate. The State Roads Commission appealed this case with the contention that the fine should have been $696.

Also to be tried today are appeals by two other truck drivers from convictions by Trial Magistrate James Cover of Friendsville under the overweight law.

State's Attorney Dwight Stover will be aided in prosecution of the case by Assistant Attorney-General Joseph B. Buscher, who is assigned to the State Roads Commission.

Grand Jury Will See 82 Witnesses In Heavy Session

The Allegany County Circuit Court grand jury, which will open the new term of court next Monday, appears slated for a long session.

Sheriff Edward R. Muir yesterday received orders from State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher to summon 82 witnesses to appear before the grand jury in four days next week. The sheriff has been informed that additional witnesses also will be called for later dates.

Normally, grand juries meet only four or five days before concluding their investigations. The schedule outlined by Fletcher calls for 31 witnesses Monday, 18 on Tuesday, 20 on Wednesday and 13 on Thursday.

Muir's deputies expect to begin to summons grand jury witnesses today.

City Continuing Registration Gets Underway

Five new voters were placed on the books yesterday as Cumberland's continuing registration program got underway at City Hall.

Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk, said the first day's business also included three applications for change of voting residence.

Cards have been sent to those in two wards whose names have been stricken off the city election books for failure to vote during the past five calendar years.

The wards are No. 1, West Side, and No. 2, from Bedford Street to the city limits between the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and Wills Creek.

In all, 6,791 names were stricken off the books for failure to vote during the five year period.

The names of 153 known dead were also taken off the election books.

The new registration plan, authorized by the General Assembly, is being set up with headquarters in the basement of City Hall, with an outside entrance from Bedford Street.

BARTER PLAYER—Playing the role of Gratiano in "Merchant of Venice" at Allegany High School auditorium October 12 is John Holland, well-known Barter Player. Sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, the play is one of four productions to be presented in Cumberland by the State Theater of Virginia. Holland found his way to the legitimate stage through radio, first as an announcer, then in dramatic programs. A veteran of light opera, his first leading role was opposite Yolande Betbeze, Miss America of 1950.

Meyers Hearing Set For Friday

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Arraignment of six defendants in a Communist conspiracy case here was rescheduled again today for Friday.

Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut cancelled a two-week postponement he had granted the defendants last week.

They are charged with conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the United States Government.

Two of them—George A. Meyers of Lonaconing, Md., and Leroy H. Wood of Washington—were released on bail only last week after five weeks in jail. The others are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frankfelc, Mrs. Dorothy Rose Blumberg, and Maurice L. Braverman, who posted bail earlier.

Judge Chesnut said the arraignment was set back to the original date after a conference with the defendants and U. S. Attorney Bernard J. Flynn.

Grass Fires Checked

City firemen continue to be kept busy with grass fires in the area. Yesterday East Side answered two calls. The first blaze was at 1:23 p. m. at Schriver Hill while the second was on McNamee Hill off Leiper Street at 2:30 p. m.

East Side also checked a small blaze at Bennett's Storage Warehouse, rear of 800 block, Columbia Avenue at 5:50 p. m. Some paper and other debris caught fire in an unused trailer, firemen reported, although no damage was reported. The fire was out on arrival.

Celanese Union Will Celebrate 15th Birthday

Top TWUA Officials Slated To Attend

Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), largest single local in the TWUA International Union, will celebrate its 15th anniversary here in December.

Playford Aldridge, president, said plans for the celebration will be in charge of the local's Special Activities Committee, headed by John G. Kreitzburg.

Emil Rieve, general president; George Baldanzi, executive vice president, and William Pollock, general TWUA secretary - treasurer, and all members of the TWUA executive council, have been invited to speak at the ceremonies.

Details being planned by the committee include a dance and other entertainment.

Local 1874, which was formed here in 1936, is still the largest single unit in the TWUA, although modernization of the Amcelle plant has dropped membership to about 4,500. Membership was at the 8,500 mark prior to 1948.

The history of Local 1874, which was formed here in the fall of 1936, is older than the TWUA, which was chartered by the Congress of Industrial Organizations in 1939.

Officials of the local, Aldridge pointed out, have furnished much of the leadership of the TWUA.

Among members of the Celanese local who have been appointed to TWUA positions are:

Boyd E. Payton, former president, who is now regional director for the Upper South and a vice president and member of the TWUA executive council.

James A. Dundon, president in 1937, 1939 and 1940, who has served as acting assistant director of the TWUA Synthetic Yarn division and is now serving as manager of the Utica, N. Y., joint board.

Lester Jay, chairman of the Staunton, Va., joint board.

John Neal, national TWUA representative in Tennessee.

Cobey Snyder, TWUA field representative in the Upper South.

George Ziegler, TWUA field representative in Pennsylvania.

Glidden Tour Cars Move On After Parade

Thousands Watch Old Autos Pass

The Cumberland phase of the annual Glidden Tour ended yesterday morning when some 125 antique automobiles puffed proudly through the downtown streets in a parade that attracted thousands of spectators but the revived memories of the early years of the 20th century probably will remain with local residents for a long time to come.

The parade, slightly delayed, began about 10:20 a. m. from the State Armory on South Centre Street. The route took the old cars north on Centre Street to Baltimore Street, west on Baltimore Street to Mechanic Street, south on Mechanic Street to Williams Street, east on Williams Street to Centre Street and north on Centre Street to the city limits.

Met By Band

From here the caravan of old motor vehicles, ranging in age between 47 and 25 years, journeyed to Corriganville, Hyndman, Pa., and finally to the Bedford Springs Hotel at Bedford, Pa. At Hyndman the brave travelers were met by the Hyndman High School band, which escorted them through the town to the Londonderry Township Consolidated School, where they were treated to a "curb-service" luncheon.

At the Bedford Springs Hotel there will be two days of festivities. A Gibson Girl fashion show and a Gay Nineties ball are planned as highlights. From there the cars will head east on the Pennsylvania Turnpike to Harrisburg and Hershey, Pa. The tour will end Thursday night at Sky Top, Pa.

Has Long Journey

Among the newcomers in this year's tour is Max J. Palm, III, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Palm, who has been collecting antique automobiles for the past four or five years, is driving his 1923 Hispano - Suiza, a French - made car, in the tour. The Ohioan owns 10 old cars, six of which now are in running condition. His Hispano - Suiza will have a long workout before it gets back to its home.

He drove it from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh Saturday. At the end of the tour he plans to continue on to New York City and then hopes to get back to Cincinnati in the 28-year-old automobile by Sunday. Accompanying him on the journey are Mrs. Palm and a Cincinnati friend, William Atlee.

The Weather

Yesterday was another cool, bright day with temperatures staying in the low 70s. Some cloudiness appeared in the afternoon hiding the sun somewhat, but a fresh breeze aided the housewife in drying her washday clothes. The high temperature as reported by the weather station at Constitution Park was 74 degrees, the low, a cool 38 degrees, and at 8 p. m., mercury leveled at 67 degrees. Humidity at 6 o'clock last night, was marked at 56 per cent. The weatherman says rather cloudy with some chance of scattered showers for today.

NEW BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENT OPENS—Cardells semi self-service clothing super-market, something new in retail merchandising, opened yesterday morning in the former Woolworth Store location, corner Baltimore and George Streets, following a ribbon-cutting ceremony by Mayor Thomas S. Post. Manager of the new store is Albert Feldman. The store's arrangement follows a food super-market pattern with customers making their own selections and paying the cashier as they leave. Featured in the new establishment are women and men's wearing apparel. Also on hand for the gala opening were Miss Patricia Engle, "Miss Western Maryland of 1951" and Joseph Silver, Sol Schaffer and Jack Rubenfeld of Cardells New York office. The scene shows some of the early customers.
